It pays to patronize a cash store. If you have any doubts on this subject try F. L. Kenton, near the postoffice.

THE OREGON PACIFIC.

Word Comes from New York that Work is to Be Resumed Forthwith.

It is stated on good authority that a telegram has been received by the Oregon Pacific Company at Corvallis from Vice President and Manager Wm. M. Hoag, who recently went to New York City to consult with President T. Edgerton Hogg, to the effect that he would leave that city at once for Oregon, and that arrangements had been made for the immediate resumption of work on the line eastward from this city.

This will be good news to the people of Albany and surrounding country. It has been expected that this road will be completed to Eastern Oregon this summer, and this early resumption of work on the road would certainly indicate that this much and more will be built this year. Mr. Eckleson and a party of surveyors have been in the field beyond the summit for several weeks.

Death of Rev. J. W. Harris.

Rev. J. W. Harris, well known in this city, died at his home in Salem on the 16th inst., after a lingering illness, aged 58 years and 21 days. Rev. Mr. Harris was born in Cornwall, England, on the 25th of April, 1831. He was left an orphan when eight years old, and came to Wisconsin when twelve. He was what is termed a "self-made" man, being entirely dependent on his own exertions. Deprived of educational advantages in childhood and youth, his early manhood was given to heroic effort to make up for the loss he so keenly felt. While successfully winning his way in obtaining an education he professed his faith in Christ, and united with the Congregational church in Union Grove, Wis. His college life was spent in Beloit, Wis. He began the work of the ministry in 1860, and through the years of his active working life, he served with great fidelity and acceptance the churches at Grand Rapids and Evansville, Wis., and those of The Dalles, Albany and Salem, in Oregon. He was a hard student and a conscientious worker. His sermons took high rank in rare application to profound human need, and were charged with the fervor of a deep love for his fellow men and an overmastering desire to do them good. Not a field where he ever labored but he was held in highest respect, and loved as a man ever ready to sacrifice his own comfort and his personal interests to the welfare of any he could serve. An upright man—bold, just, earnest, faithful, loving and true in all the relations of life—he was one of the kind whom the world can ill afford to spare. The remains will be brought to this city to-day, and the funeral will be held at the Congregational church, of which he was formerly pastor. The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. S. G. Irvine, and the other ministers of the city will act as pall bearers.

How to Advertise the Country.

Some of the newspapers are discussing what is the best way to advertise the country in the country in the Eastern states. A very good way is to insert a small advertisement in some of the principal papers in the states whence immigration is expected, simply saying that information about the country may be had by sending to the board of trade or other agency having immigration matters in charge. Then send copies of the local papers for several months to those answering the letters. The weekly record of the papers with such special articles as might be written, would give the very information the immigrant wants. The plan would not cost half what the more ambitious "blowing" costs, and it would reach vastly more people and give them more accurate information.—Benton Leader.

WATERLOO NOTES.

School is progressing nicely.

Dr. Odell visited Waterloo on Sunday last.

J. G. Gross visited Albany on Monday.

John Carns is at Alsea looking for a location.

There is plenty of soda water and we have a fine lot to cross in now.

Campers have commenced to come. Mr. Mapler and a crowd camped here last week.

C. M. Talbot was here on Sunday, and we learn is going to move to his farm near Sodaville.

The pontoon bridge is all fixed up anew, but as it still continues to rain the water does not permit putting it across.

The people of Waterloo are well pleased with the prospects of a bridge. We think it will come, and are very thankful, too, by the way.

Mr. Cord's father and mother arrived on last Monday and will make this their future home. They think this is a fine place to live, and so it is.

Mr. L. M. Curl, county school superintendent, made the school a very pleasant call on Thursday. He explained some very interesting points to the scholars. We need such calls as this quite often.

Grand Lodge I. O. O. F.

THE COMING FOURTH.

Meeting of the Committees Last Night—A Grand Demonstration Promised.

The committees appointed to arrange for the celebration of the coming Fourth of July met at the office of Curran & Monteith last evening.

The minutes of the former meeting of the executive committee were read and approved.

The committee on finance reported that nearly $1000 has been raised, and the list could be swelled to $1200 or $1500.

The committee on fireworks reported, recommending that day fireworks be procured.

Communications were read from the Oregon Pacific and southern Pacific railroads, offering to give half fare rates from all stations on those lines.

The secretary was instructed to invite Hon. M. C. George to deliver the oration of the day.

The questions of music, literary exercises, grounds, etc., were discussed at length, the various committees reporting active progress, which promises to make the coming celebration the biggest demonstration ever held in the city.

