Table with columns for Arrives and Departs, listing times for Oregon Pacific and other services.

Table with columns for Arrives and Departs, listing times for various passenger and freight services.

JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Fly nets at Thompson & Overman's. The Chicago Comedy Co. next Monday evening. Summer buggy robes at Thompson & Overman's.

A good quality of cream cheese can be purchased at F. L. Kenton's. A new barrel of choice mixed pickles just opened at F. L. Kenton's.

Some fine new exempt firemen's badges are being ordered by the board of fire delegates. A workman had his hand injured yesterday while engaged in grading on the street railway.

The Y. W. C. T. U. will give a "mysterious" social on Friday evening, May 10th, at their hall. The penitentiary is now running a heavy force of convicts, there being 204 employed in the shops.

Bland Newman has returned from a trip to Dayton and resumed his old place in Vierick's barber shop. Parker Bros. have just received a new line of candies and fresh vegetables. They keep up with the times.

Mack & Hodges will remove their barber shop to-day into the building next door to the post-office on Ferry street. Mr. James Hinchman is in the city canvassing for an excellent work, "Redpa's" Cyclopaedia of Universal Histories.

Horses will take fright and run, brick or lumber will fall, fire burn or lightning strike. To be safe get an accident policy of Wins in the Traverses. Strauder Froman has sold his residence on Lyon street to George Pfau for $2200, which is nearly double what Mr. Froman paid for it two years ago.

Keep the date of the Chicago Comedy Co.'s opening night in mind. It is Monday, May 13. They play to popular prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents. J. G. Crawford, the artist, starts this morning for the Cascades, where he will embark in a row boat to take a trip down the Columbia, taking views of the scenery.

The Salem papers speak in terms of highest praise of the Chicago Comedy Co., which is now playing there. They will begin a week's engagement in this city next Monday. The building fever has struck Roseburg in earnest and more new houses are constantly under headway. The improvement is general and is taxing the mills to produce the lumber required.

Dr. Denning, of Boston, Mass., will preach in the Congregational church in this city next Wednesday, May 15, both afternoon and evening. He will speak upon the subject of Sunday school work. The last legislature passed a law making it the duty of every one in the state owning fruit trees, to destroy any and all insects that may infest the trees. It is a good law and needs enforcement and observance.

The Ochoco Review gives notice to the Wasco and Sherman county sheep men, that grass will be excellent the coming season, but advises them to fetch along their water as the streams and creeks in Crook county will be dryer this year than ever before within the memory of the oldest resident. The Heppner Gazette pays this deserved compliment to a citizen of this city, Mr. George W. Wright, who has been a citizen of Heppner for the past five years, where he has built up quite a law business, is now nicely settled in his new location—Albany, Oregon. Mr. Wright has invested largely in Albany real estate, which is now on the rise, and in addition to a large law business, which he will no doubt build up there, he will prosper. At any rate this is the wish of his Heppner friends.

A Valuable Descriptive Pamphlet. Mr. B. F. Alley, who is engaged in publishing an elaborate pamphlet on "The Resources and Towns of Linn County," has the first half of the work now in the hands of the printer. It is being printed by Messrs. Royce & Hibler. An edition of 5000 copies will be printed, and Mr. Alley has kindly offered the Board of Trade an additional 5000 at the simple cost of printing, making an edition of 10,000. The work is well written, and will result in much good among the thousands of home-seekers by whom it will be read.

Wheat Shipments. About 125,000 bushels of wheat is now being shipped from the Magnolia flouring mills of this city to the Oregon City mills. The river boats are busy just now carrying it down. About 75,000 bushels remains unsold at the Farmers Warehouse. The price of wheat in this city is 62 to 63 1/2 cents.

ANOTHER WOOLEN MILL.

An Eastern Company Wants to Remove Their Plant to Albany.

Several weeks ago a letter was received by the secretary of the Albany Board of Trade from the Kankakee Woolen Mill Co. of Kankakee, Ill., asking what inducements Albany would offer for the removal of their plant to this city. The letter was turned over to Messrs. Tweedale & Redfield, who answered it. They have now received a second letter from T. G. McCulloh, president of the company, who writes that the company feel favorably inclined toward removing to Albany. The reason for their desire to remove is that they are now dependent upon the St. Louis and Chicago markets for wool, and as they use annually 500,000 pounds they wish to locate nearer the center of the great wool producing region of the West.

