Hays, of Waitsburg, preached at the United Presbyterian church last night. He will remain several days and assist the pastor in a series of evangelistic meetings. There will be services this evening at 7:30 p. m., to be conducted by Mr. Hays. Drunk and Disorderly. Don Callihan, Mike Huges, Jos. Davis and Mike Kelley were incarcerated in the city jail Tuesday night, for being drunk and disorderly. Yesterday morning when their time for trial arrived, they were taken out when it was found that some of their pals had given them liquor through the bars and they were drunker than ever. They were arraigned before his honor Recorder Henton and fined. The first two pairs were fined, and the others were ordered incarcerated in the city jail with work on the streets. Notice. W. C. Tweedale, having sold his store and hardware business to Messrs. Smith & Washburn, desires all having unsettled accounts to come forward without delay and settle. For the new firm he solicits a continuance of the liberal patronage of the public.

THE LEGISLATURE

Gov. Penoyer Sits Down Upon the Railroad Commission.

A CONSTITUTIONAL LAW MESSAGE

Various Important Measures Introduced—Resolutions and Messages—A Joint Memorial—A Rush of Business.

Special to the Herald. SALEM, Jan. 16.—The work of today's session was important in many respects, embodying a wide range of subjects. The resolution introduced by Senator Gray, of Astoria, to provide for a portage railroad around the Cascades and between The Dalles and Celilo, making the governor, secretary of state and the state treasurer a board of commissioners and authorizing a state tax levy to meet the expense, is perhaps as important a measure as was introduced. The governor's message is a characteristic document and indicates that Penoyer will continue to be erratic to the end. The joint memorial by Dimick, of Marion, asking that soldiers be reimbursed for the depreciated currency in which they were paid, brought out considerable eloquent discussion, and was nearly unanimously adopted, only three voting against it. In the house a solid work of introducing bills was made, 72 bills being introduced.

SENATE—MORNING SESSION.

Convened at 10 a. m. Every senator responded to roll call. Opened with prayer by Rev. W. R. Collins of the Sabin M. E. church.

Gray—Resolution for construction of portage railway around the Cascades; adopted.

Watts—Bill to amend normal school act.

Dawson—Bill to provide for the purchase of land for a deaf mute school.

Tongue—Bill to amend an act to dispose of real property of deceased persons.

Cogswell—To provide for the time of holding county court in Klamath county.

Also to provide against the re-entering of lands where the entry had been cancelled.

Senate then repaired to the representative hall to listen to the governor's message.

On re-assembling adjourned until 2 p. m.

SENATE—AFTERNOON SESSION.

Watts introduced a resolution to have 1000 of the governor's message printed for the use of the senate.

Wager moved to amend to make the number 250. Amendment lost. Resolution adopted.

Tongue—To amend Sec. 3015 of statutes, Hill's code.

Dawson—To prohibit the sale of tobacco and cigarettes to minors under 18 years of age.

The secretary of state laid the report of the railroad commissioners before the senate.

The senate referred the house resolution for a joint committee on the fishery matter to the committee on fisheries.

The house reported having the senate concurrent resolution creating a committee on examination of the state printing for the past two years.

The senate concurred in a joint resolution for a committee to examine the deaf mute school.

The courtesy of the senate were extended to Hon. L. B. Rinehart and Hon. T. T. Prime, and they were invited within the bar.

An invitation to the senate to attend the inspection of the 1st Regt., O. N. G., at Portland, was read and on motion referred to the committee on military affairs.

Wager—To amend statutes, Hill's code, in relation to laying out roads.

Chandler—To repeal and amend the law in regard to the fees of clerks and stenographers in Baker county. Cogswell—To amend miscellaneous laws, Hill's code, in regard to abstracts of ballots in elections.

Wager—To exempt homesteads from attachment and execution.

Looney—To repeal the state university law in relation to free scholarships.

Hatch—Resolution in reference to instructing the state superintendent of public instruction to report information for the amendment of the school law; referred to the committee on judiciary.

Adjourned.

HOUSE—MORNING SESSION.

Opened with prayer by Rev. J. M. Dick, of Salem, followed by reading of the minutes.

The chair appointed the following committees on part of the house on joint committees:

To examine state treasury—Earhart, Bean and Miller, of Linn.

To examine insane asylum—Roberts, Fisher and Jennings.

To examine office of secretary of state—Apperson, Earhart and Miller, of Jackson.

To examine office of school land commissioner—Blundell, Good-nough and Moss.

