The dry cold weather of the early winter months is productive of a great deal of croup among children. Mothers should be on the lookout for it, and be prepared to arrest it as soon as the first symptoms appear. True croup never comes without a warning; a day or two before the attack the child will become hoarse, and that symptoms is soon followed by a peculiar, rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as this hoarseness or cough appears, all danger and anxiety may be avoided; it has never failed, even in the most severe cases. There is no danger in giving the Remedy for it contains no injurious substance. For sale by Foshay & Mason.

Nipped in the Bud.

Is it not better to nip Consumption the greatest scourge of humanity in the bud, than to try to stay its progress on the brink of the grave. DESCRIPTION OF THE BLUEBERRY

The Blueberry is a valuable fruit and is reliable to grow in our Northern states, where the more tender varieties of fruits winter-kill. It is perfectly hardy, having stood 40 degrees below zero without showing any injury to the most tender buds. It ripens in this latitude about the 1st of July, and is borne in clusters like currants; shape, round; color, reddish purple at first, but becomes a bluish-black when fully ripened. The flavor is equal to the raspberry, a very mild, rich sub-acid, pronounced by most people delicious. It may be served with sugar and cream or cooked sauce, and is splendid canned for winter use The plant seems to flourish in all soils and is a prolific bearer. It grows very stocky and makes a nice hedge. The shining dark green leaves and the blue fruit making a pleasing contrast. The demand for the fruit is great, and ucually brings 15 cents per quart. They commence bearing the first year after setting out, and yield a full crop the second and third year after setting out. They are propagated from suckers and root cuttings. The plant is about the height and size of a currant bush and very stocky, holding the fruit well up from the ground Plants should be set in the spring, during March, April and May, in rows two or three feet apart, and five or six feet between the rows, making a perfect hedge, and no grass or weeds should be allowed to grow between rows.

PRICE LIST.

Caution to Mothers.

Every mother is cautioned against giving her child laudanum or paregoric; it creates an unnatural craving for stimulants which kills the mind or the child. Acker's Baby Soother is specially prepared to benefit children and cure their pains. It is harmless and contains no opium or morphine. Sold by Foshay & Mason.

How Can Parents

allow their children to cough and strain and cough and calmly say, "Oh it's only a cold," and keep giving them cheap and dangerous medicines until they are down with lung fever or consumption, when they can be so easily relieved by BEGGS' CHERRY COUGH SYRUP? It has no superior, and few equals. Geo. L. Blackman, druggist.

The immense sale of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been produced to a great extent by people who have been cured by it telling their friends and neighbors of its good qualities and urging them to try it. The most severe cold will soon yield to its soothing effects. For sale by Foshay & Mason.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Bill for the Admission of the Territories.

VIGOROUS DEBATE AGAINST IT.

Eight Hundred Girls Thrown Out of Employment—Wm. Johnson, of Beaverton, Kills Himself.

[The HERALD Special Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The senate committee on territories to-day took up the house bill passed the other day for the admission of north and south Dakota, Montana, Washington territory and New Mexico into the Union. After a session of two hours one of the committee said: "We have spent the entire session in considering this bill. It is noticeable for its contradictory provisions, and inadequauity to any territory or part of a territory into the Union as a state. An attempt in a general bill of this character to provide for the local necessities of different territories seems to have been such a failure that if any state might come in under its provisions it would be unable, even in court, to ascertain what its rights are. As the bill now stands it is probably the most complicated and most difficult to interpret and administer that has ever passed either house of congress, if we are to pass it. The measure has been referred to a sub-committee, with instructions to see if the inconsistencies can be reconciled so that we can recommend its passage.

Editor O'Brien's Trial.

DUBLIN, Jan. 25.—When the trial of Wm. O'Brien was resumed to-day, O'Brien was absent. The trial proceeded and he was convicted and sentenced to four months imprisonment without hard labor. The police have discovered no clue to O'Brien's whereabouts.

