ALBANY-ASTORIA

The Proposed Railway Line Between the Two Cities.

ALBANY WILL AID THE PROJECT

By the Incorporation of a Company to Co-operate With Astoria in Constructing the Proposed Line.

An enthusiastic meeting of citizens was held last evening in the office of Stewart & Sox's hardware store for the purpose of organizing a company to co-operate with the Astoria & South Coast Railway Co.

The meeting was attended by many of the most influential and wealthy citizens of the city, who had assembled with a determination to take definite steps in the matter.

E. S. Young was chosen chairman of the meeting and F. P. Nutting, secretary.

Enthusiastic speeches were made by leading citizens, and communications were read from E. C. Holden, secretary of the Astoria chamber of commerce, and from the citizens of Independence expressing a desire to join with Albany in constructing the building of the proposed road.

It was decided that a company be incorporated at once for the purpose of co-operating with Astoria in building the road, and to this end a committee of five was appointed to draw up articles of incorporation to be submitted at a subsequent meeting to be called by the chairman.

The committee named was George E. Chamberlain, H. H. Hewitt, C. E. Wolverson, H. Bryant and J. K. Weatherford.

A meeting to adopt the articles of incorporation will be held early next week, after which the company will be duly incorporated.

The question of the construction of the road is a most important one, and it is gratifying to know that the matter has been taken hold of in a manner calculated to lead to a successful termination.

It is the purpose of the citizens of Albany to organize this company to act conjointly with the Astoria & South Coast Railway Co. for the speedy building of this road, and as the citizens here mean business, and have begun with a determination to build their end of the road, and as the people of Astoria have already commenced building on that end, it seems reasonable to expect that the enterprise cannot but be successful.

It is proposed to connect with the Oregon Pacific at the railroad bridge at this city, thus avoiding the expense of bridging the Willamette.

LETTER FROM JIM WESTFALL.

To the Editor of the Herald: Permit me, through the columns of your journal, to express my thanks to my white friends who want of a large number of Chinese laborers, who have been thrown out of employment by contractors on the Oregon Pacific railroad, and who are now in your midst in the city of Albany without means; and who, but for your noble Christian liberality, would have suffered with hunger. It is not the fault of the Chinese laborers that they are here. They are under contract to work for one year, and, instead of being discharged without cause or provocation, the people of this city are not chargeable with the blame of bringing said Chinese here, and are not legally bound to contribute to their support because they are here, but a Christian community cannot allow fellow mortals to suffer for food in their midst, and they have responded nobly to the demand made upon them, and my heart is filled with gratitude for this manifestation of their kindness, and I would say that to avoid being longer burdened it would be better and cheaper to pay the sum of $2.00 per head to the O. P. R. R. company and have said Chinese sent to San Francisco. The company offer to take them for that sum, and it will be much cheaper than to furnish food for them, and it is utterly impossible to procure work for them. The contractors ought to pay for transporting these men to San Francisco, but they will not do so, nor will they furnish employment for them. I attach no blame to the railroad company.

Notable Dead.

Henry Avery, the prominent nurseryman of Burlington, Iowa, from whose stock the nursery of A. Luelling was started in Oregon in 1847, the trees being brought across the plains in wagons, died at his home in that city on the 13th ult. He was a cousin of Mrs. James McKins and Mr. John Millard and a nephew of Mrs. Amelia Fisher. The deceased was well known to many Oregon pioneers.

Oswego Iron Works.

Professor William H. Hampton of Portland, paid a professional visit to the Oswego Iron and Steel Works, located at Oswego, on Thursday last. The Professor reports that the works are turning out about forty tons of pig iron per day, fifteen tons of which is utilized for making pipe. The pipe made and what pig remains each day are being shipped away just as fast as taken.

LEBANON NEWS.

The City Election—Witnesses in the January Postoffice Robbery Case.

