JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

A campmeeting is in progress at Sodaville. G. W. Simpson pays the highest cash price for wool. Buy your binding twine of Knapp, Burrell & Co. About a dozen excursionists left this city yesterday on the Grants Pass special. Strawberries five cents per box, and fresh every morning. Leave orders for canning at Brownell & Stanard's. The first 700 feet of the street railway has been accepted by the company and that portion of the road paid for. Eleven splendid prizes free. A coupon given gratis with every 25 cent purchase at Blum's, opposite the Revere House. A profusion of fresh fruits, including peaches, apricots, bananas, limes, oranges, etc., etc., just opened at F. H. Pfeiffers'. A crate of Oregon cabbage fresh from the garden just opened at Bardue & Underwood's, also a lot of the best brands of fruit jars. Indications were never better for a bountiful harvest throughout the Willamette Valley. Linn county will have a much larger yield than last year. A huge rhubarb leaf was exhibited in Wallace, Thompson & Company's show window yesterday. It measured 17 feet in circumference. Matthews & Washburn have secured the services of Mr. Martin Ludwig, who is a first class plumber and are prepared to do all kinds of work. The work on the street railway is being delayed by the non-arrival of the iron. It was all due here a week ago, but only a small portion has been received. Mr. Fred Blumberg is making arrangements for the erection of a fine two-story brick building on his property on First street opposite Deyoe & Robson's. A pleasant social party was given at the residence of Jay W. Blain last evening by the young people of the Christian Endeavor Society of the U. P. church. Do not forget to get your seats for the return engagement of the Chicago Comedy Co. next week. The opening play Monday evening will be "The Lottery of Life." Just received at Will & Stark's a new line of jewelry in latest patterns, including pins, charms, lockets, and gold and silver jewelry of all kinds. Call and see them. Hannibal Smith is appointed to the railway mail service from Roseburg, Or., having passed the civil service examination, and will run on the Portland and Corvallis route. In the list of officers of the A. O. U. W. published yesterday the name of H. Ewert was incorrectly used for that of H. Ebert, the latter having been elected to the office of vice chancellor. Mr. O. P. Brandt is now engineer on the Lebanon train. Pat Casey will leave for a trip to Southern Oregon, and will probably manipulate the throttle on the southern division of the road. The first quarterly meeting for this conference year will be held in the Evangelical church in this city, corner Fourth and Lyon street tomorrow, June 2d. Rev. C. C. Poling, P. E., will preach both morning and evening. Preaching also this evening. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Railroad tickets are sold to all points East by F. A. Burkhardt, opposite the First National bank from $5 to $10 cheaper than they can be had over any other line. Call and see him if you want to go East. For the best roasted coffee, cream cheese, beef chipped to order, Golden Star tomatoes, at five cents for 50 cents, and all canned goods in proportion, go to Conrad Meyer. He also has some of the best and freshest rolled oats in the market. The Chicago Comedy Co. are playing to crowded houses at Corvallis and the general verdict is that it is the best company that has ever visited that city. The opening play at the opera house next Monday night, "The Lottery of Life, or Terry the Swell," is full of dramatic situations and gives the favorite comedian, Jas. Devlin, a great character, and no one should fail to see it. The executive committee of the board of regents of the Agricultural College met in Corvallis on Friday and Saturday and considered matters relating to the proposed new buildings on the college farm. Plans for a dormitory and a mechanical hall were adopted. For the mechanical hall the plans of L. W. Chase were adopted. This building will be of brick, two stories high. It will be 75x38 feet with an office on the side front. It will be situated on the five-acre tract purchased of Prof. Arnold and nearest the college. Buy your binding twine of Knapp, Burrell & Co.

A HOME ENTERPRISE.

A. J. Anslin & Co. Will Construct the Albany Street Cars.

The contract for the construction of two cars for the Albany street railway line has been let to A. J. Anslin & Co., of this city. The cars will be 18 feet long outside and 12 feet in the clear, being large enough to be propelled by motor power if desired. The contract price for the cars is $950 for each. The contractors bond themselves to build equally as good cars as can be bought in the East. They will be finely finished and provided with all modern improvements. This shows that Albany is a manufacturing city in no small way, and it is a credit to the city that such work can be done here.

Down at Astoria.

The Astoria Pioneer says: D. B. Montfeld, of Albany, and E. Ford and C. Kennedy, of the Oregon Pacific railroad, were in the city yesterday investing in real estate. These gentlemen are very much pleased with Astoria, and are of the opinion that Astoria will have not only one, but two or three railroads within the next two years. Mr. Kennedy stated to a Pioneer reporter, in answer to the question as to the terminus of the Chicago & Northwestern, that in his opinion the road was pushing toward Astoria. He has so much confidence in the belief that the road will come to Astoria that he invested in considerable property yesterday. He further stated that a number of Albany and Corvallis capitalists were coming to Astoria to invest, providing real estate was not too high.

A Novel Parade.

The children are awaiting with pleasure the coming of Sells Brothers and Barrett's united shows. The children's dream of fairyland, exemplified with tiny golden chariots representing the gems of fairy lore—Old Mother Goose, Cinderella, Robin Hood, the Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe, Santa Claus, Little Red Riding Hood, Blue Beard and the elfin fairy who coach will tickle the children, as nothing in the way of a circus parade ever did before. It is said that he who makes two blades of grass grow where but one grew before is a philanthropist, and we might add that he who makes glad the hearts of all childhood as they have never before deserved to be crowned High Priest of Fairyland. Sells Brothers and Barrett will be remembered by the children with gratitude and pleasure. On Wednesday, June 19th, at about 10 o'clock, this great spectacular pageant will appear on our streets.

An Eminent Lecturer.

