Julius Gradwohl, chairman of the committee on streets and public property, requests all citizens of the city to act conjointly with the committee in placing all sidewalks in good repair. They propose to leave no poor or dangerous sidewalks in Albany.

It is stated that General Harrison has threatened to overlook the Pacific coast in selecting members for his cabinet, unless all factional contests are abandoned. The friends of Swift, Estee and De Young are vigorously pushing their claims, and it would not be surprising if the president-elect should pass through California and come to Oregon for his Pacific coast adviser.

WORK SUSPENDED. The Oregon Pacific Construction Eastward Stopped Until Next Spring.

On account of cold weather, and the fact that much more work can be done in a given time in the summer than in winter, work has been suspended all along the line of the Oregon Pacific eastward from this city. About 200 bridge carpenters and track layers were in the city yesterday, and the men working for Searles & Deane have also been discharged for the winter and are arriving in this city.

Mr. Wm. M. Hoag is in the city and has made arrangements with the First National Bank to pay off all of the men who have not already been paid. The men are all in good humor and were busy yesterday securing the money for the balance of their time. The payment of these men in this city has placed considerable money in circulation here.

Mr. Hoag will probably remain in the city for a day or two. He has many friends here, who expect that he will soon remove the company's offices to Albany. Work, it is stated, will be resumed early in the spring and will be pushed on with all vigor to an eastern connection.

Petty Larceny. An individual whose name was not ascertained was arrested last evening for stealing a beam from the Willamette Packing Co's store. He was incarcerated in jail and will probably be tried to-day.

Legislature convenes Monday.

ALBANY-ASTORIA

What the People of Salem Think of Albany's Action

CONCERNING THE ASTORIA R. R. The Citizens of Albany Did the Right Thing in Organizing a Company—No Time to Lose.

From the following clipping taken from the Salem Statesman of the 8th inst. it will be seen that the people of the capital city want the Astoria & South Coast Railway, and want it bad, but if the citizens of Albany continue promptly and energetically in the line mapped out at the citizens' meeting Monday evening, their action will not interfere with the building of the road from Albany to meet the line now being constructed by the people of Astoria. The Statesman says:

It will be seen by reading the dispatches this morning that Albany was awakened to the situation and that they will endeavor to stem the tide of fate, which seems determined to bring the Astoria railroad over its natural avenue, through Salem to connect with the Oregon Pacific. But natural avenues have sometimes been left to one side and other routes chosen, from influences of a pecuniary or other character sufficient to cause a deviation. Salem stands in the avenue, and she has a sufficient amount of the requisite 'magnetism' to draw the road this way if the 'battery' is only worked rightly.

There is no time to lose in perfecting an organization, holding a conference meeting with the Astoria people and setting the ball rolling in practical shape. A company can be organized here and the requisite stock subscriptions obtained in thirty days to enable the commencement of active operations. Of course to secure these subscriptions, the farmers along the route will have to be interviewed, for their interests are identical with those of the city in securing the proposed road. A farmer with half an eye can see that it will be big money in his pocket to have an Eastern and deep sea railroad passing within convenient distance for the shipment of his produce, and he will therefore be more than willing to assist in obtaining it.

To present these facts to farmers and business men in the country and the towns along the proposed line should be the work of reliable, solid men, men who are themselves willing to set the example, and whose reasoning will be recognized with confidence. The board of trade committee should get together at once and call a meeting for organization, have a company formed and let the subscription books be opened as soon as possible. From the Santiam to the sea should be the watchword, and the response all along the line will be quick and hearty.

The above would indicate that the people of Salem will do everything in their power to try to secure the road, in view of which it is gratifying to know that the citizens of Albany have undertaken the matter of organizing an incorporated company for the purpose of commencing the construction on this end of the line, and if energy and capital will accomplish it Albany the railroad center of the Willamette Valley and Astoria the great seaport of the Columbia will at no distant day be connected by bonds of steel.

AN EXPRESSION FROM ASTORIA. In response to a telegram sent by the HERALD to J. F. Halloran, editor of the Astoria News, as to the feeling of the Astoria & South Coast Railway concerning co-operation with the company from Albany for constructing the proposed line, the following dispatch was received at this office last night:

ASTORIA, Jan. 8.—The general feeling and desire of the people of Astoria and Clatsop county is for railroad connection with the Willamette valley and the ultimate object and intent of the Astoria & South Coast Railway Co. is to build on to reach such a connection. While not authorized to speak for the company, it is certain that the company is favorably disposed to such railroad co-operation. A communication from your Albany company to the board of directors of the Astoria company would doubtless receive prompt and favorable consideration. The company advertises this morning for bids for grading ten miles of track south of Skipanon, heading toward Tillamook.

