A ROYAL WEDDING.

Marriage of Princess Louise and the Earl of Fife.

THE ROYAL BRIDAL PARTY.

Murder and Robbery of One of Cincinnati's Most Prominent Citizens Formation of a Florida Orange Trust.

[The HERALD's Special Dispatches.]

LONDON, July 27.—Princess Louise, eldest daughter of the Prince of Wales, was married at noon to the Earl of Fife. It was raining when the ceremony took place in the private chapel of Buckingham palace. This is the first marriage that ever took place in the chapel, which is small, and the number of guests, therefore, was limited. The bride and groom arrived privately. The Princess of Wales, crown prince of Denmark, king of Greece, Prince Albert Victor and Prince George, of Wales, assembled in the bow library of Buckingham palace at 11:45, and there awaited the arrival of the queen from her private apartments.

The bridal party, consisting of the Prince of Wales, Princess Louise, Princesses Victoria and Maud, of Wales, left Marlborough house, the residence of the Prince of Wales, at 11:40 for Buckingham palace. Notwithstanding the rain the route to the palace was crowded with spectators. There was a vast concourse of people opposite the palace. The Prince of Wales was enthusiastially cheered.

On the arrival in the bow library of the queen, accompanied by the grand duke of Hesse, the procession to the chapel was formed. It was comprised of the queen, members of the royal family, king of Greece, crown Prince of Denmark and other guests and officers of the royal household. The procession on the way to the church passed through several royal apartments, in which were many guests, who found it impossible to enter the chapel. Upon reaching the chapel the royal personages took seats on either side of the altar.

The Earl of Fife, who was attired in Highland costume and wore the garter of the Duffs, was accompanied by his groomsman, Horace Farquahar.

The bride wore a duchess dress of white satin, with flowing train, trimmed with orange blossoms; also a wreath of orange blossoms and a point de gauze veil.

The bridesmaids were dressed in bluish pink faille and carried bouquets of pink roses.

The clergymen officiating were the Archbishop of Canterbury, Bishop of London, Dean Windsor, the domestic chaplain to the queen, Rev. F. A. J. Harvey, domestic chaplain to the Prince of Wales, and Rev. T. Teyenmouth-store.

The Prince of Wales gave away the bride.

Many of the ministers were present. Gladstone was also among the guests.

The queen wore a dress of black brocade, and appeared to be in excellent health and spirits.

The Princess of Wales was attired in a pearl gray satin brocaded with silver, and a tiara of diamonds.

After the benediction the queen kissed the bride and cordially greeted the groom.

After the wedding breakfast the earl and the bride, the Prince of Wales and the bridesmaids returned to Marlborough house, the bride and bridegroom occupying the first carriage. Later in the afternoon the newly married couple departed for the Shien house, the suburban residence of the Earl of Fife, where a portion of the honeymoon will be spent.

MURDERED AND ROBBED.

The Fate That Befel a Prominent Citizen of Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, July 27.—Dr. A. E. Jones, an old resident of this city, well known as a local historian and enthusiast in military matters, yesterday mysteriously disappeared from his home on Walnut hill. This morning his body was found in a man-hole not far from his residence. He had been murdered and robbed. The colonel was in his 77th pear, but was as active as a man of 50. He has always had an inclination for military life and kept it up holding connection with the Ohio national guards, serving for life time as surgeon of the 1st regiment. Gov. Foraker, who was his neighbor, appointed him a member of his staff as surgeon-general. During the day yesterday a trail of blood was discovered opposite the doctor's stable, and, being followed, was traced to Park avenue, thence south two or three squares to the junction of Cypress street and Francis lane, where, on the grass, was quite a pool of blood. It was here in a man hole of a sewer that the body was found this morning. It was wrapped in a horse blanket, or rather sewed up, so that it was drawn out by means of a rope fastened about it by a man who had been lowered for that purpose. It was found that the doctor's gold watch and his money were gone. This must have been the motive for the murder, as the doctor had not an enemy in the world. The police are already making arrests, among them being Charles Elijah, the colored hostler, who had been with Col. Jones about 2 months. There was but a single wound upon the back of his head, as if the wound had been given from behind. The theory now prevalent is that the murderer is Charles Bligh, a colored servant. Bligh was out of the house all day yesterday, and told of his last interview with the colonel. When he left last night he said he would return at 5:30 this morning, but has not yet been found. A hoe in the stable bears the marks of pronounced blood stains.

