The Building and Loan Association will meet Friday evening to loan $1000 and transact the regular business of the association.

Some one tried to blow up the engine of the Benton Leader the other day. The Leader offers $50 reward for the apprehension of the miscreant.

A fine line of diamonds, including ear rings, fabled gold watches, finger rings, etc., just opened at H. Ewert's. Call and see his new jewelry of latest patterns.

A dispatch from Washington states that the appointment of J. H. Mahoney, of San Francisco, as marshal of Alaska will be made by President Harrison to-day.

No clue as to the whereabouts of James Bannop, the prisoner who escaped from the county jail, has yet been obtained. Sheif Smallman is still at Lebanon searching for him.

An official representative of the Scotch liquidators of the narrow gauge road, says the Newport Republican, was in Newport last week to examine the government works and Yaquina bay with a view of running the road to the coast. He expressed himself well-pleased with the harbor.

J. G. Powell, who recently sold his fine farm at Harney, Oregon, has purchased a tract of over two hundred acres of land six miles south of Cottage Grove in Lane county, and will engage extensively in the stock business. By this transaction Lane county loses and Lane county gains a solid, influential citizen.

Prof. Grimm and Prof. Lake, of the Agricultural College attended a meeting at Taigent on the 4th inst. and lectured. Prof. Lake devoted his time to the subject of fruit pests. The codlin moth is the worst, and he advocated sprinkling with London purple.

A RAILROAD MAN'S VIEW.

Concerning the Plans of the Co. 200 Pacific and the Chicago & Northwestern.

A well posted railroad man of this city who has been watching carefully the progress and circumstances surrounding the building of the Oregon Pacific railroad eastward from this city, expressed to a HERALD reporter recently his views concerning the plans of the road, which are to say the least plausible.

The Chicago & Northwestern he thinks is without doubt interested in and aiding the construction of the road. This company now, he says he has good reason to believe, has a bid in of $1,000,000 for the purchase of the narrow gauge system. It is a part of the plan of the road to improve this road, perhaps widen it to the standard gauge, build a branch from Astoria to connect with the road at some point in Polk county, thence to Albany, to connect with the Oregon Pacific, the Southern Pacific, the Lebanon branch and another branch of the Narrow Gauge to be built from the Coburg line to Albany.

The delay in construction on this end of the line, he thinks is due to the fact that the Chicago & Northwestern company is now using all available surplus funds to purchase the eastern end of the line west to Boise City. As soon as this is completed there will be no time lost in pushing the Oregon Pacific eastward to connect with it at Boise City. The Oregon Pacific will be entered this summer, he thinks, to tap the great wool, grain and stock raising regions of Eastern Oregon, and at no distant day the cars of the Chicago & Northwestern and those of the Oregon Pacific will be running on a through Eastern line to Albany, thence to the sea ports of Yaquina and Astoria.

COAST NOTES. The Corvallis court house will be finished in about a month. A disastrous wind-storm at Tacoma Monday wrecked Bates' new hotel building and killed four men.

The farmers complain that the rains are making the fall grain too rank. It is feared that if the fall is wet, a great deal of the fall grain will tumble.

Work on the Corvallis revetment has been interrupted by the rise in the river, which has prevented the workmen from putting in the footing. But for the rise, the revetment would have been finished by this time.

The new California theater was opened Monday evening to a packed and fashionable house. The play was "Othello," with Edwin Booth as Iago. The appearance of Booth and Barrett was the signal for a burst of applause.

Peter Jackson, the colored pugilist, will return to San Francisco on Wednesday from Nevada and Thursday will start for Portland on his way East and to Europe. At Spokane Falls Jackson will meet Terry Flowers, a colored heavy weight, who is well considered by local fancy.

The county court of Polk county has at length finished the examination of the petition and the remonstrance for and against the building of a court house and find that there are 996 names on the remonstrance and only 910 on the petition. It was proposed by the petitioners to show that there were enough others who were not on either paper or who had changed their minds to over-balance the remonstrance, but the court decided to consider only the papers first filed. So Polk county is not to have a court house, for the present, at least.

A Brave Engineer. The McMinnville Reporter of the 10th gives the following graphic account of heroism on the West Side train near McMinnville: As last Friday evening's north bound train was approaching this city the engineer noticed an old lady starting to cross the track at one end of the crosswalks. He blew the whistle sharply and the lady paid no attention. By this time the train was thundering along and the old lady just about to step between the rails. The engineer seeing that it would be impossible to stop the engine in time to save her, rapidly crawled to the front, got down on the cowcatcher and as the immense engine seemed to strike the lady he grabbed her by the arm and flung her to one side, saving her from a horrible death. On the train stopping the old lady was picked up and proved to be Mrs. Spring. With the exception of a little lameness she was all right. The engineer deserves great praise for his heroic conduct and should receive a substantial douceur from the Southern Pacific company.

Looking for a Location. Mr. H. C. Hubbard, of Humboldt, Iowa, has arrived in the city with his family and is looking for a location. He is a practical druggist, and expects to invest in property in this city and go into business if a suitable opportunity can be obtained.

The Street Railway. The grading on the first three blocks and a half of the street railway has been completed, and the work of laying the rails was begun yesterday. The first spike driving being celebrated in a steady down-pour of rain. The ties and planking has been distributed along Lyon street, and the work is progressing rapidly.

The Ice Works. Another lot of machinery arrived in this city yesterday for the ice works. The building is progressing rapidly, and the establishment will be ready for operation within twenty days.

STATE DISPATCHES.

Salem Will Celebrate the Coming Fourth. Notary Appointed.

The Herald - Special Dispatches. SALEM, May 14.—E. C. Hadden, of Astoria, and R. B. Curry, of Portland, were appointed notaries public to-day.

A numerous signed petition was presented to Mayor Williams to-day asking him to call a mass-meeting for Thursday evening to take initiatory steps to prepare for a fourth of July celebration. The meeting was called accordingly, and the business men are enthusiastic in their determination to make it a success.

The advertising committee of the board of trade has secured contributions amounting to $326 to be used during the year in advertising Salem and Marion county. They expect to raise a good deal more in a few days.

Cotton King. The Chicago Comedy Company presented this thrilling play at the opera house last evening to a delighted audience. The play was pronounced even better than that of the opening evening. Mr. James A. Devlin, as Toby Twindle, brought down the house. Miss Belle Inman as Martha Gibbs, and Miss Virginia Snow, as Lady Valeria, were both charming in their role, while Annie E. Inman, as Leatherbridge, and Charles E. Patterson, as Jasper Plum, sustained the characters admirably. Stephen Plum, his son, showed some clever acting. Indeed the entire company is strictly first-class and the appreciation of the large audience was shown by the continuous and hearty applause. The play was concluded with the laughable farce, "His Marriage a Failure?" To-night will be presented the excellent play, "The Lancashire Lass," in which the comedian, Mr. Devlin, will appear in one of his best parts. It will doubtless be attended by a large audience.
