An actor's luck is illustrated by the terrible accident at Johnstown, where a company played, and being too late to catch the train for the next town, hired wagons to transport them just in time to escape certain death. In spite of the fact that actors travel more than any other profession, none seem ever to get hurt in any kind of accident. It is as hard to kill an actor, as it is a printer.

S. B. Bennett and wife of Fort Collins, Colorado, are visiting their daughter Mrs. Geo. W. Smith, in this city. They are highly pleased with Oregon and will probably locate here.

To the Mines.

The Salem Statesman says: Prof. S. A. Starr and A. S. Huntley, of the Eureka mining company, started yesterday with a force of seven or eight able bodied young men and the necessary supplies, to commence active operations in their valuable claims in their Santiam mining district. They are positive in the belief that the Eureka will prove one of the richest mines ever found on the coast and their intention now is to open it up ready for hydraulic work, the machinery for which has been ordered and will be put in place as soon as the preparatory work is completed. The Eureka company is composed of men of means and push, the two principal ingredients necessary to successful mining in the Santiam country, and some successful reports may be expected from that region before the summer is out.

THE COURSE OF TRUE LOVE.

How It Was Interrupted by an Angry Parent and a Big Six-Shooter.

From Jefferson comes a romantic story of a young Lochinor, who won his bride in the face an angry parent armed with a revolver.

A young man from that place, a brother of the bridegroom, who was in the city yesterday, stated the following: Fred Smith wood and won a daughter of a farmer named, Ewell, who has been teaching school there. The girl's father opposed the match and refused to allow young Smith to visit her. About three weeks ago the young couple were secretly married, the girl in the meantime still teaching school. Thursday when the school closed young Smith went to the school house after his bride and the angry parent went also. When Smith attempted to accompany the girl her father drew a revolver, which the young man took away from him. On attempting to leave the school house one of Mr. Ewell's neighbors confronted him with a shotgun. Young Smith was taken to Jefferson and lodged in the calaboose on a charge of abduction. During the night he broke jail, and now proposes to carry off his bride in spite of the angry parents or a whole arsenal of shooting-irons.

Arrested at Tangent.

A young man giving the name of Guy R. Lee, claiming to represent Wallace's Comedy Co., has been in the city a couple of days. He secured the opera house for the company in July, and employed two or three different young men to travel as advance agent for the company. From each of these he attempted to borrow sums ranging from $5 to $50, and even tried to induce one of them to deposit his watch with him. From one of the young men, Frank Merrill, he obtained $5 and agreed to return it when they arrived at Eugene, but instead of meeting his newly employed advance agent at the train, he left town and went to Tangent, leaving a board bill at the St. Charles Hotel unpaid. Mr. Merrill had taken his valise to the hotel preparatory to going to Eugene, and this he states Lee claimed as his own. Marshal Hoffman went to Tangent and arrested him and brought him to this city last evening. He was arraigned in Justice Humphrey's court on a charge of the larceny of the valise, and will be examined at 9 A. M. this morning. He denies all the charges and says he did not obtain any money from young Merrill. The Wallace Co. and the notable characters he described as composing it is most likely a great big fake.

The George Woodthorpe Co.

"Fanchon" was presented by this excellent company at the opera house last evening. In this play the company surpassed all previous efforts, and the audience was delighted as was shown by the hearty and continuous applause. George Woodthorpe as Fanchon fairly captivated the audience in her charming rendition of the part, while Miss Lizzie Lawrence played the part of Fadet, the witch, with remarkable cleverness and success. Miss Ream Stover in her role was most pleasing as usual. The other characters were admirably sustained, and the play was presented in a most successful manner. To-night the company will play "The Two Orphans," which is counted their strongest and best. A week of more solid enjoyment and her plays has never been presented by any company in this city. There will doubtless be an immense audience on this, their last night. This afternoon a matinee will be given, when "Caprice" will be played and a gold watch given away. A gold watch will also be given away at the evening performance.

The Crop Outlook.

