JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

The Chicago Comedy Co. next Monday evening. Eye glasses and spectacles at reduced prices at F. M. French's. There is talk of a boot and shoe factory being started in this city.

Three second hand Singer sewing machines for sale very cheap at F. M. French's. An electric telephone line has been constructed from the Postal Telegraph office to the electric light works.

The Fourth of July celebration in this city should be made to surpass any preceding demonstration of the kind ever held in the city. An advertisement for bids for the construction of the Waterloo bridge across the Santiam will be found in our columns this morning.

Col. Eckleson, chief engineer of the O. P. railroad, is busily engaged in building a bridge across the Deschutes river—Harney items. Geo. Marshal, of Portland, is now busy drawing up the plans and specifications for the new school house which is soon to be erected at Corvallis.

Keep the date of the Chicago Comedy Co.'s opening night in mind. It is Monday, May 13. They play to popular prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents. The legal fraternity of Corvallis says the Gazette, together with others, are making arrangements to dedicate the new court house building on or about the 4th of July.

Lyon street presents a lively appearance now, where a score or more men and several teams are grading for the street railway. effort will be made to have the cars running July 4th. Dr. Denning, of Boston, Mass., will preach in the Congregational church in this city next Wednesday, May 15, both afternoon and evening. He will speak upon the subject of Sunday school work.

Mr. Charles E. Wolverton, Mr. F. L. Such and Mr. Ashby Pearce were in Corvallis Wednesday attending to the making and recording of the deeds to the farm recently purchased from Mr. Pearce by Mr. Such. G. G. Glenn, of Salem, who had his leg broken on the day of the horse show in this city by falling upon a defective sidewalk, is in the city, and, it is said, proposes to bring suit against the property owners for damages.

A few hundred strugglers of the Oklahoma "boomers," who got left here, have arrived at Portland, determined "to boom Oregon or bust." The pious people of Oregon should pray the good Lord to deliver us from these "boomers." The new box sheets for the Chicago Comedy Company's next week's performances were printed by C. W. Watts, and are both unique and original. With them seats can be secured for any night's performance and no fear of mistake being made.

The Western Union telegraph construction cars were dropped off here yesterday from the freight. They will remain here long enough to complete the wire to the office on First street. The copper wire will be used for commercial and newspaper dispatch business alone, not being connected with the railroad office. The Benton Leader says: "Albany is raising $1000 to advertise that city in the east. It will spend about one hundred dollars in putting a small advertisement in the principal weekly papers of the western states for a few weeks, and give her local papers the balance of the thousand dollars, she will be putting her money where it will do the most good."

A dispatch to the Oregonian from Seattle announces a race to come off on the 26th inst. between Frank Lewis and Bethune. It is to be for $250 a side and is said to be a square race. Lewis is credited to Corvallis. He is the sprinter who the Benton Leader says ran away from his wife and left her at the Occidental hotel penniless. If he runs a square race or does anything else that is square, he will be going against his grain. Base Ball Challenge. The Monmouth college base ball team has challenged the Albany college nine for a match game. The Albany nine has accepted and the game will probably be played in this city in about a week. Masonic Meeting. St. John Lodge No. 62, A. F. & A. M., will meet at their hall at 7:30 this evening. A full attendance is desired. By order of the Worshipful Master, by Geo. E. Chamberlain, Sec.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Information was received at this city yesterday that a workman named Butterfield, while working Thursday in the stone quarry above Yaquina City where stone is obtained for the government work on the jetty, was caught under a falling mass of rock and was crushed to death.

He was a young man and unmarried. His parents reside in Iowa. A telegram was forwarded to them, announcing his death. The remains of the unfortunate young man were conveyed to Yaquina City, to await a reply from his parents.

The Chicago Comedy Company.

Concerning this excellent company, which will begin a week's engagement in this city, commencing next Monday evening, the Salem statesman says: The drama was "Clear Grit" was produced by the Chicago Comedy company at the opera house last evening to a crowded house, and was well received. Val. E. Love in the dual role of David Holt and Snow Top was all that could be desired of such a clever all round actor as Mr. Love has proved himself to be. Miss Belle Inman, as Reddy, was simply immense, she being the life of the play. Miss Inman is one of the most conscientious actresses who has ever appeared in this city.

