OVER THE WIRES.

President Harrison Will Go to Bar Harbor.

A DISASTROUS EARTHQUAKE.

A Town Destroyed and Many People Killed—A Fierce Battle with the English Capitalists.

The Herald's Special Department.

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Final arrangements have been made for President Harrison's trip to Bar Harbor next week. He will leave at 9:40 A. M., August 6, for New York, and will take a Fall River boat that evening for Boston. The day and night of the 7th he will remain in Boston, leaving on the morning of the 8th for Bar Harbor by rail.

DISASTROUS EARTHQUAKE

Many People Killed and Much Property Destroyed.

YOKOHAMA, July 30.—A dispatch from Nagasaki states that a dreadful earthquake occurred in the western portion of the island of Kiu-siu. The town of Kanmoota was destroyed and many people perished. A vast amount of property was destroyed.

MORE ENGLISH CAPITAL.

A British Syndicate Wants to Run Our Theatres.

NEW YORK, July 30.—An English syndicate has offered H. R. Jacobs $500,000 and a $15,000 salary for two-thirds interest in twenty theatres, which he controls in various parts of the United States.

Old World Affairs.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 30.—The ministerial council held here has resolved a new commission to Crete to endeavor and settle the difficulties there; also to send eight battalions to the Island. Italy advises Turkey to attempt to conciliate the Cretons, and is necessary resort to the mediation of some European power. Italy will assent to the annexation of the Island by Greece.

A Noted Outlaw.

BIRMINGHAM, (Ala.) July 30.—Rube Burrows, train robber and general outlaw, for whose capture $6000 is offered, with four companions is delaying state authorities in mountain fastnesses. The sheriff of Lamar county has asked the governor for militia.

Sixty Dervishes Killed.

CAIRO, July 30.—Advices from Assouan say the advance of Dervishes continue, though slow. A skirmish occurred yesterday between the Egyptian patrols and Dervish outposts. Sixty Dervishes were killed.

The Boulangerists.

PARIS, July 30.—La Press, the Boulanger organ, accused the government of falsifying 3,000,000 voting papers at the election Sunday. The corrected returns show that Boulanger is elected in 23 cantons.

AN UNNATURAL MOTHER.

She Poisons Her Sons Because They Did Not Like Their Steppather.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 29.—Luther Genoule, aged 18, died two weeks ago from the effects of poison. To-day a coroner's jury rendered a verdict holding his stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Fanne, responsible for his death. They were arrested, and Fanne, in an interview to-night with the sheriff, made a confession in which she stated she bought the poison at his wife's request and she placed it in her son's coffee. It was her intention, he said, to poison another son, William, but fortunately he drank no coffee that morning. The motive for the crime was Mrs. Fanne's desire to get rid of her sons, who caused trouble between herself and her husband.

WOOL GROWERS IN CONCL.

They are Grateful for the Decisions of the Treasury Department.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 29.—A called meeting of the National Wool Growers' Association was held in this city to-day, and passed resolutions approving the recent decisions of the treasury department in relation to broken tops and garnetted waste, and asking that like decisions be applied to ring waste and soiled cotten tops, which are being imported in large quantities, as they allege, in violation of the tariff laws. They also ask the president to call a special session of congress to revise the tariff laws and congratulate the wool-growers in the United States in the somewhat improved condition of the wool industry as they believe due to the recent treasury decisions.

The Catarrh virus is soon displaced by its healing and penetrating nature. Send a trial. Six months treatment $1.00, sent by mail $1.10.

SPECIAL RATES ON WHEAT.

Pacific Coast Grain to Be Shipped to Eastern Millers.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—The new chairman of the Transcontinental Association yesterday telegraphed the general freight agent of the Union Pacific in this city that a special rate on east-bound car load shipments of wheat is to be made similar to the rate on barley. This means 60 cents per 100 pounds to the Missouri river, 62 1/2 cents to St. Louis 65 cents to Chicago, and 67 1/2 cents to Cincinnati. It is the first low rate ever made on California wheat to Eastern points, and has been thought out, it is said, at the special request of Eastern millers. They have recognized the excellent quality of Pacific coast wheat, but the freight rates have operated against their milling it to advantage. The talk on the street now is that the Southern Pacific will accept to compromise on the Canadian competition question, and as a natural sequent a rate war is a fruitful topic of discussion.

INDIAN WIDINGS.

Strange Courtships in British Columbia.

Science.

Ph. Jacobsen, in a letter to his well-known brother, Captain A. Jacobsen, gives the following description of the marriage ceremonies of the Bilyua Indians of British Columbia. An Indian who intends to marry calls upon his intended wife's parents and arranges with them how much he is to pay for permission to marry the girl. Among people of high descent this is done by messengers, sometimes as many as twenty being sent to call on the girl's father. They are sent by the man's parents before the young man is of age. In many instances both man and girl are not more than 8 or 9 years old. The messengers go in their boats to the girl's house and carry on their negotiations without going ashore, where the relatives of the girl are standing. The messengers of the young man's parents present his excellence and noble descent; the great exploits of his father, grandfather and ancestors; their liberality at festivals, etc. Then the girl's relatives praise the girl and her ancestors, and thus the negotiations are carried on. Finally a number of blankets are thrown ashore by the messengers; and the girl's relatives protest, and maintain that the number is not sufficient to pay for the permission to marry the girl. In order to obtain their consent, new blankets are thrown ashore one by one, the messengers continually maintaining that the price paid is low great. Generally from twenty to fifty cents, each of the value of about fifty cents, are paid.

After this the boy and the girl are considered engaged. When they come to be grown up the young man has to serve a year to his father-in-law. He must fish, trap, fitch water, fish and hunt for the latter. During this time he is called Kos, which means "one who works." After a year is elapsed the marriage celebrated. At this time, real trials are celebrated. Seven or eight men perform a dance. They wear dancing aprons and leggings, trimmed with pullin-beaks, hoods of deer, copper plates and bells. If the groom should be a wealthy man, who has presented to his wife many small copper plates, such as are used as presents to a bride, these are carried by the dancers. The singing master, who beats the drum, starts a song in which the dancers join. The song used at the marriage festival is sung in unison, while in all other dances each dancer has his own tune and song. The first dancer wears a ring made of cedar bark. His hair is strewn with eagle down, and sticks about when he moves and forms a cloud around his head. The groom presents the first dancer with a piece of calico, which the latter tears to pieces and throws down in front of each house of the village, crying, "Help!" in order to drive away the evil spirits. These pieces of calico which he throws down in front of the houses have a lucky meaning, and at the same expense the idea that the groom, when he comes to be a wealthy man, will not forget the inhabitant of any house when giving a festival. The dancers swing their bodies and arms, stamp their feet and show the copper plates to the lookers-on.

Then the bride's father brings a great number of blankets, generally double the number of those he had received from the groom, and gives them to his daughter. The bride orders a few blankets to be spread before the groom. She sits down, and he puts his hand upon her head. Then the groom is given for each of the parts of his body one or more blankets. Finally he is given a new blanket. After the bride's father has given a blanket to each dancer and to the drummer, the villagers are invited to a great feast. At this time the groom and bride eat for the first time together.

THE TIMBER OF OREGON.

The Different Varieties and Where They Are to Be Found.

From Major J. B. Brockenbrough, special agent U. S. general land office in the capacity of surveyor, a reporter obtained the following as to the quantity and different varieties of timber growing within the borders of this state as seen by him.