The company has now a capital stock of $25,000, and if a capital stock of $50,000 or $100,000 can be raised or a bonus of $20,000, in Albany, they will remove their mills here and enlarge them in a corresponding manner. Albany already has one first-class woolen mill, soon to be in operation, but this is a great country, and this city and surrounding country would only be better off if there are two instead of one. Further correspondence will be had concerning the matter and some definite steps may be taken concerning the proposition.

WORK HAS BEGUN.

Contractor O'Neil is Now Damping Stone at Yaquina Bay.

Mr. O'Neil, who has the contract for delivering at the government works at Yaquina about 10,000 cubic yards of stone, began operations on the first of this month. The agreement requires that the work be completed one year from next August. Mr. O'Neil has spent some time in making arrangements for the rapid handling of the material, and has constructed tramways, laid tracks, put in donkey engines and steam motors besides building and putting into operation several very large and improved barges and scows. The contractor will make a weekly report to Captain Willard Young, United States engineer corps.

COAST NOTES.

There are eighty granges in Oregon with a membership of 3,200. Seven murders have been committed in Grant county during the past twelve months. The Eugene national bank has received its paper money and has put $1,250 in circulation.

Max Pracht, of Ashland, who has been appointed collector of customs at Alaska, will sail for the seal land on the 16th inst. The creamery at Walla Walla, W. T., runs steadily every day, turning out 1500 pounds of butter, which sells at once at 35 cents a pound from the creamery. The industry is thriving surprisingly.

It is estimated that about 220,000 acres have been sown to grain in Walla Walla county for the coming harvest, two-thirds of which is wheat. The wheat crops will aggregate 4,400,000 bushels, worth $2,700,000.

A force of men are now at work constructing a paper mill at Oregon City. Both a woodpulp and sulphite mill will be built, as near as can be learned, and 15,000 cords of cottonwood will be contracted for before the grind begins.

The largest stamp mill in the world is that of the Treadwell gold mine of Alaska. The mill now consists of 240 stamps with a crushing capacity of 600 tons of ore per day. The average monthly output of mill and chlorination works is estimated at $150,000.

Unless further action is taken in the case, a week from next Friday, May 17th, Chee Gong will pay the death penalty in the woods shed at the west end of the court house of Multnomah. This heathen gentleman protests his innocence, and is very crest-fallen.

The government proposes to stock the streams of Walla Walla valley with eastern trout. Judging from the stories told by fishermen, there is room in the Touchet for several thousand. If the government sees this item it will please take the hint.

An exchange east of the mountains says: Surveyors are locating the line of the Oregon Pacific through the southern portion of Crook county. The lines will go south of Prineville, but will afford better facilities for shipping than that section enjoys.

An Astoria man says that a fisherman told him that he had heard that a gang of sea lions from Tillamook had picked up some gill nets lost by fishermen and strung them around on some snags out on Clatsop spit, forming a rude trap, and that they spread themselves around in a huge circle and drive scores of salmon into this trap, and eat them at their leisure.

A fast train has been put on the Southern Pacific railroad, between San Francisco and Monterey. The distance is 121 miles, which is made in three hours and three minutes, or a fraction less than 40 miles an hour including stops. A mile a minute is made on several sections. The Southern Pacific officials say that this is now the fastest regular train west of Chicago.

Deep Snow in the Siskiyou.

Trouble from landslides is feared by the Southern Pacific Company along the Shasta division. Some small slides occurred and the loosening of the ground has been so general in the cuts that much damage is threatened. Snow has fallen to a depth of two feet on the Siskiyou range. The Southern Pacific reported Tuesday that four and a half feet of snow has fallen at the summit of the Central Pacific railroad, and that it was still snowing. Snow plows were hard at work, and the track was kept comparatively clear for the passage of trains. This is the first time the company has ever had occasion to use its snow plows in May.