A FLORIDA ORANGE TRUST.

To Control the Sale of the Fruit in All the Principal Cities.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The Mail and Express says a meeting of wholesale fruit merchants, who are interested in the disposition of the Florida orange crop, will be held in this city on August 1st. The leading dealers in oranges in the principal cities throughout the country will attend. The object of the meeting ostensibly is the combination of the large houses in the trade for the purpose of obtaining lower rates of freight, quicker and better transportation and a concentration of shipments to two or three of the most important northern cities. The real object is to form an orange trust which will control the entire Florida orange crop, direct the packing and shipping, and confine the sale of oranges to the members.

PROFESSOR JEMPSEY.

The Valiant Man Was Willing to Answer to the Name of Snaggs.

Chicago Tribune.

"Ha! Caught you at last, have I?"

The tall, powerful man who uttered these words stood in the center of a group at a street corner in a far Western town. As he spoke he brought his hand down heavily on the shoulder of a mild-looking stranger, who was passing by, and turned him half-way round.

The tall, powerful man had previously winked at the bystanders.

"You don't remember me I s'pose?" he continued, with a fierce frown, as he tightened his clinch on the stranger's shoulder.

"Why, no; I can't say I do," replied the mild-looking man, looking at him wonderingly.

"You've forgot all about the time you leaned out of a car window of a train jest pullin' out of Cheyenne and knocked my hat off, I reckon?"

"I certainly don't remember any thing of the kind," protested the bewildered stranger. "I never saw you before."

"O, yes, you did! You may have forgot it, but I haven't." And he emphasized the assertion by a vigorous shake. "I havent' forgot it, an' I've said a thousand times since then that if I ever met you agin I'd make you apologize or fight."

"Now that I think of it," said the mild looking stranger, stooping to pick up his hat, which had fallen to the ground during the shaking process, "it seems to me I do remember something of the kind. I suppose I am bound to give you satisfaction for it. Put up your dukes!"

His bewildered look had all gone by this time. Placing himself in an attitude of defense he danced about the big man in a way startlingly suggestive of previous practice.

"Before I mop the sidewalk with you," said the other, "I wan't to be sure I ain't mistaken. Your name is —is Snaggs, ain't it?"

"Snaggs?" replied the stranger, planting a blow neatly on his antagonist's jaw, "certainly! Snaggs will do as well as anything else. Snaggs is it?"

"But, hold on! I want to be dead sure! The man I'm lookin' fur is Jerusalem Snaggs!"

"You've found him, my friend," exclaimed the stranger, as he banged him on the nose. "I'm Jerusalem Snaggs!" he continued, making a feint with his left and administering a vicious upper cut with his right. "O, yes, I am Snaggs [biff] from [whack] Snaggsville, Snaggs County [bang], near the head waters of Snaggs Creek! Office hours from one to twenty-four. Come early and avoid the rush!"

With a final blow under the ear he laid the burly fellow flat on the ground.

As he turned to go he said:

"My name, gentlemen, is Jerusalem Snaggs, of course, but for convenience sake I go around under an alias."

And he took from his vest pocket a card and threw it on the prostrate body of the big man. After he had gone away somebody picked it up and read:

> D. JEMPSEY,
> PROFESSOR OF SCIENTIFIC BOXING.
>
> SPECIAL ATTENTION DEVOTED TO TRAINING PUGILISTS.

HAD SIXTY-NINE CHILDREN.

The Long Life and Large Family of a Turk.

