INAUGURATION OF HARRISON.

The spectacle of the assuming the office of chief magistrate of this nation, is one fraught with deep significance to the thoughtful, observing man. The changing of the administration from one regime to another without a ripple or disturbance of any kind, and with the simple convening of the people to celebrate the occasion as a holiday affair, and without change in the business affairs of the nation, without it to be added confidence in our financial standing and credit, speaks in no unmistakable terms of the strength and endurance of our nation and governmental affairs. The placing of Gen. Benjamin Harrison in the presidential chair, is attended with the satisfaction of knowing that he is a Christian gentleman of unimpeached integrity, sound and perfect judgment, and tried and acknowledged qualities of mind and training that peculiarly fit him for the position. The innate courtesy that caused him to intimate to an admirer, who had raised on one side of which was an uncomplimentary allusion to Cleveland, that its removal would be considered a favor—which request caused its removal—is indicative of the character of our president. Always courteous, kind, affable and obliging, yet with firmness and decision that will clearly establish that in the line of duty and the requirements of the office, the president of the United States is now Benjamin Harrison, and the earnest prayer of the whole country will be that his life, health and strength may continue unimpaired so that through his entire term of office he may continue to be the President.

One day last week a little boy in California, while going from the house to the field where his papa was plowing, being watched by both parents—one in the house and the other in the field—was suddenly struck by a charge of electricity from the clear sky; not a cloud being in sight. Of the incident the Chronicle says: The injury of a little boy on Ontario, San Bernardino county, by a stroke of lightning from a clear sky is so unusual in California that it will excite much comment. Thunder and lightning storms are practically unknown in this state, and it is doubtful whether a half dozen cases of lightning stroke have occurred during the American occupation.

The San Francisco papers are not spoken in commendation of the action of the Oakland policemen who recently fired upon and killed a petty offender who was attempting to run away from arrest. The act was rightfully termed murder and the officers who committed it should have been brought to trial on that charge. The authority placed in a police officers hands does not carry with it the power to pass sentence upon and execute criminals, especially persons who are accused of only petty crimes, and perhaps not guilty of even those. Humane men and men of judgment only should be selected for police or executive officials.

DRINKING seems to be an expensive luxury in Vermont. Henry A. Brown of Montpelier, Vt., is serving a term of 417 days at hard labor for one single offense of intoxication. The offense was committed last summer, and Brown was sentenced in the police court to pay a fine of $5 and costs. Several consecutive appeals were taken, each time of course costs being added, until finally the whole bill amounts to $139.29, and carries with it the alternative of 417 days work.

One of the latest acts of Ex-President Cleveland was to veto the bill to return to the states the amount of money paid into the United States treasury under the direct war tax measures. Cleveland was not in favor of reducing the surplus in that manner.

ONE of the strongest temperance lectures ever delivered in this country, was made in the United States senate last Saturday. It was delivered by one Riddleberger who holds the office of senator from Virginia, and was made by exhibiting himself upon the floor of the senate in so drunken a condition that he caused a disgraceful interruption of the business of the senate.

CANADA will do well if she increases the number of extraditable offenses, as it will free her from the gang of American defaulters, embezzlers and bootleggers who have sought refuge in the Dominion during the last ten years. Three-quarters of these gentry could have been captured and punished had not this asylum been so easily reached.

The triumphal passage of Gen. Harrison on his way to Washington for inauguration, presented quite a contrast to that of Abraham Lincoln, in 1861. Harrison's progress was marked with the wild and most extended publicity and enthusiasm, while Lincoln had to reach the capital in disguise and in the utmost danger.

A Warning. The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the throat and lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing consumption and to the head, causing catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in the end result in death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous. As soon as you feel anything is wrong with your throat, lungs or nostrils, obtain a bottle of Boschie's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

Worth Knowing. Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City Fla., was taken with a severe cold; attended with a distressing cough and running into Consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, and had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief and after using a half dozen bottles found himself well and had had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it. Trial bottle free at Foshay & Mason.
