A REMARKABLE ESCAPE.

A Crazed Woman Leaps from the Overland Train, but is not Injured.

When the Southern Pacific overland train arrived in the city yesterday a remarkable story of the hardships of a woman was told. A family, who were traveling second-class, and whose names could not be ascertained, were in a situation deserving of sympathy. They came from Kansas, and shortly after leaving, the husband fell from the train and was seriously injured. His wife through worrying over his condition and the care of a young babe became partially deranged, and shortly after leaving Tangent she leaped from the train, which was going at a rate of 35 miles per hour. Strange to say she was apparently uninjured, and ran toward a farm house near by. The train was stopped and backed up and the unfortunate woman was again taken aboard, and taken with her injured husband to Portland.

They were en route to Seattle, and were almost without money. They were kindly cared for on the train, and elicited the deepest sympathy from those on board.

Chinese Driven Out.

Word has been received from Junction City, in Lane county, that the gang of Chinese employed as section hands on the Southern Pacific railroad, have been driven out of town. White men had been employed until recently, when last week it became convenient to employ a gang of Chinamen, owing to the removal of the white men to some other portion of the road. On the night of their arrival the Mongolians were visited by a party of white men, who ordered them to leave town instanter on penalty of their lives. The terrified Chinese stood not upon the order of their going but went at once, and all is again serene with white men at work in the place of the deposed gang of Celestials. At Harrisburg there is not at Chinaman to be found, an order of the Knights of Labor a year or so ago requesting them to leave town still being respected.

A STALE CHESTNUT.

The Linn County Judge Contest Case Argued in the Supreme Court at Salem.

The Linn county judge contest case, commenced last year by J. J. Whitney, and which has now become a very stale chestnut, was argued in the supreme court at Salem yesterday. Ex-Judge Whitney appeared in his own behalf and Judge D. R. N. Blackburn argued the case on the defense. The case was submitted, and was taken under advisement by the court. The decision will probably be delivered by Judge Strahan, and there is little doubt as to the way it will be decided. No legal grounds for a contest has been set forth for the reason that none exist and the case will no doubt go just as it did in the circuit court here.

IN MEMORIAM.

SANCTUARY OF HARRISBURG ASSEMBLY 5375 K. of L.
HARRISBURG March 22nd.

In submission to the universal decree of the great Master, on the 18th day of March 1889 Hon. Enoch Hoult departed hence to receive the reward that awaits the faithful and the just. The record he leaves for the living is bright and untarnished.

In all his public trusts he was plain and firmly honest and so devoted to the maintenance of right and the public good and so impressing those exalted virtues upon the minds of the people that his name will be endeared and honored by them long after all who now live have gone to join the great majority.

As a private citizen he was the soul of honor, dignified, noble and charitable in all his secular dealings. In his domestic relations he was a model of the highest order, kind and provident, his teaching correct and elevating in the family left to mourn his loss. The Harrisburg Assembly of the noble order of the Knights of Labor extend sympathy to the bereaved family of our departed brother.

J. F. HENDREX.
G. H. WOODBURY.
A. T. DRISKO.

At a special communication of Thurston lodge, No. 28, A. F. & A. M., held in their hall in Harrisburg, Oregon, on Wednesday, March 20, 1889, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The Supreme Architect of the Universe has seen fit to remove from our midst our beloved brother, Enoch Hoult, by the hand of death, and

WHEREAS, While we, with humble submission, bow to his infinite decree, we sincerely mourn the loss of him whose station is now vacant; therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of Brother Enoch Hoult, Thurston Lodge, No. 28, A. F. & A. M., loses a pillar of strength and beauty, whose place we cannot hope to fill, his family a parent whose fatherly care and affectionate regard none can replace, and the community a true and faithful citizen.

Resolved, That in respect to his noble memory, the lodge be draped in mourning for thirty days.

Resoved, That these resolutions be spread on the record of the lodge, a copy be given the family and a copy be sent to the county papers for publication.

Temporarily Suspended.

There has been considerable movement in real estate at Yaquina lately; even the bottom of the bay has moved to some extent. The very stormy weather of the past week or more washed up so much sand in front of the wharf, where the stone for the south jetty was landed, that it is now impossible to get the barges to the wharf, and consequently operations on the south jetty have been suspended temporarily. Once the jetties were completed this sort of thing would probably be stopped. Just what steps will be taken in the matter has not yet been decided. Should the sand move away soon work will be resumed, but it may be necessary to extend the wharf, or perhaps build a new one.

Wedding at Junction.

On Sunday, at the residence of the bride's parents, in Junction City, Mr. Walter Beebe, of Ashland, and Miss Olive Page, daughter, of Mrs. J. O. Bushnell, were united in marriage by Rev. G. M. Whitney. The happy couple were the recipients of a large number of elegant wedding presents, including a purse of $210 from the bride's mother. They will in future reside in Ashland, where Mr. Beebe is agent in the Southern Pacific company's office.

Fell Into a Well.

A $300 horse, while being worked on the farm of Moses Sternberg near this city yesterday, fell into an old unused well in a grain field It was not learned whether the horse was extracted from the well or not, but it will no doubt be a very defuct equus if it is fished out.
