JOTTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Wheat is worth 62 cents. Save money by buying a year's supply of boots and shoes at cost at W. F. Read's. G. L. Blackman will sell his entire stock of books and stationery at cost for 30 days. Thomas Brink has folding camp chairs, camp stools, woven wire cots and canvass cots. About 100 pleasure seekers from Portland, Salem and this city left on yesterday's train for Yaquina. Valuable hot and mineral springs have been found on the eastward line of the Oregon Pacific railroad, and will be improved. The committee on streets and public property from the city council has made a contract for nails for the city's use at $4.20 per 100 pound keg. Five tramps were arrested the other evening, who were trying to effect an entrance into the residence of Thomas Monteith, Jr. They were put to work on the streets. F. L. Kenton has opened another case of Crystal baking powder. This powder gives good satisfaction and sells at 50 cents per can. A beautiful piece of glassware is given with every can. Several property owners on First street have begun the work of grading the street to conform to the grade of the street car line. Until this is completed the street will be in a bad condition. It is pretty certain that a gang of counterfeiters are at work in Oregon. The country is afflicted with the presence of a lot of men of questionable reputation, and many bogus 25 cent and half dollar silver pieces and $5 gold coins have been put in circulation. The Corvallis Times says: A company of railroad builders are endeavoring to contract with the O. P. for the completion of their road to its eastern extension. Should such a contract be let we may expect work to be resumed in earnest and rushed until the road is completed.

PERSONAL.

T. H. Cone, of Ashland, is in the city. E. A. Parker, Jr., left yesterday for Yaquina. Judge Strahan has returned from a trip to Portland. Miss Etta Lewis, of Harrisburg, is visiting in this city. E. L. Power left yesterday for his future home in Tacoma. D. H. Monteith and C. W. Watts went to Yaquina yesterday. Dr. E. A. McAllister went to Yaquina yesterday to be gone until Monday. Mr. Peter Hume of Brownsville, has been in the city during the week. Jay W. Blain will leave to-day for Yaquina, where his family are sojourning. Miss Lida Rumbaugh and Miss Bertha Martin, of this city, are visiting in Corvallis. D. E. Vernon, foreman of the East Portland Vindicator, was in the city yesterday. Mr. A. B. Slauson and wife, of Portland, are in the city on their return from a trip to Yaquina. S. B. Eakin, cashier of the First National Bank of Eugene, was in the city yesterday enroute to Yaquina. L. W. Deyoe and family and Geo. P. Warner and family returned yesterday from the mountains. District Attorney H. H. Hewitt and Hon. W. R. Bilyeu have been in Salem during the week on legal business. Mr. J. G. Gross, the genial boniface of the Waterloo hotel, was in the city yesterday with his family en route to Yaquina. W. M. Wolverton, of Spokane Falls, brother of Hon. C. E. Wolverton, of this city, was in town yesterday on his way to the McKenzie hot springs. O. H. Irvine, F. M. French, Geo. Fish and T. J. Overman will leave to-day for a trip to Fish Lake. The biggest trout yarn of the season may be expected on their return.

For the finest silver polish in the market go to H. C. Gwert's.

THE STATE'S FRUIT CROP.

General Prospect Is Fair, Considering the Dry Weather—Melons, Potatoes, Etc. Mr. H. E. Battin, the well-known commission merchant, of Portland, has taken a good view of the fruit crop throughout the state, beginning at Jackson county. He says the crop promises fair, considering the exceedingly dry weather. A large portion of the peaches, particularly the earlier varieties, are small and not of the quality as might be expected. The prune crop will be about one-half that of last year. A few orchards are well loaded, but they are the exceptions, the same will apply to plums. A fair crop of apples may be looked for.

Jackson county will come in with her usual growth of melons about five days earlier than last year. They will not be so large as last year's crop. Large numbers of melons are being received from California, but they are of small size. The melon crop at The Dalles is also small. Early apples are scarce, and dealers are paying $1 per box for them. Large quantities of potatoes are coming in from California for about 1 cent per pound. The Oregon potato crop is about ripe, but in many places there will be small potatoes and few in a hill.

