JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Mrs. L. E. Gay is seriously ill at her home in this city.

Fresh strawberries every morning at F. L. Kenton's.

You are liable to be injured at any time. Insure with Winn in the Travelers.

Mrs. J. M. Merrick and son, of Elk City, are visiting relatives and friends in this city.

James S. Simpson, of Santa Cruz, Cal., is spending a few days with his son in this city.

Jas. Lee Irwin, Wm. Breckinridge, Frank Blodgett and Percy A. Young were taken in as new members of F. Co. last evening.

A rock oyster weighing an even pound and 10 inches long was seen at Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office yesterday, it having been brought over from Yaquina.

Mrs. L. E. Blain, Mrs. Henrietta Brown and Miss Elizabeth Irvine went to Salem yesterday to attend the annual meeting of the state W. C. T. U. which convenes to-day.

Messrs. A. B. Woodin, W. F. Read, Robt. Brown, B. M. Huston, Wm. Huston, M. Cowan, N. D. Conn and James Conn will leave to-day for a trip to their mines up the Santiam.

James Kearns, Conrad Meyer's popular baker, has returned from a trip to Tacoma, where he went to visit his daughter.

He was accompanied on his return by his little grand-daughter, who will attend the Sisters' school in this city.

Messrs. Crawford & Paxton have finished some of the finest Columbia river views ever made.

They were obtained by Mr. Crawford on his recent trip up the Columbia for that purpose. He secured nearly a hundred magnificent views.

For the best roasted coffee, cream cheese, beef chipped to order, Golden Star tomatoes, at five cents for 50 cents, and all canned goods in proportion, go to Conrad Meyer.

He also has some of the best and freshest rolled oats in the market.

H. Anderson, who lives across the river from this city left at this office Tuesday a box of mammoth strawberries one of which measured 8 1/2 inches.

The biggest strawberries in Oregon are raised in the fine garden lands adjoining Albany.

SURVIVORS OF THE ALASKAN.

Nine of them reached this city—Jas Boat Yet Missing.

A special train from Yaquina arrive in this city last evening bringing the passengers who arrived on the Willamette Valley, and nine of the survivors of the lost Alaskan, who landed at Cape Perpetua.

These are the same men who were reported from Eugene as rescued at Florence.

Mr. Lee O'Brien, who was sent from Eugene to Florence after the men, was with the party who arrived last night, and to a HERALD reporter he related the particulars of the landing of the men.

There were eleven of them who were rescued and they landed at Cape Perpetua, after being out three nights. They then walked 18 miles to Florence, where they were kindly cared for and where they were met by Mr. O'Brien and were taken on board the schooner Mischief, Capt. J. J. Winant, and reached Yaquina yesterday.

The names of the men who reached this city last night are as follows: M. McLean, E. A. Carlson, M. Keleher, E. Winsel, G. H. Ross, J. Murry, E. Burns, James Hewley, Ed. Sharples.

They were in lifeboat No. 3. There are eighteen men still missing, who are in lifeboat No. 4. The Mischief kept a sharp lookout coming up the coast, but could see no trace of the missing men, neither did the officers of the Willamette Valley, which arrived at Yaquina last evening, see anything of them, or any boat or wreckage.

It is now thought that the men in boat No. 4 will never be found.

The men, on arriving last night, took supper at the Depot Hotel and afterwards went to the Russ House, where they now are. They say that they have been shown every kindness since their landing. They will leave for Portland to-day.

The Correct Thing.

It is probable that the contract for the construction of the Albany street railway cars will be let to manufacturers of this city. This is right. It would be poor policy to spend vast sums of money in advertising the resources of the country and invite manufacturing, and then give to Eastern factories the work which manufacturers bind themselves to perform in equally as good a manner.

Pioneer Woman's Death.

Mrs. S. A. Howell, of Scio, a pioneer woman of 1882, died at her home in Scio on the 17th inst. She was well known at that place, and leaves a wide circle of relatives and friends.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

The Second Regiment Will Join in the Celebration in Albany.

Several days ago the committee of citizens appointed to arrange for the celebration of the coming Fourth of July in this city, designated F. Co. as a committee to make all the arrangements pertaining to the military portion of the celebration. Capt. O. H. Irvine at once sent a telegram to Major Smith, and secured his permission for the six northern companies to come to Albany on that day, provided a majority of them were willing. He then invited each company separately, agreeing to pay all their expenses and furnish entertainment for them on that day. He has now received a formal acceptance of the invitation from the companies at Whiteaker, Marion county, and from the Salem company, and has assurance that the other three companies will join with the Albany militia in the celebration here.

This will insure the presence of the regimental band, and the sham battle and military drills will prove an attraction that will bring a great throng to Albany on that day. The various committees who are arranging for a series of attractions on a grand scale, will meet Friday evening to hear the reports of the sub-committees and make further arrangements for the biggest demonstration of the kind ever held in the city.