Chas. E. Patterson, as Moses Levy, always is excellent in his part. Annie Inman is becoming a great favorite. Mortimer Snow, Louis Benway and Miss Virginia Snow are always good in their parts. James E. Devlin played the part of Harvey, the villain, in good shape, but really his best role is comedy, in which he has few equals and in which he should be kept. To-night the "Lancashire Lass" will be given, when Mr. Devlin will appear in his great character of "A party by the name of Johnson," which is brimful of laughter. In writing of these performances, Mr. J. L. Haynes must not be forgotten. He is an artist, and his splendid solos have been the source of much enjoyment each evening. Tomorrow afternoon a matinee performance will be given and a souvenir will be presented to ladies and children. In the evening, which will be the last appearance of this splendid company, the "Queen's Evidence" will be rendered and the drawing will take place of the little porker which made his debut in "Facing the Enemy," which will be given to the holder of the lucky ticket. No doubt the house will be jammed both nights.

The Narrow Gauge.

The Oregon City Enterprise has the following railroad item: A report is current that two parties living on the west side have entered into a contract with the Narrow Gauge to supply the ties for that road to be used in extending the line from Oswego to Oregon City. Wm. Reid is also said to have been out during the past week looking over the route from Oregon City to Silverton by way of the Abernethy and Mollala prairie. This would make a direct line from Corvallis to Portland, and by crossing the Willamette at Oregon City, entrance would be gained to Portland proper. Whether the advantages of entering on the west side would be sufficient to offset the cost of a bridge at this point is known only to the company itself. Another plan mentioned for the Silverton branch to be extended to a junction with the O. & C. at this place, then by laying an extra rail on the grade already made, to secure a narrow gauge track into East Portland. It must be borne in mind, however, that anything pertaining to railroads is only rumor, till the grade is actually built and the iron laid. Even then they have been known to remain unoperated.

Oklahoma Boomers.

The advance guard of several hundred disappointed Oklahoma "boomers," says the Oregonian, who being unable to secure the much coveted Indian territory land are headed for Oregon, have struck Portland and made their appearance at the immigration board rooms. One of them poured a long story, which it must be confessed was interesting, into a reporter's ear yesterday; but as the grounds upon which his tale was based have been pretty thoroughly covered by the press in general, it will not be reproduced. He said that there are several hundred to have sold their reduced tickets bound for Oregon and Washington territory. They were sold tickets to different points in the West, viz Indian territory, at such reduced rates that one could afford to purchase, and in the event of not being able to secure Oklahoma land, come on West where plenty of "land flowing with milk and honey" could be secured. They claim that they started out to boom and will "boom Oregon or bust in the attempt."

STATE DISPATCHES.

Emil Weber Shot in Portland—The New O. & N. Steamboat.

Special to the HERALD.] PORTLAND, May 10. — Emil Weber, the sporting man, was shot and killed in front of Protzman & DeFrance's shoe store, on the northwest corner of Third and Alder streets, this afternoon by "Sandy" Olds, creating intense excitement in that location. The news of the shooting spread like wild fire throughout the city, but no great surprise was manifested, had blood had existed between the two men for some time.

The men met at the corner, and after speaking a few words, Olds drew his revolver and fired at Weber, the ball striking behind the right ear and coming out of the left side of the neck. Weber immediately fell into the gutter, and while Olds's victim was lying prostrate he dispatched three more balls into him.

The new steamer for the O. R. & N. Co. is lying on the ways at Steffen's yard almost finished. In a week or more she will be ready for launching, it is said, unless something entirely unexpected should occur. Her exterior is all painted, while her cabins are neat and well arranged. She was not built for a passenger boat, and will not draw over thirteen inches water. She will be a freight boat, and will be able to go where no other steambot in this country dare venture. The Annie Faxton, now on the Upper Columbia, is the only steamer that can approach her for draught, and she draws more water than the new boat. No name has been given the craft yet.
