EDITORIAL NOTES.

NATURAL GAS and petroleum have been found in Kern county, California, and the excitement is quite lively over the prospects of having a successful rival for the Pennsylvania oil regions on the Pacific Coast.

JOSEPH BORDEAUX, his wife and two children lately from Canada, were poisoned on the 7th inst, at Olympia, by eating California cabbage, on which Paris green had been used to kill insects.

ASTORIA boasts of a peculiar district deputy attorney. The Oregonian says he refuses to discharge from custody a woman who shot and killed a man who was attempting to commit a criminal outrage upon her.

OWING to the opposition being made to the amendments to the Albany charter raising the limit of the tax levy and the limit of indebtedness to $5,000, there is talk of passing the bill so as to submit the question to a vote of the people of this city.

CANADA is becoming aroused over the annexation question. News from the dominion government states that a great change is pending in Canada which will materially affect the future of that country and may seriously alter the relations between the United States and Canada.

THE Chronicle says that the microbe is now the craze of the scientific world. Pasteur has traced most complaints to the work of this parasite, and now we hear that some of his assistants claim to have discovered the generative microbe of diphtheria.

TEMPERANCE NOTES.

Maj. Hilton's bible readings are very instructive, and full of interest to every seeker after truth.

In speaking of Maj. Hilton's work in Portland the Express says: The substantial results of a weeks work are a stronger temperance sentiment than has been known in the city since the Crusade.

The statement appears to be well authenticated that the representatives of an English Beer Syndicate are seeking to gain control of brewery property to a large extent.