Pall Mall Gazette

Those who are anxious to remain in the flesh beyond the ordinary duration of this mortal life will be interested in the habits of the old Turk who has recently died at Haddatha, aged 130 years. Old Hadji Soliman Saba had seven wives, all of whom died before him; he was the father of sixty son and nine daughters, who have also gone the way of all flesh, and the year before his death he was thinking of marrying again, but could not obtain the necessary funds to buy a bride. Saba was a farmer unto his life's end; his diet consisted mainly of barley bread, beans (vegetarians take note!) and water, and only twice a year, on high festivals, did he eat meat. His clothes were even more simple than his diet, consisting of a shirt only, and, when he traveled, a pair of trousers. His bed was a mattress and a straw mat, and it had never been a "bed of sickness" till three days before his death.

A NOVEL EXCURSION.

A Body of Representative Artisans to Cross the Atlantic.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The American workmen's expodition, under the auspices of the Scripps League, started for Europe at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. When it was announced that the British Government would send 100 British workmen to the Paris Exposition it was hoped that Congress would do likewise, but it did not. Thereupon the newspaper men took up the scheme and soon arrangements were completed for sending fifty workingmen to Europe.

In arrangeing the details of representation all the leading industries of the United States were included. The selection of these representatives was not made arbitrary, but in all cases was left to the judgment of the working classes themselves, to their employers and to those most conversant with their capabilities. As a consequence the party is made up of men and women who, while being actual workers in their respective trades, are also competent to study the foreign market and of communicating the results of their observance to the large classes of workingmen whom they represent.

The delegates met at Cleveland on Tuesday, and at once started for this city. At the various stops along the route they were the recipients of favors and enthusiastic greetings.

Altogether they are a fine body of representative American workingmen and will reflect great credit on the people they represent. The trip will last eight weeks, and will be through England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Germany and France, with Paris and the exposition as the objective point.

According to the programme, the company it is believed, will reach Liverpool on August 1st. Two days will be spent in visiting the extensive wharves, crowded with 3000 sailors. The next point of interest will be Manchester.

The industries of Birmingham will next occupy their attention. From Birmingham the expedition goes to London on the famous early workingmen's train, giving the members an opportunity to see the countless masses who daily enter the metropolis to toil. Crosing the channel the expedition will spend a short time at Rouen, going thence to Paris.

The party will be divided into squads, ten men in each, in order to facilitate sight-seeing in the great crowded cities and the squads will be composed, as far as possible, of men whose trades are somewhat allied in character. Fully two weeks will be devoted to the exposition and the many sights of the French capital and its gay and beautiful suburbs. After leaving Paris the expedition will visit Lille to study the factories there, and thence go into neighboring Belgium, to see the varied industries of Brussels after which the famed maritime arsenals and docks of Antwerp will occupy extended attention.

From Antwerp the party will cross the border into Germany and take the steamer up the Rhine from Coblentz to Cologne, thus passing the most romantic portions of that historic and legendary stream. August 28th and 29th will be spent in the city of Essen, where the mammoth works of Krupp are located, and where 50,000 laborers live contentedly on the co-operative plan. Recrossing the channel, with a possible stay at the pottery in Meissen, the party will go to Sheffield, where the cutlery, plated ware and type factories will be inspected.

After spending Sunday, September 1st, in Edinburgh, with a day added for investigation of the city's workshops, the party will depart for the great ship-building yards of the Clyde, at Glasgow, the chief center of the kind in the world, from whence the Comet, the first boat propeled by steam in Europe, departed almost eighty years ago. The expedition will sail for New York on September 4th, having traveled almost 9000 miles, and will arrive in this port in September.

ARMS WANTED IN ALASKA.

A Request Which Will Probable Be Complied With.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The Governor of Alaska has requested the officials of the War Department to furnish the Territory with 250 stands of arms with which to equip the Territorial militia. There is no record of the existence of any militia organization in Alaska, but inasmuch as the War Department will be secured against loss the arms will probably be issued in accordance with the request.

Not a California Bear.