Prof. G. A. Walker, principal of the public schools, was present as chairman of the committee on literary exercises, and announced that last evening after school a military company composed of sixty school boys was organized, who will be uniformed and provided with wooden guns, and will be ready to take part in the parade, in which it will form a novel and interesting feature.

HARRISBURG NEWS.

A Burg's outfit found in a Warehouse—New Saw Mill.

HARRISBURG, May 17.—In examining the foundation of the warehouse at Muddy Station this morning to see if any repairs were needed there was found on the middle sill between the joists a satchel containing a first-class kit of burglar tools, consisting of eighty pieces, all in the best of order. The satchel was covered with gray horse hair and was wet with sweat, as if it had been in immediate contact with a horse's back. The finding of this kit caused considerable excitement, but the safest conclusion is that it was some of your metropolitan gentry changing their base of operations, perhaps the escaped James Bannon again on the road.

Harrisburg is now to have a saw-mill. Charles McDonald will commence its construction at once. It will be a steam mill.

The late rains have downed considerable of our early fall wheat, but it is hoped the damage will not be serious. With this exception prospects point to a tremendous yield of grain for this vicinity.

Umprey & Briggs have disposed of all their wheat and will be ready for the new crop. There has been no oats shipped from this point this season, and warehousemen say they will summer follow the thirty-five thousand bushels now on hand.

News from Wallowa county announces the birth of a son to the wife of Will Briggs.

Last Night's Play.

"Facing the Enemy" was presented at the opera house last evening by the Chicago Comedy Company to a crowded house.

The play is a thrilling military drama in four acts, and to say that the immense audience was delighted is but a mild expression of their appreciation of its excellent rendition. Mr. Val E. Loye both surprised and pleased the audience in the perfect manner in which he sustained six different characters. Mr. Chas. Patterson introduced his song, "The Dynamiters," which elicited a hearty encore.

Miss Belle Inman, who has gained a deserved popularity during the engagement of the company in this city, is a charming actress, and her performance last night as Ethel Vinton and John Clem, an army messenger, was no exception. Jas. Devlin, the favorite comedian, as the big hearted fishman, was immense. So in fact was Louis Benway, Monier Snow, Annie Inman and Miss Virginia Snow. One of the cutest parts in the play was the youngest child actress on the stage—the baby, aged one year, "Our Baby" has appeared in several plays, and acts her part as natural as any actress. One thing the Chicago Comedy Co. must be commented on is that the mounting and setting of the stage has been the finest seen in this city. To-night concludes the successful engagement of this excellent company, when the charming comedy drama The Queen's Evidence will be given and the house will be packed beyond its seating capacity. This afternoon a matinee will be given at 2 P. M., when the ladies and children will be presented with a handsome souvenir.

A Pleasant Affair.

The strawberry and floral social given at the W. C. T. U. hall last evening by the ladies of the United Presbyterian church was a very successful and enjoyable affair.

An elegant supper, including strawberries and ice cream, was given by the ladies, and it was attended by a large number of people.

Public Exhibition.

Albany is making such rapid strides that it has been resolved to make a public display of our early vegetables on Saturday, such as new green peas and potatoes, "the first of the season," new turnips and beets, asparagus, young carrots and onions, radishes, lettuce, etc. We will have all of the above delicacies on Saturday; also fine comb honey. Call early and leave your orders. Willamette Packing Co.

STATE DISPATCHES.

A Salem Nymph Arrested—Three More Prisoners.

SALEM, May 17.—William Van Cardow, who keeps the Riverside hotel at East Portland, arrived in this city last night and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Ann Smead, a woman of bad character, whom he charged with stealing $340 from him last Saturday. The woman was taken to East Portland to answer to the charges.

The state penitentiary received three accessions this morning. One was LeBlanc Francois, from Grant county, sentenced to one year for assault with intent to kill. The other two men were from Douglas county. They were W. H. Harrington for one year, convicted of assault with a deadly weapon. He shot a man named Rawlins, who lived at Florence. The other was James F. Levis, convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced for life. Levis' crime was that of killing his son, with whom he had a quarrel over some trivial matter.

The Presbytery of Oregon filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state to-day, with headquarters at Portland. They are to be known as the Presbytery of Oregon in connection with the Presbyterian church in the United States of America. The incorporators are W. H. Landon, Thomas Boyd, J. J. Brown, O. P. S. Plummer, of Portland, and D. O. Ghormly, of East Portland.

J. E. Mager, of McMinnville, was appointed notary public.

The contract was let to-day by the State insurance company for the erection of a one-story brick building, 20 feet front by 50 feet deep alongside the large block now occupied. Z. Craven was the successful bidder at $1850.

The last installment of Oregon's war claims, $38,132.28 was received to-day from Washington by Secretary of State McBride.
