TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE.

The Business of the Session Concluded - Next Meeting to be Held at Salem.

The Alliance was called to order at 9 a. m. Opened with song, and prayer by Rev. H. Gould of Seaside.

In reading the minutes it was decided that the 4th district alliance meeting be held at Baker City on the 2d Wednesday of January 1890.

A bill of $5 for janitor services was read, and ordered paid. The hour of 10:30 a. m. was fixed for determining the place of holding the next session of the alliance.

A letter from Wallis Nash explaining that himself and Mrs. Nash could not be present on account of sickness in their family.

Judge G. Williams also sent a letter regretting that legal duties hindered his being present.

The committee on the president's address made their final report, recommending law and order leagues, and that yearly, and if necessary still more often meetings of the district alliances be held.

On motion the four presidents of the district and the executive committee were made a committee on law and order league, and the report of the committee so amended was adopted.

The committee on the secretary's report recommended that the secretary be paid $25, and that the claim of Dr. J. W. Watts be referred to the executive committee for final settlement. The report was adopted.

The committee on resolutions read their report, which was adopted as follows: WHEREAS, It has become necessary to at once define the position of the Oregon Temperance Alliance on current policies of temperance agitation and outline a future course of procedure; therefore be it

Resolved, That the alliance hereby expresses its emphatic disapproval of all license systems, believing such systems to be essentially and fundamentally wrong against the best interests of society; and moreover, be it

Resolved, That we believe every citizen knows that the saloon is an unmitigated curse, that we believe the U. S. government could as easily close the saloon as it can collect the license fee and that all license laws are but a bid for rum votes.

Resolved, That we inaugurate a vigorous campaign against the liquor traffic by adopting any and all means looking to absolute prohibition.

Resolved, That this alliance believes the plan of organizing law and order leagues throughout this state to be one of the most effective lines of policy now commanding the attention of our people, and we do earnestly ask that the societies here represented give their undivided sympathies and co-operation to this work.

Resolved, That we earnestly invite the grange and all humanitarian organizations to cooperate with us by passing suitable resolutions and then appointing delegates to our conventions.

Resolved, That this alliance express by a rising vote its hearty thanks to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Albany for the use of their hall lighted and warmed for these meetings, and would suggest that this alliance make a suitable compensation to the said society to cover the expense incident to this occasion.

Resolved, That we express our profound gratitude to the ladies of the W. C. T. U. for the ample provisions they have made of their own free will for the entertainment of the representatives to these meetings, and that we shall ever remember with the kindest pleasure our present visit to the city of Albany.

Resolved, That we thank the Southern Pacific railroad and Oregon Pacific for their kindness in granting delegates to this convention special favors in the way of reduced rates.

On motion the roll was called to procure pledges for funns to carry on future work. Pledges amounting to $155 were made, very many of the delegates not being instructed could only promise that future pledges would be made.

The place for holding the next session of the Alliance was fixed at Salem on the third Wednesday of January 1892. A vote of thanks was given to G. T. Wright for the liberal donation of a thousand extra copies of the Express containing the president's address.

On motion a thousand copies of the Express containing the complete minutes of the meeting were ordered.

Adjourned with a song, and benediction by Rev. C. C. Bateman.

SEAN SAW-MILL BURNED. The Mill of Jennings & McPherson Near Lebanon Destroyed - Linn County Coal.

Special to the Herald. LEANON, Feb. 22.—The steam saw-mill, about 4 miles from town, belonging to Jennings & McPherson, burned down this morning at about 2 o'clock. Nothing was saved. No insurance. As the mill has not been running for a year or more it was supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The loss is probably $5000.

W. H. Watkins came up from Portland and left for his coal mine near Lebanon yesterday. A road is being opened up to the mine, and a mining expert will be up from Portland next week to give it a thorough examination. It is thought these coal mines will prove valuable.

Exciting Runaway. A team owned by John Livingstone, hitched to a scraper at work on the street near the iron works, ran away yesterday, making a detour of several blocks. The scraper was demolished but no one was hurt.

THE RAILROAD COMMISSION. The States Seems to Have Too Many-A Clash of Authority.

The railroad commission matter seems to have developed into a veritable 15 puzzle, on account of a clash of authority between Governor Penoyer and the legislature.

The Salem Statesman of the 22nd, inst says: "Governor Penoyer last night appointed C. P. Church, of Portland, and George H. Biggs, of Wasco county, as railroad commissioners, under the old law, to take the places of the commissioner removed several weeks ago.

The new law that he vetoed, and which passed over his head, had an emergency clause, to take effect from and after its approval by the governor," but he says he did not approve it, but vetoed it, and it cannot therefore become a law for ninety days; and he says the legislature had no right to elect commissioners for a commission that is not yet created.

The governor says that so soon as the ninety days are up he will fill the vacancy under the new law, and appoint three commissioners, two democrats and one probi.

The matter will no doubt have to be settled in the courts.

At the present writing the state of Oregon has three railroad commissions, the one the legislative assembly elected last night, the one the governor appointed last night, and the old one he had no authority to remove, and ex-Senator Slater, of the old one, says he will hang on until the ninety days are up, anyway."
