THE NEWSPAPER REPORTER.

The philosophers of the country tell us that the newspaper reporters must be suppressed. In their efforts to furnish their readers something fresh, interesting and readable, they are terrorizing society and unless something is done to stop their mad career they will soon revolutionize things.

One in Chicago, and he must be an uncwicked chap, pretends to be convicted of sin, visits the prominent clergy of the city and with tears in eyes asks, "What he must do to be saved?"

Yet the newspaper reporters are doing a great good in digging up and exposing to light darkness, placing simultaneously before the readers of the world the news of every nation, in fact keeping everybody posted, and furnishing in the newspapers of the country a quantity of news and readable articles on the topics of the times that would fill to overflowing every library of the country if presented in book form.

CROP REPORTS.