To examine affairs of state agricultural college—Geer, Laughlin and Napton.

Joint resolution for a committee to investigate the state penitentiary; adopted.

Resolution for joint committee to investigate the deaf mute school; adopted.

Resolution to increase the salaries of members of the legislature to $5 a day; ordered printed.

The speaker called D. P. Thompson to the chair.

Resolution that the speaker appoint a second assistant clerk; adopted.

Resolution that no special municipal corporation bill be printed, except by special order; adopted.

Geer—To repeal vagrancy law.

Hume—To punish stealing of stock.

Gilbert—To define the authority of benevolent institutions ever orphan children.

Senate resolution for committee to investigate state printing office; concurred in.

Resolution by Thompson that committees to investigate state treasurer's office, secretary of state's office, the commission, be empowered to summon witnesses, etc.; adopted.

Candon—Amending court fees.

Miller, of Jackson—Amending game law.

JOINT SESSION.

Called to order by President Simon, of the senate, and both rolls called.

Apperson, Chamberlain and Miller, of Jackson, appointed to notify the governor that the legislature is ready to hear from him. The governor entered and was introduced by President Simon, and read his annual message.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

The governor commences his annual message by giving the financial condition of the state, not failing to mention that the expenditures for the current year were swollen by the appropriations for the railroad and fish commission. His statement shows that the state indebtedness amounts to $29,411,666, and that it will be entirely liquidated within the next six months.

The swamp land matter is given a succinct handling, in which he states that the balance of the swamp land will be examined without expense to the state. Under assessment and taxation the governor earnestly urges legislative action, and recommends an income tax law. The railroad commission business the governor handles without gloves, stating that the decision of the supreme court had left the commission without power of investigation, and as they had performed that duty he removes them from office. He thinks the legislature cannot delegate power to the commission, and indicates that the right way is to pass a maximum rate bill.

In fishing matters he advises the forbidding of taking salmon by fish wheels. He recommends the abolition of the fish commission, saying that there is no use for it since the Clackamas hatchery has passed under the control of the federal government.

The asylum, penitentiary, deaf mute school, blind school and orphan's home are stated to be in excellent condition, but he thinks that they should all be under state superintendency.

He thinks the state university at Eugene is in a flourishing condition and deprecates taxing the people for its support. As opposed to free scholarships in it, and thinks the law school and school of medicine in Portland should not receive state aid. He recommends the appropriation of $10,000 to buy a farm for the agricultural college at Corvallis, but thinks free scholarships in that should be abolished, and that there should be no further aid in the shape of appropriations.

He says that the grounds and buildings in Corvallis have been accepted according to law and that there can be no further doubt upon their legal possession. He congratulates the country on the Chinese Exclusion Act, recommends punishment for bribery at elections, and care in the selection of United States senator.

HOUSE—AFTERNOON SESSION.

Layman—License law. Senate joint resolution providing for joint assessment and taxation committee; adopted.

Jennings—Making legal rate of interest 6 per cent.

Waldo—Repealing the law punishing a man who accepts a bribe.

Crook—For a road from Chitco to Port Orford, Curry county.

Hume—To regulate the heating of passenger cars.

Price—To construct a boom in Rogue river at Tolo, Jackson Co.

Smith—For a portage railroad between Upper and Lower Cascades.

Earhart—To purchase 14th and 15th volumes of supreme court reports and Hill's codes.

The speaker appointed on joint committee to examine the penitentiary Wilson, Fell and Tambac.

Blundell—To establish a state weather service.

Harrington—Defining magistrates. Also amending the law to summoning jurors.

Moss—To incorporate Lakeview.

Howard—To amend Grant's Pass charter.

Ricker—To allow Gardiner Mill Co. to construct a boom in Umpqua river.

Condon—Fixing the age of consent at 16.

Stafford—For a valued policy insurance law.

Maxwell—To fix time of holding circuit court in Tillamook county. Also bill to change time of holding county court.

Powell—Amending trespass law.

Hahn—Against fish traps, wire nets and pound nets.

Apperson—To prevent sale of adulterated food, drinks and medicines.

Hunter—To incorporate Enterprise, Wallowa county.

Harrington—To regulate building and loan companies.

Faquet—Relating to the duties of county school superintendents.

Jennings—Providing for payment of damages by railroad companies for killing stock.

Gilham—Creating the county of Harney from Grant county.

Price—To compel railroads to pay for stock killed.

Bowditch—To incorporate the town of Ashland as a city.

Moss—Fixing county judges' salaries.

Adjourned.