Thrown Out of Employment.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The feather manufacturers of this city to-day declined to grant the scale of wages demanded by the working women's union. They have locked out 800 girls. The latter are now posted about the shops to keep other girls from taking their places.

Reported Fatally Shot.

PORTLAND, Jan. 25.—This morning Mr. A. H. Johnson, a butcher, received a telegram from Beaverton announcing that his son William had shot and killed himself. Mr. Johnson immediately went out to that place to learn particulars. William Johnson lived on a farm near Beaverton and had a wife and several children.

THE CABINET.

Positive Information as to Secretary of the Interior.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 24.—A former high state official here, and at present a prominent republican, whose name cannot be disclosed said to-day that John M. Thurston had two months ago been offered and had accepted the position of secretary of the interior Upon his visit to Harrison his claims on the coming administration were fully admitted and recognized, and he was instructed to secure proper endorsement from his own state. This was done in proper form, and he was accordingly given the position.

PORTLAND NEWS.

Warrants Issued for a Young Man Charged with Forgery.

PORTLAND, Or., Jan. 24.—Last night a young man named Frank Tucker passed a forged check for fifty dollars at a store in this city, forging the name of Beach & Armstrong. A warrent has been issued for his arrest, but he has not yet been apprehend. Tucker is a a young man well connected in the east. He was arrested a month ago on a charge of forgery, but, through the efforts of a clergyman who was acquainted with his family, he was saved from prison. Since then he has been associating with a low class, drinking heavily.

Frank Wickadel the young man arrested charged with horse stealing, a few days ago, escaped from the county jail at 11:30 last night. He sawed through a bar in the window, making a space about ten inches wide, through which he escaped. Several other prisoners in the same cell refused to follow Wickadel because the opening was too small. The escape was not discovered until this morning. He is not yet recaptured.

E. Ribzinski was sentenced to one year's imprisonment this morning for forgery.

To-morrow the light battery stationed at Vancouver barracks will leave here for San Francisco by the Southern Pacific. It will require eighteen cars to transport sixty men, guns, etc.

COSTLY CHINESE COFFINS.

Rich Celestials Like to Repose in Ten Thousand Dollar Caskets.

New York Sun,

Ah Cheong, the worker in wood who is now busily at work upon the fancy wood casing of the new Chinese council rooms when told yesterday of the costly coffin of Mrs. Doctor Hiller of Wilmington Mass., and her eccentricities, said that was nothing.

"It is, said he, a very common in China for thousands of years past for rich men and women to have not only their own coffins, but their parents' and their sons' all ordered in one batch at wholesale rates, together with their funeral garments, as well as cooking utensils and other provisions for the other world."

As to the cost of that coffin at Wilmington, said Ah Cheong laughingly, that was nothing compared with a rich man's coffin that he once made at Canton, China It took him and two other artists just three years to finish, and the price paid for the material alone was over 5000 teals, or $7500, and the work nearly $10,000 more, which in this country for the same work would probably be about five times as much, making materials and work about $50,000.

"Why, I have an order," he said, "for a Chinese merchant's carved bedstead now, which will, when finished probably cost $3000 or $4000. He doesn't want it very elaborate either. An elaborate one I charge anything between $5000 and $10,000 for."

Horrible Death in a Lion's Den.

The shocking death of a female tamer of wild beasts is reported from Hehonmuth, in Bohemia. She was a girl twenty-six years old named Bertha Baumgartner. During a public performancce in a strolling menagerie she entered an empty cage, and the door of an adjoining cage was then opened, to let a lion and a Bengal tiger enter. The lion walked in quietly, but the tiger, a ferocious beast, which had three times wounded its keepers, crouched in the doorway and showed temper, The girl lost nerve and cried for help, and slipped. As she did so the tiger made a spring, bit her on the shoulder then in the throat, literally tearing her to pieces, and tossed her body about. Half the audience ran to the doors in horror, while the attendants tried to beat off the tiger by poking hot irons into the cage. But the girl was dead long before the animal was driven away. The lion seemed to have been as much frightened as the human spectators, for he took no part in the carnage. The proprietor of the show has since admitted that this same tiger had already killed two people.