Special to the Herald. LEBANON, Jan. 7.—The election passed off quietly. Following are the names of those elected: Mayor, D. Andrews; councilmen, J. M. Kalstan, M. A. Miller, Jno. Burkhardt, T. Peeler; recorder, Geo. W. Rich; treasurer, Arthur Robins; marshal, Geo. Last Night's Play. "Peck's Bad Boy" was played at the opera house last night by the Atkinson Comedy Co. The company is a good one and the play was well presented. J. J. Williams as the Bad Boy is simply immense. He kept the audience in a roar of laughter and the perfection with which he carried out his role was attested by the hearty applause of the audience. P. J. Wallace as the policeman was also intensely funny and sustained the character admirably. The entire company is first-class, and under the business management of W. F. Sissons and Chas. L. Burt, both of whom are right good gentlemen, fellows, is one of the most successful companies traveling.

Death of John Saltmarsh. Yesterday John Saltmarsh, a well known young gentleman of Albany, who has been suffering for some time with typhoid fever, succumbed to the prostrating influence of the disease and passed away. John was just entering into manhood and is thus early called to yield up this earth's life and pass to that bourne from whence no traveler returns. In the morn of his vigorous and buoyant life he is called upon to give it up.

Complimentary to Mr. Driver. Rev. I. D. Driver, whose answers to "Moody's six questions" are given in another place in this paper, has been requested by Mr. Moody to go to his Northfield, Mass., school and teach. Mr. Driver's mental qualities are as much, or perhaps more, those of a student and teacher than of a pastor. Mr. Moody stated that he proposed to Rev. Driver's answers to the six questions translated into six languages and scattered throughout the Old World.—Oregonian.

5500 FOOT RACE.

E. Cameron Beaten by Loveland on an East Portland Track.

Some 500 people attended the foot race Sunday at the old ball ground in East Portland, known as "The Oaks." Two tracks had been prepared by being shoveled out and strewn with sawdust.

The race was watched between Cameron, of Albany, and Loveland of East Portland, 100 yards, for $250 a side. Pools had sold at the Holton the previous evening for even money, but upon the grounds, Loveland's backers forced Cameron down to $10 to $7 50 and then $10 to $5. Something like $1200 was staked on the event.

The race was called at 3 o'clock, and both met. got well away together, making an even thing of it for the first 60 yards, when Loveland made a spurt which he increased, easily maintaining his lead. He looked over his shoulder at Cameron, and came in an easy winner. No official time was kept. It is claimed by some of Loveland's backers, that he is a ten-second man, and if Cameron ran to win, he probably is, as Cameron has some very good records of his own. There are not wanting those however, who felt that the outcome of the race was settled before the men went up to score.

The Hunt system.

The Portland News says: J. V. Creighton, traffic manager of the Hunt system, is at the Esmond. He says the matter of extending the Hunt system to Waitsburg and Dayton is being seriously considered by the people along the proposed route. All want the road, and many are willing to subscribe to the subsidy.

JULIUS GRADWOHL.

The Leading Crockery, Glassware and Fancy Goods Store of the Valley.

Some facts concerning the pioneer glassware, crockery and fancy goods establishment of Julius Gradwohl will not be uninteresting to the general reader. He has been engaged in this business for 30 years, and has a store, which, for size and excellence of its stock, is not surpassed by any in the state of Oregon, and is a credit to Albany. He is steadily increasing his business, and with the growth of Albany and the advancement of the country tributary to it, he is reaching out after a jobbing and wholesale business. With the beginning of the new year he proposes to add to his mammoth stock of general crockery, ware, porcelain and glassware, fancy goods, etc., a complete line of family groceries. Mr. Gradwohl is one of the city's enterprising citizens, and is a member of the city council from the second ward. During his thirty years experience he has found that the cash basis is the best and most satisfactory mode of doing business for both purchaser and dealer. By this method and by purchasing goods direct in large quantities he is enabled to sell for very low prices. The public should call and inspect his immense stock for the new year and learn his prices.