At the regular meeting of F. Co. last evening a committee, consisting of Capt. O. H. Irvine, Lieutenants E. D. Cusick and O. A. Archibald, were appointed as a committee on general arrangements from the militia company. They were given authority to appoint all sub-committees to arrange for the military portion of the exercises of the day.

In the Wrong Room.

Edgar Smith, a nice appearing young man, representing R. L. Polk & Co., directory publishers, has been in this city several days in the interest of the firm. The ozone in the bracing atmosphere of this locality was too much for him and he began to imbibe freely from the flowing bowl, as he said, to tone himself down. If this was his object he accomplished it, for the other evening he did not reach his hotel until the wee small hours and then he found his room located in the wrong part of the house. He tried several doors and finally brought up in the bath room. He congratulated himself that he was sober enough to find his room and after undressing went to bed in the bath tub, and was soon snoring peacefully. He was found the next morning by the landlord, still sleeping in blissful repose in the bath tub, the warmth of the hot water apparatus having kept him comfortable. He made all due apologies, and the next evening he retired at sun-down in order to be sure and make no further breaks of that kind.

Another Burglary.

The quiet little town of Aumsville was the scene of a burglary Saturday night. This broke into the store and postoffice kept by Mr. Swank, and all they found which they thought worthy of their consideration was $2, which had been collected by a young man working in the store as subscription for the purchase of a church organ. That was probably the work of the same fellows who broke into L. S. Brower's store at Macleay on Friday night.

An Exciting Runaway.

The untamed steed of Charles Metzgar, the real estate man, ran away yesterday, and went tearing down First street attached to his wonderful "one boss shay." He ran into the dray belonging to George Savage and this usually quiet horse also started down First street at a 2:40 gait, close behind the other, scattering pedestrians in all directions. Both were stopped without any damage.

SHEDD ITEMS.

Mark Hulbert, of Albany, was seen upon our streets one day last week.

Mrs. E. Holmes has been quite sick for several days, but is now some better.

Our school board are contemplating some needed improvements on the school house and about the grounds.

Mrs. L. Gentry, of Brownsville, who has been visiting friends and relatives for the last two or three weeks, returned home a few days ago.

Dr. Gaff and wife met with a slight accident a few nights ago, by the overturning of their buggy, though fortunately neither was hurt.

The many friends of Mr. James Coon will be pleased to learn that he is recovering from his protracted illness and will soon be around again.

W. W. Yantis returned from Prineville last week and brought back part of his herd of horses, and is now busily engaged in breaking them to ride and drive.

We have a new carpenter shop and a new planing machine Mr. Becker and Mr. Coon are kept busily engaged in telling their friends how sharp the knives in the planer are. They have had their fingers planed by it already.

STATE DISPATCHES.

Yaquina Passengers—The State W. C. T. U. Salem News.

Special to the Herald: YAQUINA, May 21.—The Willamette Valley arrived at 3:20 p. m. to-day with the following passengers: J. W. Hill, Mrs. W. Nash, Mrs. H. A. Comes, Wm. Bushover, J. Hood, W. H. Baker, Mrs. M. A. Lee, Miss Hattie Frost, S. C. Myers, K. Fassler, J. M. Currier, J. H. Bates, J. R. Meyers, W. Ersking, A. W. Rose, Wm. Chin, S. E. Reiter, Mrs. Reiter and two children, J. S. Newland, Fred Shaw, N. Marshall and C. Axtell.

FROM SALEM.

SALEM, May 21.—Several members of the W. C. T. U. arrived in this city to-day to attend the annual convention, commencing tomorrow. The executive council held a secret session this afternoon, at which were present Mrs. Anna R. Riggs, of Portland, president, Mrs. Henrietta Brown, of Albany, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Rebecca M. Robb, of East Portland, recording secretary, Miss Elizabeth Irvine, of Albany, treasurer, Mrs. L. A. Nash, of Corvallis, superintendent of the press department, Mrs. R. T. Rankin, of Portland, superintendent of the department of "unfermented wine," Mrs. C. J. Condon, of Eugene, superintendent of the department for "introduction of temperance into colleges and seminaries," and Mrs. M. E. R. Edwards, of Newberg, evangelist.

The residence of C. S. Riely in the heart of the city, was broken into during last night and ransacked. Mrs. Riely was away from home and her husband doesn't know what, if anything, was taken. A bureau was emptied on the floor and there was a general tear-up.

The state board of horticulture met in this city to-day at the residence of R. S. Wallace and held a short session. The members visited Mr. Wallace's fruit farm in Polk county this afternoon.

An Enterprising Photographer.

We took a look into Greenwood's Fine Art Studio the other day, and were surprised at the improvements. His skylight and studio equals the eastern galleries, and his pictures show the most talent we have ever seen on the coast. He has the finest scenic backgrounds we ever saw, and the way his rooms are crowded with customers show that his work is highly appreciated. He is bound to be up with the times. His instruments are of the finest and he is prepared to give his customers everything in the picture line they can obtain in the Eastern cities. We are proud that Albany has secured such a competent artist, and would say to all who want pictures, go to Greenwood's, where you will be sure to get full satisfaction.