Who Should Keep Up the Streets. A question that it would be well for the citizens of Albany to consider, just now, is the justice and equity of making property owners bear the expense of grading, making and keeping in repair the streets adjacent to their property. These streets are public property and cannot be used for private purposes in any manner to discommodate the public uses thereof. Their grading is for the public benefit and inures to the benefit of the property owner no more than to his near and remote neighbors who pass over it or are interested in traffic, which passes over it, yet the property owner is compelled to bear the burden of making and repairing it, often a very costly and grievous burden. According to all views of justice and right the city should bear the cost of street construction and repair, and the property owners be called upon to pay only their proportion as other city taxes are paid, for all are equally interested in well made and kept streets as well as the adjacent property owners. This question is pertinent just now, as the council will soon consider an ordinance bearing upon the subject, and the citizens should make their wishes and opinions known.

The River. Notwithstanding the extreme low water in the Willamette river the O. R. & N. and the O. P. light draught boats continue to run. The channel is soon to be improved and deepened on the bars by the government snag boat. It is stated that between Portland and Dayton there is in the Willamette river at no point less than thirty-six inches of water. From that point to Corvallis the depth is not less than thirty inches, and will soon be increased to three feet by the operations of the snag boat, which is now busily at work at Corvallis.

Fire Near Monroe. A small conflagration took place Friday near Monroe in which the farm house of Mr. Tozier, about four miles west, was totally consumed. The fire caught from a defective flue. It was first discovered at 11 A. M., but as the men were all in the field and the water was unhandy it was impossible to check it. The principal losers are the owner of the house, Mr. Tozier, Mr. Goodman and Mr. Woolsey; the latter gentlemen lost nearly everything in the shape of provisions, clothing, etc. One of the Corvallis hose teams was present and helped to save some of the household effects.

New Church Edifice. The Rev. Dr. Deere, of Riverside, Cal., who is spending his vacation in this city, is here by invitation of Ashby Pearce, Esq., to superintend the erection of a Universalist church on the lots donated by Mr. Pearce to the Universalist General Convention. The work is to be immediately commenced and pushed to completion. This city will be largely indebted to Mr. Pearce for this important addition to its attractive forces.

A Prolific Cow. The Benton Leader says that Jesse Brown has a five-year-old cow that has had seven calves within the past three years. All of them lived, and he has sold four of them for $75 and has the other three and the cow left. There were three pairs of twins and one single calf. Mr. Brown lives in the Soap Creek neighborhood below this city.

Oregon's Congressman. Hon. Binger Hermann is visiting the different public improvements in Oregon, and spent Tuesday at the Cascade Locks. Mr. Hermann is truly a servant of the people—what a public official should be, and is not unmindful of a single interest of his constituents. He will visit Albany and Yaquina soon.

Harbor Improvements. Captain Willard Young, of the engineer corps, in his annual report to the chief of engineers, makes the following estimates for continuing the river and harbor improvements in Oregon during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890. Coquille river, $75,000; entrance to Coos bay, $250,000; entrance to Yaquina bay, $75,000; Tillamook bay and harbor, $50,000.

Ice cream served every day at the Depot hotel, only 15 cents.

STATE DISPATCHES.

Another Albany Enterprise Incorporates—Shocking Death of a Boy. Special to the Herald. SALEM, July 24.—Articles of incorporation were filed to-day with the secretary of state as follows: The Pacific Medicine Company of Albany, Oregon, with Geo. W. Gray, J. B. Hughes, W. H. Rowland and Peter Hume as incorporators. The capital stock is $3000, divided into shares of $10 each. The principal office is in Albany. Yesterday afternoon at Fairfield, Marion county, a nine-year-old son of David Hess, was crushed to death by a water tank falling on him. Mr. Carr, a gentleman, near Fairfield, was hauling water for a steam engine which was running a threshing, and when he started for some water this little boy climbed on the tank, and as Mr. Carr passed the house, he asked the lady where they got the water, and she told him the boy would show him, and they then went to the river, which is a very difficult place to get water. After filling the tank they started to leave the river, and the gentleman remarked that if he could get out without an accident he would never come back there again, but the wagon tipped over and the tank full of water fell on the little boy killing him instantly. His neck, arm, leg and two ribs were broken. The tank was taken off of the boy, but he was then dead. The funeral took place this afternoon.

