From the Warm Springs Agency.

Rev. T. J. Wilson, principal of the United Presbyterian mission school at the Warm Springs Indian agency, passed through this city yesterday on his way to Halsey. He is in poor health, but expects to be able to return to his position soon. Affairs are not the most peaceable on the reservation just now, and do not promise to be under the present regime.

Served Him Right.

At Salem Wednesday evening shackled, bound over for attempted rape, pretended to follow prisoners and officers that he had taken poison. A doctor was sent for, and saw he was shamming, so a strong dose of ipecac was given him, which almost turned him inside out.

AN IMPORTANT MATTER.

The Narrow Gauge to Be Extended to Albany—The Sodaville Branch.

Some months ago the HERALD made mention of the almost certainty of the narrow gauge railroad coming into Albany. We now present the matter in a new light to our readers—one that will add materially to our city, and prove very profitable to the railroad company.

The reason definite steps have not already been taken toward bringing the road to this city is the suit pending between the two companies, but the representatives of both companies, who have the means of knowing, have been in the city, assure us that the road will certainly come into Albany soon after the suit is settled by the supreme court of the United States.

The judge who was to render the opinion took very ill just before the day appointed for the decision, Jan. 11th, and has not yet fully recovered, hence its delay, but when the decision is given either company that takes charge of the road will build it into Albany as soon as possible. The plan now is to start at a point on Oak Creek on or near Dr. Crawford's farm, at the company's present warehouse, and run directly down to Albany, and then extend in the other direction up the creek to Sodaville. By looking at the map of Linn county it will be seen that Oak Creek is on a straight line from Sodaville to within a mile of the limits of this city.

It is also said the land owners along the line of the proposed road will generally give the right of way, and will, for their part, besides the great benefit the road would be to the farmers on the line as a means of transportation, the slight grade required would be a means of drainage to the land through which it will run. This is as it should be—whole sections of country are frequently held back and the price of valuable farms kept below their actual value by opposition being shown to the railroads and other permanent enterprises through the country.

A direct line from Albany to Sodaville will be the best paying road in the state, so far as travel goes, aside from the line between Portland and Oregon City.

The standard gauge road should have been extended from Lebanon to Sodaville, and just why it was not we are not informed. The distance from Lebanon to Sodaville is but little over three miles and the road has a level track. The expense of constructing this short distance would be comparatively small when the profits to accrue to the road are considered. Albany wants a railroad to Sodaville, for the latter place is our summer resort, and we want an easier way to get there than over dusty wagon roads. We hope the decision of the court will soon settle the matter as to who shall give us railroad communications with Sodaville, and build its proposed branch into this city.

MAJOR HILTON AGAIN.

A Warm Indorsement from one of Portland's Leading Merchants.

The following letter from Wm. Wadhams, Esq., one of the leading wholesale merchants, of Portland, was received yesterday by the W. C. T. U. It freely explains itself and strengthens the testimony already given in regard to the work of Mayor Hilton:

Mrs. HENRIETTA BROWN, Albany Or., Dear Madam—Major Hilton did work here. I did not hear him as much as I wished and expected to, owing to other duties. He is a grand worker, calls things by their right names, and awakens a deep interest in the cause of temperance whenever he speaks. No resident of Albany should fail to hear him. I wish him abundant success. Respectively Yours, Wm. WADHAM.

Portland Or., Feb. 6.

A bible reading will be given at the W. C. T. U. hall this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and at 7:30 in the evening he will lecture at the same place on temperance. The people of Albany are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

A Gypsy Wedding.

The crowd of Gypsies camped near this city have been on the quiver for several days over the marriage of the "Chieftain's daughter" to a dusky youth of the party. For two days they have been conspicuous on the street, sometimes on ponies and sometimes walking in a procession. The bride was attired in a most extravagant manner. Her bridal trosser was made by a fashionable milliner and dress-maker of the city, and she was gorgeously bedecked, a grille of $5 gold pieces being suspended from her shoulders. A license was duly obtained and yesterday they were united with religious ceremony. They made it a gala day and ended by getting drunk in the evening.

Hunting Party Returned.