Col. L. F. Copeland, who is acknowledged to be one of the most popular, eloquent, witty and instructive lecturers of America, will deliver two lectures at the opera house in this city on the evening of June 6 and 7, the subjects being "What's to Hinder?" and the "Future of the Republic." Mr. Copeland lectured in Albany about a year ago and delighted his audiences as he does everywhere. The price of admission will be 40 cents for single lecture or 75 cents for both. College and public school pupils will be admitted for 25 cents for single or 40 cents for both lectures. Tickets can be procured at Blackman's.

On the Narrow Gauge.

On the lines of the narrow gauge on the east side the tie-up continues. Parts of the machinery of the engines were found missing when the new crews arrived to take charge of the trains. On the west side new men have been found to take the places of the old employees and trains run there regularly as formerly. It is expected the trains on the other line will be made all right in a few days, when the schedule will once more be observed.

Tramp Killed.

Wednesday night at Drain, a genteel looking young fellow, though a tramp, boarded the north bound freight train, but had ridden only a short distance as his body was found on the track about a mile north of the station, in a horribly mutilated condition. The head being severed from the body, and both legs and in fact the entire body was a mangled mass. He was about twenty-two years of age. Who the poor fellow was no one knows. He was simply a tramp.

Saturday's Bill.

Of fare for Sunday. To-day we will have raspberries, strawberries, green peas, new potatoes, new carrots, beets, turnips, young onions, cabbage, radishes, lettuce, asparagus. A 1 grated horse radish. We will have all the above to-day to tickle the palates of the Albany epicures. Willamette Packing Company.

Dead Convict.

Chas. O'Donnel, serving a term in the penitentiary, sentenced from Douglas county, convicted of larceny, died Thursday morning. Consumption was the cause of his death. He was in three years, dating from January, 1887.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. W. Rayburn, of Corvallis, was in the city yesterday. Walter S. Geary, a well known piano tuner of Portland, is in the city. James Powell, T. J. Overman, F. L. Kenton and others went to Corvallis last evening on a pleasure trip. C. C. Bunnell, of Idaho, who has been spending several days in this city with F. M. Redfield, left yesterday for California.

STATE GRANGE.

The Last Day's Proceedings—Adjournment Last Night.

Special to the Herald. SALLIS, May 31.—At the session of the state grange this morning was taken up the special order, of consideration of the report of the committee on the Agricultural college, recommending the change in the law so that a majority of the regents must be practical farmers, and that the curriculum of studies shall be only practical studies which will specially aid the work of agriculture and practical mechanics. Prof. Grimm was called out and explained the working of the college. Mrs. Casto offered a resolution asking that one or more women be appointed upon the board of regents of the Agricultural college, which was adopted. A memorial exercise was held in memory of the late Put Darden, the deceased master of the national grange. Judge Boise delivered a "fine tribute to the memory of the deceased." Prof. Grimm and Lake, of the Agricultural college, addressed the grange. Resolutions on the death of Past Chaplain Shunway were read and adopted. At the afternoon session a resolution was passed asking that the Agricultural college organize experiment stations in both Eastern and Southern Oregon. A resolution was passed requesting congress to pass a bill giving a title to the land sold to settlers by the Northern Pacific railroad, and that the unsold land be restored to the public domain, on the land claimed by that road between Walula and Portland. An amendment was made to the by-laws dropping masters of pomona granges and presidents of county councils from the voting members of the State Grange. On Thursday the Marion county Pomona grange sent a recommendation to the Pacific Rural Press, which was received with approval. Resolutions in favor of government aid in opening the Columbia river were favorably received. Resolutions relative to a change in the law in regard to exemptions of property, regarding the election of United States senators, and salary of the lecturer was referred to committee on appropriations. The committee on co-operation recommended closer co-operation in business and better study of the situation. The finance committee reported the books of the secretary and treasurer correct. The grange refused to amend the by-laws changing the meetings of the state grange to any other locality than Salem. The transportation committee reported favorably upon the Columbia river improvement proposition and the grange approved the report. A recess from noon until 3 p. m. was taken to allow the grange to participate in the memorial exercises. The evening session was occupied in giving the fifth and sixth degree to a class of fifty, after which the session adjourned sine die.

Mysterious Death.

The remarkable death of H. D. White at Burns, in Eastern Oregon, on the 23d inst. As nearly as can be ascertained, the death of Mr. White was caused by suffocation from carbonic acid gas. A coroner's inquest was held over the remains of the deceased, and the above conclusion as to the cause of the death was arrived at. Mr. White was at the time of his death with Dean Horton, herding horses. The two were camped in Stein's mountains in what is known as the "goats" of Harney City. On the night of the 15th inst. a deep snow fell in the Stein's mountains, and to protect themselves from the vigorous cold the men had kindled a small fire in their tent in a common stove kettle. The snow fell to the depth of nearly two feet, and the tent being a small, tight one, the pot of coals and embers kept burning in the tent generated what is known as carbonic acid gas, which proved fatal to H. D. White and almost fatal to his comrade, Dean Horton, who was much the stronger of the two men, which fact perhaps is all that saved him from the same fate. Mr. Horton remained in an unconscious state for several days, and has not entirely recovered from the effects of the shock up to this date.

Sad Affair.

Mrs. Thomas Vaughn committed suicide last Tuesday night in Pendleton by drowning. She had been very ill for several weeks and while her son, who had been sitting up with her, left her bedside for a few moments in order to escort a young lady home, who had assisted him in his weary vigil until midnight, Mrs. Vaughn, although she had promised to lie perfectly quiet, sprang from her bed and hurried to the river, where she had just strength left to throw herself into the edge of the water—about six inches deep—where she was found dead. Her son thinks he could not have been absent more than two minutes, but it was long enough for the poor woman, in a delirium of fever, to seek the cooling waters of the Umatilla.
