GENERAL NEWS.

The Senate Committee Investigating Canadian Railroads.

DR. CRONIN'S DISAPPEARANCE

Detectives Searching for Him—The Rain Stops the Races in San Francisco—Eastern News.

The HERALD's Special Dispatches.]

NEW YORK, May 6.—The senate committee appointed to investigate alleged ownership by Canadian corporations and capital of American roads reassembled this morning. The first witness was Commissioner Albert Fink, chairman of the Grand Trunk association, which he said was an association to arrange joint competitive tariffs, secure uniformity in charges, and class and maintain established tariffs. Fink described the Grand Trunk railway and its branches so far as he knew. As a Trunk line it ran from Chicago to Portland, Maine.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE

Detectives Searching in Vain for the Missing Dr. Cronin.

CHICAGO, May 6.—A large force of detectives are scouring Lake view this morning in the hope of finding a clue to the mysterious disappearance of Dr. P. H. Cronin. So far no success has attended their efforts. All the facts obtainable are that Dr. P. H. Cronin, a local physician, somewhat widely known among the members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and other Irish societies, disappeared last night in a mysterious manner. His friends express the belief that he has been foully dealt with. A stranger took the doctor off last night, it is related, ostensibly to attend an injured man in Lakeview. Since then Cronin has not been seen, and inquiry fails to bring to light any injured man such as described. To-day a trunk was found on the prairie near Lakeview, containing a mass of bloody cotton similar to that Cronin carried in his surgeon's case, and some hair, said to resemble in color the doctor's locks. A two column interview with Dr. Cronin, in a printed form prepared by himself, was given to the newspapers to-night by his friends. It related various circumstances, purporting that a conspiracy of some sort existed to injure Cronin in reputation or person.

Does Not Know Him.

BOSTON, May 6.—Edgar L. Davenport was shown a dispatch from San Francisco announcing the success of Wm. Henry Davenport. Mr. Davenport said: "I have but one brother, Harry B. Davenport, who is in New York, and two sisters, Fannie and May. This man I do not know."

The New York Pedestrians.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Of fifty-three pedestrians, who started this morning in the six days walk only about half remained on the track at 1 o'clock to-day. From the appearance of the remainder it looks as if they would drop out of the race before night. Veteran O'Leary quit the floor after walking twelve miles.

He Was Insane.

PARIS, May 6.—Perrin, who fired at President Carnot yesterday was recently under treatment for insanity.

Searched by the Police.

PARIS, May 6.—The houses of sixteen Boulangists at Neuly have been searched by the police.

Races Postponed,

SACRAMENTO, May 6.—On account of the disagreeable weather the sculling races have been postponed from to day until next Monday.

Are We to Have Another War

Some political prophets aver that we shall. Be that as it may, the battle waged by medical science against disease will never cease until we arrive at the utopian epoch when the human family shall cease to be afflicted with bodily ailments. One of the most potent weapons which the armory of medicine furnishes, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is of special utility as a family remedy, as it is adapted to the immediate relief and ultimate cure of those disorders of the stomach, liver and bowles which are of commonest occurence. Indigestion, biliousness and constipation are inseparable companions, as these ailments are completely eradicated by the Bitters. But the remedial scope of this superlatively wholesome and genial medicine takes in also nervous ailments, rheumatism and kidney troubles; its action in these, as in the other complaints, being characterized by unequaled 1ouo

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well and popular known as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, and remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood. Will drive Malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers—For the cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion try electric bitters—Entire satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle at Foshay & Mason.

NEW TORPEDO BOAT.

Fast Time Expected of the Herreshoff Craft.

New York Tribune.

The new torpedo boat which the Herreshoffs are building for the Navy Department at Bristol, R. I., is fast nearing completion and is expected to be ready for trial in another month or six weeks. She is 137 feet long, 14½ feet beam and 8 feet depth of hold, with a drauhgt of 3 feet 8 inches on the load line. She is to carry a secondary battery of two six-pounder rapid-firing guns, and the contract calls for a speed of twenty knots per hour on the official trial. This wonder of marine architecture was designed by Nathaniel G. Herresnoff and his blind brother, John B., the famous designer and builder of some of the fastest steam yachts in the world, and they confidently expect a speed of twenty-three knots with the new boat.

The vessel will be propelled by twin screws attached to steel shafts extending from either side of the stern, connected with two quadruple expansion engines with five cylinders, calculated to develop 1600-horse power. The vessel will be divided into eight water-tight compartments. The engines will be in the middle of the boat with one of the boilers forward and the other abaft the engines, thus occupying three of the compartments. The quarters for the officers will be aft and those for the crew forward—just the reverse of the arrangements in the monitors. There will be no deck houses, hence the craft will not be a comfortable one in the tropics, nor in summer time in this latitude, notwithstanding that she is to be fitted with several patent ventilating boilers to supply the quarters with fresh air. Two large torpedo shutes are fitted on either side of the bow, so placed as to be protected by the turtleback of the forward part of the boat.

The pilot-house will be a small tower just forward of the smokepipe, while another tower near the stern will be for the lookout. The contract price for the new boat is $82,750, with a condition of $1500 extra for each quarter of a knot made in excess of twenty-three knots.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

PORTLAND, Or., May 3.

