The dry cold weather of the early winter months is productive of a great deal of croup among children. Mothers should be on the lookout for it, and be prepared to arrest it as soon as the first symptoms appear. True croup never comes without a warning; a day or two before the attack the child will become hoarse, and all symptoms are soon followed by a peculiar, rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as this hoarseness or cough appears, all danger and anxiety may be avoided; it has never failed, even in the most severe cases. There is no danger in giving the Remedy for it contains no injurious substance. For sale by Foshay & Mason.

apped in the Bud.

It is not better to nip Consumption the greatest scourge of humanity in the bud, than to try to stay its progress on the brink of the grave. A few doses of Chamberlain's most useful production, will relieve, and a thorough treatment will cure. Nasal Catarrh, too often the forerunner of consumption can be cured by Chamberlain's Cat-R-Cure. These remedies are sold and fully warranted by Foshay & Mason.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BLUEBERRY

The Blueberry is a valuable fruit and is reliable to grow in our Northern states, where the more tender varieties of fruits winter-kill. It is perfectly hardy, having stood 40 degrees below zero without showing any injury to the most tender buds. It ripens in this latitude about the 1st of July, and is borne in clusters like currants; shape round; color, reddish purple at first, but becomes a bluish-black, when fully ripened. The flavor is equal to the raspberry, a very mild, rich sub-acid, pronounced by most people delicious. It may be served with sugar and cream or cooked sauce, and is splendid canned for winter use. The plant seems to flourish in all soils and is a prolific bearer. It grows very stocky and makes a nice hedge. The shining dark green leaves and the blue fruit making a pleasing contrast. The demand for the fruit is great, and usually brings 15 cents per quart. They commence bearing the first year after setting out, and yield a full crop the second and third year after setting out. They are propagated from suckers and root cuttings. The plant is about the height and size of a currant bush and very stocky, holding the fruit well up from the ground. Plants should be set in the spring, during March, April and May, in rows two or three feet apart, and five or six feet between the rows, making a perfect hedge, and no grass or weeds should be allowed to grow between rows.

PRICE LIST.

- 1 dozen plants by mail.....$ 60
- 2 dozen plants by mail..... 100
- 100 dozen plants by express..... 2 50
- 1000 dozen plants by express or freight..... 15 00

Plants are carefully packed in damp moss and delivered to express or freight office, for which I make no extra charge.

HOW SEND MONEY—I would prefer to have money sent by American express order, all sums of $5 and under cost only 5 cents, and if order is lost, money will be promptly refunded to sender. If not convenient to obtain express order, money can be sent by registered letter, or postoffice money order or postal note, drawn on Portland, Michigan. Postage stamps will not be accepted only from our customers that cannot obtain an express order—only those of the one-cent denomination wanted.

Caution to Mothers.

Every mother is cautioned against giving her child laudanum or paragon; it creates an unnatural craving for stimulants which kills the mind or the child. Acker's Baby Sooter is specially prepared to benefit children and cure their pains. It is harmless and contains no opium or morphine. Sold by Foshay & Mason.

How Can Parents

allow their children to cough and strain and cough and calmly say, "Oh it's only a cold," and keep giving them cheap and dangerous medicines until they are down with lung fever or consumption, when they can be so easily relieved by BEGG'S CHERRY COUGH SYRUP? It has no superior, and few equals. Geo. L. Blackman, druggist.

The immense sale of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been produced to a great extent by people who have been cured by it telling their friends and neighbors of its good qualities and urging them to try it. The most severe cold will soon yield to its soothing effects. For sale by Foshay & Mason.

Use Fahrney's sauce.

GENERAL NEWS.

A Female Hospital Nurse Murdered in Cold Blood.

SACKVILLE IS MADE AN EMBASSADOR

How the Telegraphing Business Pays Between America and England—Death of General Roger Jones.

The Herald Special Dispatches.)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—Mary Webster, head nurse of the Cooper hospital at Camden, N. J., was murdered while on duty on the fourth floor of the hospital this morning by an unknown man, who robbed the body and escaped by lowering himself from the window by a rope made from bed clothes. An armed posse is in pursuit of the murderer.

AMERICA AND ENGLAND.

How the Telegraphing Business Pays Between the Two Countries.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—The Anglo-American telegraph company has issued a report stating that since fixing the rate at 1 shilling a word for telegrams between England and America the revenue of the company has increased 77 per cent, while its traffic has increased 26 per cent. The directors are yet undecided whether or not it will be a financial success. So far, however the results have been satisfactory.

Lord Sackville Again.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—The St. James Gazette states that Sir W. A. White, British ambassador to Turkey, will shortly retire, and that he will be succeeded by Sackville.

Notable Dead.

FORT MONROE, Jan. 26.—In spite of the best medical attendance possible General Roger Jones, of the United States Army, died this morning.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—It is believed about the capitol that Allison left Washington this morning for Indianapolis.

RESOLVED TO PLEASE.

The Woman Who Cured the Whims of Her Husband.

Exchange.

The author of "The Five Talents of Woman" says that often a husband is more difficult to manage than children; but the wife who keeps her temper and perseveres in her efforts to please will in the end conquer by kindness. He tells the following story to confirm his assertion: "Zachariah was not naturally an ill-tempered man, but he treated his wife more like a slave than an equal. If his temper was ruffled abroad she was sure to suffer when he came home. His meals he insisted were badly cooked, though the good woman did her best to please him.