Webster Mistaken.

Little Willie (aged 10)—Mamma, what is an elite social club?

Mamma—It is a club composed of the choicest people—those who move in the best society.

Willie—Is that what Webster's dictionary says?

Mamma—It says that, or the same thing in other words. Why do you ask?

Willie—I see an advertisement in the paper of the Elite Social Club's dance, and our colored hostler, who sleeps in the stable, and the black cook are the committee on invitation.

THE KIND OF A WIFE YOU WANT.

Bob Burdette Vouchsafes Some Advice to Young Men.

Burlington Hawkeye.

You say you demand a domestic useful woman as your wife. If that is so, marry Nora Mulligan, your laundress' daughter. She wears cowhide shoes, is guiltless of corsets, never had a sick day in her life, takes in washing, goes out house-cleaning, and cooks for a seven children, her mother and three section men board with her. I don't think she would marry you because Con Regan, the track-walker, is her style of man.

Let us examine into your qualifications as a model husband, after your own matrimonial ideas my boy. Can you shoulder a barrel of flour and carry it down the cellar? Can you saw and split ten cords of hickory wood in the fall, so as to have ready fuel all winter? Can you spade up a half acre of ground for a kitchen garden? Do you know what will take the lime taste out of the cistern, and can you patch the little leak in the kitchen roof? Can you bring home a pane of glass and a wad of putty and repair damages in the sitting-room window? Can you hang some cheap paper on the kitchen wall? Can you fix the front gate so it won't swag? Can you do anything about the house that Con Reagan can? My dear, dear boy, you see Nora Mulligan wants a higher type of true manhood. You expect to hire men to do all the man's work about the house, but you want your wife to do anything woman can do. Believe me my son, that nine-tenths of the girls who play the piano and sing so charmingly, whom you in your limited knowledge set down as mere butterflies of fashion, are better fitted for wives than you are for a husband. If you want to marry a first class cook and experienced housekeeper do your courting in the intelligence office. But if you want a wife, marry the girl you love, with dimpled hands and a face like sunlight, and her love and gentleness will teach her all of these things my boy, long before you have learned one-half of your own lesson.

A Birdseye View of the World.

There is a wide spread demand by all readers and students for a work that shall furnish compactly and attractively, all the essential facts and statistics of the different regions of the world, and the races that inhabits them. All this information has been industriously sought, carefully tested and proved and is brilliantly told in one handy and handsome volume by Onesime Reclus, the famous French geographer and Savant.

The author has really succeeded to a surprising degree in accomplishing his purpose. It is a wonderful book and there is no other like it. It is just what the title represents it to be, a book all around the world but it is the world seen through eyes of the largest intelligence and described with inimitable vigor, freshness picturesque grace, combined with studious and painstaking accuracy. The result is the story of the world. The more the volume is looked into the greater is the sense of its wide scope and its masterly preparation. Attractive reading for the family gathered around the evening lamp, and it also a handy book for immedite reference for the busy man who would illuminate his daily news with more accurate information

In brief, a great deal of hard work, painstaking and skill have gone into the preparation of this work which is no catch-penny concern presenting a huddled mass of pitch forked facts to the innocent reader under the pretense of encyclopedic information. It is what it professes to be, a short view of all the people and countries under the sun, so arranged and digested that a great deal of useful and interesting knowledge is packed handily in a limited space. While a child would never tire of the fascination of the facts illuminated by 371 illustrations of which 99 are full page, the most thoroughly read man will find on every page something, the importance of which he never fully realized until a geographical expert presents it with scientific effect in attractive praseology. The man who prepared this work is a genius in such effort. There is no weak spots in it. The publishers have done their best for the mechanical part of the work and their enterprise leaves nothing to be desired in that respect.

Sunday School Teacher—Johnny, what does it mean to return good for evil?

Johnny—I ain't sure, ma'am, but I guess its when another boy calls you a liar, to tell him he is a gentleman.