The fourth annual convention of the Oregon State Sunday School Association will be held in the Presbyterian church, Corvallis, commencing at 2 o'clock p. m. on Tuesday, June 4th, and closing at 12 m. on Thursday, June 6, 1889. While this is a Mass Convention, and all interested in the work are most earnestly and cordially invited to be present, yet to insure representation, all Sunday schools in the state are requested to select two or more persons pledged to attend. Word comes to us from Corvallis that the friends of the work in thatcity will open their homes and hearts and take care of all who may attend the convention. That they may know who are to be entertained, all those expecting to be present will confer a favor by sending their names to Prof. W. E. Yates, Corvallis, that places may be assigned them. Arrangements have been made with the lines of the Southern Pacific railroad in Oregon and the Oregon Pacific railroad to return at one-fifth fare all those in attendance who have paid full fare in going to the convention over these lines. Prof. Henry Sheak, of Philomath, Oregon is the Statistical secretary of the association, and he desires to secure a report from every Sunday school in Oregon. Will the proper officer of each school see that such a report is sent him in time for the convention? Pastors, Sunday school superintendents and all interested in the work are requested to give this notice as wide publicity as possible. E. W. ALLEN, President.

Amelie Rives Tries the Pig Puzzel.

Washington Critic.

Through the half-open door in the Hotel Arno the murmur of a low, musical voice floated into the hallway. The door opened into an elegant apartment, decorated with rich drapery and bijouterie that gave the place an air of voluptuous refinement.

Seated on a soft Turkish rug of luxurious squashiness a wraith figure sits; the face of exquisite sweetness, yet with an uncanny brilliancy about the eyes, is lit up by the fitful glow of the firelight. Upon the little hand rests a head whose gold enmeshed tresses fall a glittering shower over a sculpturesque arm, and in the other is a dainty circular box with grooves of scrupulous exactness, through which brilliant colored globules wheel and circle in bewildering maziness.

"My God," says the fair girl, with a smothered sob, "I cannot do it—I cannot!"

She gives the dainty circular box a swift whirl, gazes at it with a look of intense determination, and, drawing herself up to the hight of her scornful stature, cast it from her into the fire as if it were a thing too low for her superb contempt. For an instant her face rests in her hands; then with trembling steps she propels her slender figure over to the nearest table, sits down and writes another novel. It is Amelie Rives Chanler, and she has been trying to get the "Pigs in the Pen."

Notes and Comments From the National Capital.

SUPREME BENCH VACANCY.

Pension Cases Reopened and Granted—The Publication of Col Dudley's Letter—The Oklohoma Matter.

Special Correspondence.]

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Ex-Senator Mahone, of Virginia, had quite a lengthy private interview with the President on Saturday afternoon, at the White House, and the political know it all are at their wits end to learn what passed between these gentlemen. But it is a secret. Gen. Mahone refuses to be interviewed, and the President is, of course, out of the question. But all the same you may be certain that a stenographic report of that conversation would make what the late Horace Greeley was wont to call "mighty interesting reading."

Private Secretary Halford says that Gen. Harrison is in as good health as he has been for twenty years. Mr. Halford is in a position to know about the President's health, and of course we must believe what he says, and yet one has only to stand in the White House door and listen to the conversation of those who have just shaken hands with the President to discover that nine out of every ten of them believe him to be a sick man. It is to be hoped that it will turn out to be one of those numerous instances in which "appearances are deceptive."

Secretary Noble has given orders by telegraph for a rigid investigation of the charges, made in the dispatches from Oklahoma, that Government officials took advantage of their official positions to secure desirable town lots and homesteads before the bona fide settlers were allowed to enter the Territory, and he says that if he can help it no person shall hold a foot of ground in that territory or a claim that is not open and above board, and entirely free from even a suspicion of fraud.

Senators Sherman and Spooner leave for Europe this week. They will remain abroad several months.

Several names have been prominently mentioned for the vacancy on the Supreme Court bench, among them being Gen. J. A. J. Creswell, of Maryland, and Mr. J. L. Webster, of Nebraska, but those closest to the administration seem to think that Attorney General Miller will be the fortunate man.

Several Pension cases that were rejected by the late administration have been reopened and granted by Assistant Secretary Bussey. They all turn on the question of whether the injuries were received by the applicant while in the "line of duty." Gen. Bussey holds, substantially, in all the decisions he has made, that any injury received by a soldier in any manner, except through his own neglect or wilful carelessness, between the dates of his enlistment and discharge may be considered as occuring in the "line of duty." Gen. Bussey seems to believe in giving the poor soldier, instead of the wealthy Government the benefit of any doubt that may arise in considering his claim for a pension. And, like Gen. Harrison, he is opposed to using apothecary's scales to weigh the merits of the Union veterans.

Political circles were considerable excited last week by the publication of a letter written by Col. Dudley to a friend in Indiana who had asked the Col. to assist him in getting a certain appointment. The following paragraph in the letter was the important one: "Perhaps there is no one man in the country who has done as much for Gen. Harrison during the last twenty years as myself, but because our Democratic friends down in Indianapolis have started the hue and cry on me, brother Ben does not seem to feel that he can afford to recognize me as an acquaintance and consequently I don't take dinner at the White House as might be expected."

Republicans here have found it hard to believe that the President has snubbed Col. Dudley, and yet they find it difficult to place any other construction upon the letter recently published.