ALBANY AND ASTORIA R. R.

The Citizens' Meeting Last Night to Consider the Question.

The meeting of citizens to complete the organization of the Albany and Astoria Railway Co. was held at the G. A. R. hall last evening.

The object of the meeting was stated by S. E. Young, chairman of the meeting, and the minutes of the former meeting were read.

The committee appointed to draft articles of incorporation reported that such articles had been prepared, but that after consultation with the committee desired to have further time in which to prepare more perfect articles.

D. B. Monteith moved that the committee be granted further time. J. L. Cowan moved to amend, limiting the time until Monday evening. The motion as amended prevailed.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at the hall of Engine Co. No. 1 on Monday evening.

The citizens of Albany are in earnest upon the question, and propose to do their work well as they proceed.

STATE TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE.

The Body Will Meet in Albany on February 20—The Executive Committee.

A meeting of the executive committee of the State Temperance Alliance was held in Portland Tuesday day. The committee had a lively discussion over the advisability of holding the next meeting of the alliance in Salem or Albany.

The committee consists of the following gentlemen: President G. M. Miller; secretary, E. E. McKinny; of Albany; Wallace Nash, of Corvallis; and J. W. Webb.

Rev. J. W. Webb was absent from the meeting, he having removed to Fresno, Cal. Wallace Nash was away on account of sickness in his family. This committee was appointed by the last state alliance to fix the time for the next meeting, and to also revise the constitution. It was decided to have the next meeting at Albany, February 20, 1889.

This convention will be composed of delegates from all the church associations, Sunday schools and temperance unions throughout the state. One delegate will be allowed from each society, and one for every fifty additional or major fraction thereof. It is expected that from 300 to 400 persons will be in attendance.

The quorum present were very sanguine of the future, and have expressed the opinion that, judging from the exertions being lately put forth by influential men in their behalf, and the untiring labors of their own members through the Northwest, they would soon attract the attention of the legislative bodies to their interest, thereby enabling them to continue their fight with better results.

Silver Star Pleasure Circle.

Arrangements have been made for a social meeting at the G. A. R. Hall under the organization above named. The first meeting will be on Thursday evening of this week.

Call on Brownell & Standard's for candies and nuts for the holidays. A fine assortment on hand.

A MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.

Further Particulars of the Shooting on Tuesday Night's Overland Train.

Concerning the shooting affray on the overland train below Salem Tuesday evening, a brief account of which was published in the HERALD, the full explanation of the shocking crime has not been ascertained. The wounded man says he thinks the shots were intended for another man. He says his name is Frank Avery Pearson, but in his clothing were found papers and a pocket book upon which are written and printed the name of Frank A. Avery, which would indicate that he had some aliases and his whole bearing causes a suspicion of something in his life he would wish to conceal. It is now believed that the man shot is none other than Frank A. Avery, who was once a traveling salesman for the hat house of Kline & Co., of San Francisco, and at the same time in business for himself in Ashland, Oregon. The Ashland house failed and Avery afterward went into the commission business at Seattle with John McKnight, as agents for Zan Bros., of Portland, and other houses, since which he has lost track of him. Word was received by wire from Jos. Purdon, J. P., at Gervais, that he had sent a party out with a hand car expecting they would find the man who jumped from the train along the track with broken bones or dead, but though the party came as far as Brooks, no sign of any person was discovered.

Business Change.

Mr. C. W. Sears, of Salem, has purchased of Ed. Zeys his interest in the planing mill and sash and door factory of Zeys & Hochstedler in this city. Mr. Sears is a brother of Ex-Sheriff Sears, of Multnomah county, and with Mr. Hochstedler will make an energetic firm. The Salem Statesman says of Mr. Sears: C. W. Sears, who has worked in Stapleton's sash and door factory for some years, has bought an interest in a factory of the same kind in Albany, and is about to move there, where his friends will wish him the success his faithful labors deserve.

Grapes in Midwinter.

J. H. Maine left at this office yesterday a bunch of fine ripe grapes, gathered from his vines in this city. They were as perfect and sweet as the grapes of summer. He says there are quantities of them on his grape vines.

The Mine Case.

The Santiam mine dispute case, which has been dragging its preliminary litigation, was argued yesterday on a motion to transfer it to the U. S. court—Deady's. The petition was overruled, and the case will now probably come to trial.

Fine Plans.

G. W. Hochstedler contemplates building a fine residence next season. He has some very elegant designs for dwelling houses, entirely new to this place, one of which he will use himself.