A careful investigation as to the crop outlook in the Willamette Valley through information obtained from leading farmers in different localities, reveals the fact that the crop will be somewhat spotted, being above an average yield in some localities and very light in others. This difference is found even in the same fields. The crop seems to have been affected by the prolonged rains, followed by excessive weather, which scorched the wheat in low places where the water stood. The effect of this damage to wheat upon the general yield is as yet difficult to determine, but from the best reports obtainable it is not believed that it will fall below an average yield. Early fall grain is almost ready for harvest, and aside from the few spotted places will yield enormously.

A Naughty Bull-Dog.

Mr. Hess and family, who have been in the city for a few days looking for a location, were out riding yesterday with R. F. Ashby, of the Oregon Land Company, when the party stopped at the residence of John A. Crawford to get some cherries. They found no one at home, and as Oregon's fine fruit is always free to newcomers, the party decided to help themselves. Just as the gentlemen were doing so a genuine bull dog came bounding around the corner of the house. One of the men climbed the cherry tree and the other mounted the fence, which positions they were forced to keep until the dog could be pacified, much to the amusement of the remainder of the party.

Given Thirteen Days.

I. M. Schlosser who was arrested for using abusive language to his divorced wife, was arraigned in Recorder Henton's court yesterday morning. He was fined $25, in default of which he was given thirteen days in the city jail.

YAQUINA BAY NOTES.

From the Yaquina Republican.] The work of dumping rock on the north jetty was commenced on Monday.

Hon. Seymour Condon, of Eugene will deliver the Fourth of July oration at Newport.

The north jetty is being pushed rapidly toward deep water. In two weeks it will be constructed to low water mark.

Dr. C. E. Miles, of the Siletz agency will move to Santiam City on July 1st, he having been appointed health officer for Yaquina Bay by the governor.

During the low tides of the past week a large amount of the coal in the hold of the Yaquina Bay could have been removed if a crew had been put to work. At low tide there was only a few inches of water and hardly any sand over the coal.

Over fifteen thousand dollars worth of lots changed hands in the city of Newport and additions during the past ten days. The sales were all for cash and short time, and to various purchasers, who bought independent of each other.

A Female Terror.

A female book agent is doing the city. She is a holy terror and can talk a man's arm off more gracefully than any patent medicine man going. She kept half the business men on the street dodging yesterday to keep out of her way. She glided into the editorial rooms of the Herald in the afternoon, and tackled the horse editor, who was in the middle of a dissertation on the crops. She talked sweetly for half an hour without stopping, and it was only on a plea for the Johnston and Seattle sufferers that the horse editor escaped from plunking down for her dear little book his last $4 which he had been saving up to blow in on the Fourth.

The Eastern Oregon land office, originally located at Drewsey, Grant county, will be moved to Burns, Harney county.

Mary's Peak, Benton county, is the highest mountain in the Coast range, and is becoming quite noted. Several parties have ascended it this season for the grand view obtained from it. It is 4347 feet in height.

Two incendiary fires have occurred at Corvallis during the past week. Mayor Lee has offered a reward of $50 for the arrest and conviction of the firebug. Citizens are very indignant, and a rope with a noose in one end is ready for the guilty man, if he is caught.

The hay harvest is under good headway in all parts of the Willamette valley. The timothy crop is heavy, and those who sowed the cheat for hay have an exceptionally heavy crop, it standing as high as a man's shoulders in many fields. The cheat makes good feed, and where, a few years ago, it was comparatively unknown, is now being largely raised.

The crops are falling short in Harney valley of what has been estimated, in consequence of the extremely dry season. However, in some locations the yield will be quite heavy. As soon as the farmers take to sowing their grain in the fall, says the Harney Items, they will be rewarded with good crops every year. The present season has demonstrated the fact that fall sowing is what is required.

The railroad from Yaquina via Luckiamute Falls, Dallas, and Spring Valley to a point on the present narrow gauge is now nearly an assured fact. This will be a blessing to the country through which it is intended to run, as it will traverse some of the finest wheat growing sections of the state and pass through some of the best timber belts in the Coast range.
