"Katti" at the Museum.

Concerning this great play, which will appear at the opera house Friday and Saturday, the Boston Traveller says: The preliminary season at the Boston Museum opened last evening with the presentation of "Katti, the Family Help," a farcical, domestic comedy in three acts, by Mr. Chas. S. Foxcroft. The title role was cleverly given by Miss Morietta Nash, who made a hit as the German maid of all work, and was generously applauded for her original work. Her dancing was graceful, and the sabot dance especially was heartily applauded.

Of the piece little may be said, except that it is light and abounds in the most mirth-producing mistakes and misapprehensions, which are well managed and so presented as to make the most possible of every situation. An exceedingly funny delineation of the part of Finnick Fluffy was given by George Lauri, his efforts to master the clarinet being extremely ludicrous. His dancing was a feature of his presentation that called out deserved applause.

The Richard Fluffy of Mr. Harry B. Bell was a commendable piece of work, and was given with spirit and a "go" that was taking.

DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE.

A Cabin Burned and the Occupants Walk 70 Miles to this City.

Shortly after midnight Monday night three young men of this city, M. S. Monteith, Fred W. Ross and Clyde Hill, arrived in this city, after a walk of 70 miles from the hot springs 30 miles above Gatesville on the line of the Oregon Pacific.

They had been spending several days in company with Claud Mansfield, who had a cabin and owns a claim there. On Friday afternoon while they were absent from the cabin it caught fire and burned down, with all the contents, including three or four months' provisions, $40 worth of blankets, guns, etc. A watch and some gold and silver money which was in the fire was seen at the jewelry store of F. M. French yesterday in a half-trusted condition.

Being left without provisions the young men remained one day, living on fish, and then started on foot for this city, arriving two days later after a tramp of 70 miles. The loss on the cabin and contents was about $500. Two of the party, Clyde Hill and Fred Ross are mere boys and were nearly exhausted from their long tramp.

An Exciting Explosion.

Yesterday morning Messrs. Will Brooks were loading blank cartridges for use in the sham battle on the Fourth. They had extracted the balls from about 1500 shells, and had piled them up on the work table in the rear of their gun store. Some boy, who wanted to see some fun, dropped a piece of lighted paper into the loose powder upon the floor. This ignited the shells, which still contained powder, and the result was a deafening explosion. Henry Everett, who was standing near, was knocked down and his hair was singed and a few slight scratches inflicted. Window lights were knocked out by the explosion, which sounded like a little sham battle itself. No serious damage was done, although the loss of shells will amount to $30 or $40.

Remains Removed.

Dr. Geary, of Halsey, on last Thursday removed the remains of his sister from the graveyard near Brownsville to Eugene City, where he re-interred it by the side of other relatives buried there. On digging into the grave the corpse, which had been buried over 24 years was found to still retain some features by which it could be recognized. The dress and hair looked very natural. The coffin, with the exception of the lid, was sound and showed no signs of decay. A cedar board having been placed in the bottom of the grave, was still sound, which undoubtedly had something to do with the soundness of the coffin.

A Hundred Years Old.

J. R. Syron, of Polk county is perhaps the oldest man in Oregon. His hair is white with the snow of many a winter; if he lives until September 25th, he will be one hundred years old. His mind is clear and his memory remarkably good. He rises early and gets the beauty and freshness of the morning; his time is spent mostly in reading and walking.

First Fire Fire.

Julius Gradwohl says in reference to the Seattle fire that one of his insurance companies, the Royal Northwest Union and Lancashire, will relieve the Seattle sufferers of their distress to the amount of $50,000, actually paying that amount of losses. Mr. Gradwohl represents $75,000,000 in nine good solid companies, and he advises everybody to protect themselves from fire by insuring their property before it is too late.