One day Zachariah sent home a large fresh cod, with orders to cook it for dinner. The wife knew that whether she boiled it or fried it or made into a chowder her husband would scold her when he came home. She therefore cooked portions of the fish in several different ways, that for once, it possible, he might be pleased with his dinner. She did more, she secured a frog from the brook back of the house and put it in a large dish.

At noon Zachariah came home with his usual fault-finding look. "Well, wife," said he, "how did you cook the fish? I suppose you've spoiled it for my eating." Then, as he took off a cover he continued, "I thought so. Why did you fry it? I'd as soon eat a fried frog. Why didn't you boil it?"

"I have boiled some also," said she, lifting a cover and showing the shoulders of the cod nicely boiled.

"Boiled fish chips and porridge" growled Zachariah. "If you had not been stupid you would have made a chowder."

With a smile she placed before him a tureen of chowder. "My dear," said she, "I determined to please you. There is your favorite dish."

"Favorite dish, indeed!" growled the surly man. "It's a wishy washy mess. I'd rather have a boiled frog than the whole of it."

His wife had anticipated his favorite expression. She uncovered a large dish and showed a bull-frog stretched out at full length. Zachariah sprang from his chair. "My dear," said his wife, "I hope now you will make an excellent dinner."

The humor of the whole scene overcame his sullenness, he burst into a hearty laugh and declared that never again should she have occasion to expose him as a croaker. He was as good as his word.

He—If you will be mine Louise, I will lead you through life like an angel. She—That is nothing to eat and nothing to wear. No thanks.

A good woman is seldom the cause of any evil. It was not Eve, but a crawling reptile that disappointed the Adam family of its pre-emption.

THE CONQUEROR CONQUERED.

In southern archipelago he'd fought the bloody Cannibal; He'd skinned and tanned the crocodile and found him very tannable. Not a word of fear he'd uttered: not a word and not a syllable. When he killed the Bengal tiger, and he found him very killable.

He claimed his strength was very great, for bears and lions suitable: He used to shoot the crazy bear, and found him very suitable: He claimed in killing monstrous snakes that he was very capable: No lion-constructor could escape, for he was unscapable:

In fighting the hippopotami, he said he was invincible: No jaguar could make him wince, because he was invincible: He made the snapping crocodile no longer recognizable: And pulverized the roaring bull, and found him pulverizable.

Just then his wife came in and said, "I think it quite commendable if you'd come in and tend the baby; and you'll find him very tendable." The way she took him by the ear will make this poem readable: She pulled him out and led him home, and found him very leadable.

HEMORRHOID DRIFT.

A stranger's Mistake—Distinguished stranger (in the West)— This is a well-drilled squad of soldiers. American General— Squad! Great Scott man! That's an army!

Bloodgood—How are you getting on with Miss Debut Poseboy? Have you broken the ice yet? Poseboy—Yes, and I got a cold bath that I shan't forget to my dying day.

"Well, Browne, here is another new year. How about that diary you started to keep last year?" "I've kept it. Here it is, just as good as it was a year ago. Not even a mark on any of the pages."

Ethel (to her betrothed)—Do learn to skate, George. I'm sure you would look lovely on ice. George (a young and rising undertaker)—Look lovely on ice, would I? Thank you. No hurry about it.

A new medical journal is called The Doctor. The original intention was to call it Medicine, but that idea was abandoned because the proprietors did not want the subscribers to think the paper was bad to "take."

Tourist to stage driver in the Yellowstone region—Are there any wonderful curiosities? Well, should say they were! Why, you drop a rock down that gorge, come back in three days, and you can hear the echo.

"If you had turned your steps in the right direction, my friend," he said, solemnly, to the convict, "you would not be in this place to-day." Ah, no, sir," responded the convict with sad respectation: "If I had turned my steps in the right direction: I would be in Canada."

IN GOOD HANDS.

Mrs. Logan's Little Fortune We Cared For.

Washington Letter in Philadelphia Record. General Russell A. Alger of Michigan has charge of Mrs. Logan's little estate of about $40,000. It could not be in better hands, for he is honest and successful in business. He has so invested it that it yields Mrs. Logan a handsome interest, and has so secured it that she cannot lose it unless Detroit falls in the river and disappears in Lake Erie. A friend of mine was in Alger's office in Detroit a day or two after Alger received the funds from Mrs. Logan, when a prominent banker came in. "How would you like to discount that?" asked Alger holding a note for $40,000. "Mrs. Logan's order signed Alger & Smith"—his firm name. "Do it in a minute" promptly responded the banker. "I thought you would sell Alger, who could borrow half a million on his own personal note any day in the week except Sunday. "But just to make sure I got a few indentments on the back so that the pay needn't have any trouble about it. Turn it over." The banker did so. The back of the note was simply covered with the names of Detroit millionaires, beginning with James P. McMillan Michigan's next Senator. The payment of that $40,000,000 to $100,000,000.

A Young Minister's Mistake.

Pretty girl—Yes, I like that young minister; but I really do think he might have a little judgment. I know I'm not very wicked, but he imagines I'm going straight to perdition.

Friend—Oh, you must be mistaken.

"No, I'm not. There is lots worse sinners in the congregation than I am, and yet no matter what wickedness he preaches, he always looks right straight at me."