Ships for Yaquina. The Iron Age, in speaking of the ship building interests along the Delaware, says: "Col. T. Egerton Hogg, of the Oregon Pacific, also needs two iron ships for the trade between San Francisco and Yaquina bay." This shows that Col. Hogg is not dissatisfied by the loss of the Yaquina bay and proposes to increase the number of steamers to ply between those two sea ports.

Leg Broken. A letter received by Vigil Parker yesterday from Spokane Falls, stated that his brother Harry Parker had his left leg broken on the 1st inst. by falling upon the icy pavement.

THE CITY COUNCIL

First Regular Meeting of the New Council—Nightwatchmen Elected.

The regular meeting of the new city council was held last evening, all members being present, Mayor Cowan in the chair, Ex-Councilmen Writsmann acting as recorder. The minutes of the last two meetings were read and approved. The committee on health and police made a verbal report, showing that the health of the city was good. The patient in the pest house for small-pox was reported recovered, and would be discharged to-day. Report approved.

The report of treasurer was read and approved as follows:

TREASURER'S REPORT. Treasurer's report for the last quarter: Receipts—Balance on hand $ 71 21 Licenses 1120 00 City tax 293 36 Road tax 44 00 Dog tax 73 00 Fines 37 15 Total $1638 72 Disbursements—Orders paid $1653 62 Interest 12 41 Total $1563 62 Balance turned over to new treasurer 75 10

The reports of the recorder and marshal, were postponed on account of the sickness of those officers. The report of the chief engineer was read and placed on file. The bonds of the treasurer and marshal were approved by the mayor.

A petition of citizens for a bridge at the junction of Third and Thurston streets was read and referred to the committee on streets and public property. Also to the same committee a petition for a sidewalk on the west side of Montgomery street, between sixth and Seventh.

In the matter of raising the electric light on Montgomery street the citizens asked that the light be raised twenty feet instead of ten. The citizens agreeing to bear all the expense in excess of $10. Grant I. The recorder was instructed to advertise for the city printing. On motion the council proceeded to the election of nightwatchmen, resulting in the choice of John Jones as nightwatch and engineer of No. 2's, and Wm. M. Miller special nightwatch and engineer of No. 1's. The salary was fixed at $65 per month for each.

Marshal J. N. Hoffman was made street commissioner. W. B. Barr was elected city surveyor. The street commissioner was instructed to proceed to repair the sidewalks where the property owners fail to repair the same. On motion the proprietors of the HERALD were instructed to deliver fifty copies of the New Year's edition to the council, the remaining 200 copies ordered to be delivered to the board of trade for distribution.

The recorder was instructed to draw warrants for the pay due nightwatchmen.

PLEASANT RECEPTION. A very pleasant reception was tendered Rev. L. G. Rogers at the Congregational church last evening. It was well attended and was a very pleasant affair. An address of welcome was delivered by Rev. S. G. Irvine, which was responded to in an eloquent manner by Mr. Rogers. He spoke in glowing terms of Albany, and said he had heard many good things about the city before reaching here. He stated that one thing that made him feel more at home was the fact that the first man he met on reaching Albany was Prof. W. H. Lee, his old college classmate and chum. Some fine music was rendered, and the new pastor formed the acquaintance of many of the people of Albany, nearly every pastor of the city being present.

THE LOCKS AT OREGON CITY. The following letter recently published in the Oregonian is self-explanatory: Oregon City, Dec. 22.

Various newspapers of the Willamette valley have lately had something to say about the advisability of the state purchasing the locks at this place. It is assumed by all of them that the property will be offered to the state at the approaching session of the legislature. How this impression came to be abroad I do not know, and I have hesitated to say anything about the matter; but since it is in a fair sense public business, as well as private, it may be as well to say publicly what has at no time been uncertain, that this company has not changed its policy and that it will not offer to sell the locks to the state at the coming session.

It was well understood two years ago that the offer then made would not be repeated. And besides, changes have occurred in this rapidly growing western country in the past two years, and our problem has changed with the times. We cannot now afford to go into the matter voluntarily. Yours very truly, E. L. EASTMAN, Pres't W. T. & L. Co.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.

Elva Christian Wants $5000 for the Killing of Her Husband at Brownsville.

The suit of Elva Christian against C. N. Scott, receiver of the Oregonian railway, to recover $5000 for the loss of her husband, who was run over and killed by the cars near Brownsville about a year ago, is on trial in the the United States circuit court in Portland.

The complaint alleges that Christian, who was acting as brakeman, was ordered to get on the engine to pull the coupling pin in order that a flying switch might be made, and that while engaged in doing this he fell off and was run over and killed. The accident happened in the evening when it was quite dark, and therefore it is very difficult to prove just how it was brought about.

The defense offer testimony to show that Christian did not obey the order given him, but got on the end of a car instead of on the engine, and on this account was thrown off and killed.

Horse Killed. C. P. Knighen living near Tangent, had a fine horse killed yesterday morning by the Southern Pacific train.