Anybody can catch a cold this kind of weather. The trouble is to let go, like the man who caught the bear. We advise our readers to purchase of Foshay & Mason a bottle of Santa Abie, the California King of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs and Croup Cures, and keep it handy. 'Tis pleasing to the taste and death to the above complaints. Sold at $1.00 a bottle or 3 for $2.50. California Cat-R-Cure gives immediate relief. The Catarrhal virus is soon displaced by its healing and penetrating nature. Give it a trial. Six months treatment $1.00, sent by mail $1.10.

STATE DISPATCHES.

A Big Collection of Oregon Grains, Grasses and Fruits.

FIRE IN MARION COUNTY.

What Senator Mitchell Says Concerning the Oregon Federal Offices E. B. McElroy En Route Home.

The HERALD's Special Dispatches.

PORTLAND, July 27.—Everything about the board of immigration rooms is a scene of confusion at present. A force of men are busily engaged in getting ready the exhibit of Oregon's products for the big agricultural fair soon to be held at Buffalo, New York.

About 1000 samples of grain thresned and in stocks, and grasses of all kinds will be sent to the collection. The greater part of the cereals was contributed by Mr. B. S. Pague, United States signal service observer, who for the past two weeks has been in Eastern Oregon. Mr. Kauffman, of Vancover, Washington, will leave with the exhibit for Buffalo some time between the 5th and 10th of August.

The exhibit will include everything that can be raised in Oregon, from a cucumber to the most delicate fruits. In all, over 4000 pieces will be sent. It is the desire of the board to present to the eye of the people of the East only those articles which will honestly represent the character of the entire state.

A THRESHER BURNED.

A Lively Fight With Fire—Wheat Saved from Destruction.

SALEM, July 27.—Yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, while Noah Herren was threshing grain on his farm 4 miles from this city, the machine caught fire and was burned to the ground before the fire could be stopped. There were about 800 bushels of grain in the sacks near the machine, but by the prompt action of the hands it was saved. The machine burned so rapidly that even the rubber belt could not be saved. The fire quickly spread toward the fence and burned about 100 yards of it down. The harvest hands worked faithfully to save the crop and after a time they had the fire under control. The loss will be about $800. It is not known how the fire originated. Some think it caught from a spark from the engine.

THE OREGON OFFICES.

What Senator Mitchell Says Concerning Them.

PORTLAND, July 27.—One of Senator Mitchell's confidential friends stated this evening that the senator has not yet designated any prominent republicans to fill the greater federal offices in this state. There are many willing to serve Uncle Sam sitting on the anxious bench, waiting to hear the senator speak. He purposes returning to Washington about the latter part of October, and it is doubtful whether he will make any recommendations before he gets there.

Returning Home.

SALEM, July 27.—Hon. E. B. McElroy and wife left Nashville, Tennessee, for their home in Salem on Wednesday, and are expected here the first of the week.

TEMPERANCE NOTES.

Contributed by the W. C. T. U.

Six prohibition tents with able speakers are traveling through South Dakota in the interest of prohibition.

Oklahoma possesses absolute prohibition. A man at Guthrie said, "prohibition is our salvation, without it there would be a murder every day."

The department of kindergarten work has received much attention from the Benton County Convention. Mrs. Green, a kindergarten teacher, will make a tour of this coast during the coming fall and give instructions in this branch.

The Benton County W. C. T. U. Convention is now in session at Newport. Among other workers, we note Mrs. S. H. Spangler of Corvallis, President of the convention, Mrs. L. A. Nash, Corvallis, Mrs. Condon, Eugene, Prof. Edwards, of Forest Grove, Rev. Habersham and Wallis Nash, were presented to the Convention. All visiting members from all counties were made members of the convention.

Mrs. Jacob Scondue, of Springfield, Ohio, while visiting with her father-in law at Gaynor City, Mo., was taken very sick with cholera morbus. A physician was sent for, but as the doctor was not at home, Mr. S. E. Wible a merchant of Gaynor City handed the husband of the sick lady, a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and ask him to try that, and if it did not cure, he need not pay for it; but it did its work, and before returning to their home, they called and procured another bottle. Uncle John Scondue says he never be without Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Foshay & Mason.

For your fine imported and Key West cigars, go to M. Baumgart's cigar store, one door east of Blackman's drug store.