The Work Completed. Col. Eckleson, with his corps of engineers, passed through Prineville last Monday en route for Albany, having completed the work of locating the line of the Oregon Pacific from Deschutes to Snake river. During this season Col. Eckleson has located 180 miles of road, which he says is the best work he has ever done. Of the route the Col. says it is the nearest level and most direct of any transcontinental line in America. From Deschutes to Snake river he says the work of construction will be very light and can be done with great rapidity when once the work is begun. The work he has done this season completes the locating of 513 miles of line east from Albany and all that now remains for this section to have a railroad for the O. P. Co. to push their work to completion which will no doubt be done at an early date.—Prineville Review.

The Railroad Commission. The action of Secretary of State McBride in paying the salaries of the railroad commissioners chosen by the legislature, after the supreme court had decided that they were properly elected to their offices, although Governor Penroyer refuses to approve their bonds, will be generally approved. No matter whether or not we think the services of the commissioners or their clerk are worth a dollar a year to the state, they have been duly chosen to perform certain services at certain salaries, and they have been and are performing them, the state owes them this money, and it must pay it. The secretary of state is right in declaring that he will pay these salaries until he is restrained by some court of competent jurisdiction.—Salem Statesman.

The New Medical Law. The law passed by the last legislature to regulate the practice of medicine and surgery, will go into effect on August 23, that is, on and after that date the penalties provided by this law can be enforced, which seems likely to be done, at least in Multnomah county. The state board of medical examiners have had a conference with District Attorney McGinn, of Portland, in regard to prosecuting persons practicing medicine without a proper certificate. He informed them that they were state officers, and when they recommended any case for prosecution he would take the matter up. It is probable that steps will be taken immediately after the 23d proximo to begin suit against all persons practicing medicine illegally.

Sudden Death. Herman Diercks, proprietor of Herman's Restaurant, on the corner below the Revere House, died suddenly at four o'clock yesterday of heart disease. He had been ill for several days, but not to prevent him from being out on the street, and his death was unexpected. He was a native of Germany and was 30 years old. He leaves a wife and one small child, upon whom his death falls heavily. The funeral will occur at 3 o'clock to-day.

OFF FOR CLEAR LAKE.

An Ongoing Party Start for the Summit of the Cascades. Councilman Scoggins, Jack Holman and Joseph Paquet, of Portland, started Wednesday with their families, for a month's hunting and fishing at Clear Lake, away up on the Lebanon route over the Cascades. The lake is well stocked with trout, and in the depths of its crystal waters are to be seen far down groves of tall trees standing. As each of the excursionists came the plains across, in two prairie schooners, they are no novices at camping out and will doubtless have an enjoyable outing. The air among the breezy, shady pines is better than at the seaside, and only for the trouble of getting to the mountains and discomforts connected with camping, many more would seek the summit of the Cascades in the heated term.—Oregonian.

COAST NOTES. Portland claims to have the toniest and finest appearing Salvation army on the coast. Several fine brick stores are now being built in Corvallis, which indicates a healthy feeling in that city. There is trouble over the fire department at Tacoma, owing to the council providing for a paid department.

The Prineville News is responsible for the statement that a chunk of ore was picked out of the mountain back of Canyon City recently which netted at the mint something over $400 in gold, being almost pure gold. Seattle is overrun with carpenters from the East, who started for that city immediately after the fire, thinking there would be plenty of work. Owing to the fact that the business portion of the city will be rebuilt with brick and stone, there is not much work for carpenters at present.

The sulphur springs in Benton county, about eight miles from Corvallis, it is said, are becoming a very popular resort. It is claimed that the sulphur water has performed some cures, and has been of great benefit to invalids who have gone there to recuperate. The water is strongly impregnated with sulphur, and is said to be equal to the White Sulphur Springs in Virginia.
