HAYTIAN HORRORS.

Legitimate Cuts His Prisoners' Throats.

* SLAUGHTERED IN PUBLIC.

No Quarter Given on Either Side—The Garrison Badly Demoralized.

PORT-AU-PRINCE (Hayti), Aug. 2.—Legitimate has been cutting the throats of prisoners in the marketplace. Hippolyte is advancing nearer and nearer each day. Time and again the Southern leader has prepared for a fight, but on each occasion the appeals of his Generals have induced him to hold on a little longer.

More than once the war has appeared to be on its last legs, but by some sudden exploit hope has again been raised in the breasts of the beleaguered inhabitants, followed by renewed efforts to lay the advance of the Northern forces.

Fear bordering on frenzy appears to have seized hold of many of Legitimate's soldiers. They refuse to stand fire, and it only remains for the contagion to become universal to enable Hippolyte to march unopposed into the capital of the South.

The idea of offering quarter to the surrendering troops has long died out, and capture now means something worse than death. Hippolyte slaughtered eighteen men who fell into his hands the other day, and in retaliation terrible scenes in the market place have been enacted.

A system of signals is vigorously observed between the American Consulate and the Kearsarge and the Ossipee lying in the wharf. The American residents feel comparatively safe, though they often take reassuring glances in the direction of the harbor and count for the hundredth time the guns visible through the open ports of the American warships.

Hippolyte's attack last Thursday succeeded in carrying the earthworks beyond Lacoupe, but there it stopped. His men at once set about digging trenches for the purpose of strengthening their position.

They also cut a road for wagons and donkeys to travel, which of course protects the latter from the fire of the besieged. By means of wagons and carts no difficulty was encountered in the transportation of provisions and supplies to the front.

On the 26th, just before sunset, Hippolyte ordered a charge on La Coup. His men advanced with a rush, firing as they ran. Instead, however, of going right over the intrenchments as they might have done, his whole line stepped on reaching some of the outer intrenchments.

Legitimate's men fled to the interior of the fort at the first appearance of the attacking force, and for half an hour kept up a fire on Hippolyte's men gathered below.

At this moment the report was sent to Port-au-Prince from La Coup that it was impossible to hold out longer, and calling for reinforcements.

All the available men in the city were pushed forward and with considerable impetuosity attacked Hippolyte.

The latter beat a hasty retreat, carrying away with him eighteen of the garrison, captured during the first of the attack. Of these unfortunate eighteen men, some were shot on reaching Hippolyte's camp, and others had their throats cut in sight of the whole body of troops. All were executed for the amusement of the troops.

Spies reported this act of Hippolyte to Legitimate, and the latter immediately ordered all the prisoners on hand to be taken to the marketplace. There were eight of them in all, and tied arm to arm, they were led, strongly guarded to the open market. There an immense crowd had collected, which was at fever heat of excitement.

One by one the men were gagged in plain view of everybody, and then, with the utmost deliberation, their throats were cut like so many heads of wheat, yelling vociferously as each man fell quivering to the ground. In the very middle of the killing a man managed to escape himself and filled the air with the most piercing cries of fright.

This pleased the crowd so much that the gags of all the remaining prisoners were taken out, and the cries of agony of the wretched men fairly rent the air. When the butchery was completed a great yell went up from the crowd for Legitimate, and it was evident that the Southern leader had gained a point in the confidence of his followers.

The captain of an Atlas line steamer and the American Consul witnessed the above scene and can authenticate it. The Americans here are not alarmed. Legitimate's men are too badly scared to molest any one.

Hippolyte expresses great friendship for the Americans, and it is not thought any harm will be done by his men should he enter the city.

AN AMUSING INCIDENT.

Leonard Swett's Little Doctor and the Man Who Knew It All.

Chicago Journal.

In Lusk's "Eighty Years of Illinois Politics and Politicians" are found many incidents and anecdotes of the most pleasing character, and from that source we extract the following:

U. F. Linder was one of the great lawyers of Illinois who was contemporaneous with Abraham Lincoln, and was never so happy as when he had a crowd around him listening to his jokes, but sometimes the joke turned to plague him. About 1856 he was sitting one summer evening outside the door of a hotel in Terre Haute, Indiana, telling a company of interested listeners of the exploits of Leonard Swett, one of Illinois' noted lawyers.

"This man Swett," said he, "is the sharpest lawyer in Illinois. He clears his man every time, especially if charged with murder."

"How does he do it, Linder?" ventured one of his hearers to inquire.

"Do it!" replied Linder, "he proves they are all insane—every cursed man of them."

"Well, how does he do that?"

"I'll tell you, sir. He carries with him a little doctor who knows all about insanity, and swears 'em all crazy as loons. The jury comes in with a verdict of insanity every time."

Then he recited several cases which had occurred where the parties had been thus acquitted, when they were really "just as sane as I am, sir—just as you are," said Linder.

At that moment a gentleman who had been sitting inside, but had been an amused listener, walked outside, and offering his hand to Linder, said:

"Good evening, Mr. Linder. I have the honor to be the little doctor you are talking about—you tell it very well."

"What might your name be?" said Linder, though he knew very well.

"My name is Roe," said the gentleman.

"N't Dr. Roe of Bloomington?"

"Yes, sir, Dr. Roe of Bloomington—the man you call Swett's little doctor."

"Why, I know you, sir—of course I know you, Dr. Roe," said Linder.

"My God, sir! are you the man? I beg your pardon, Dr. Roe. I did not know that you were Swett's witness."

"Let your pardon a thousand times. What a blunder I made—indeed, I did not know the man was Dr. Roe of Bloomington. Doctor, I can do nothing else but beg your pardon—and I would not do less if I could. Gentlemen, if this man ever swears I am insane, I will believe him myself."

A NEGRO EXODUS.

Fifty Thousand About to Leave North Carolina.

RALEIGH (N. C.), Aug. 10.—The committee appointed by the Colored Emigration Convention, which met here last April, to go West and Southwest, examine the country and learn what arrangements can be made for a movement of a large body of colored people North Carolina, expects to leave here for the Southwest on Sunday.

The committee say that over 78,000 names of those who will move have been enrolled, and that these have agreed to start in forty-eight hours after notice has been given, provided the commission makes a favorable report.

It is said by the committee that the people in the Southwestern States have held meetings, composed of farmers, business men and capitalists, who have appointed committees to meet and confer with the North Carolina commissioners and to offer such inducements as will direct the tide of immigration in that direction.

If the conditions are favorable and the committee shall so report, it is thought by the committee that at least fifty thousand people will be moved next fall. Kansas, Arkansas, Texas and California seem to be making preparations to increase their colored population at the expense of the North Carolina exodus. Agents from Kansas and Arkansas are expected here on Saturday to accompany the commissioners from this State.

Disarming an Unseen Foe.

"This was sometimes a paradox," as Hamlet says. Since, however, the people of America and other lands have been enabled to purchase the Stomach Bitters against that unseen foe, malaria, it is no longer a paradox, but an easy possibility. Whatever malaria evades its misty venom to poison the air, and decaying unwholesome vegetation impregnates the water, there, in the very stronghold of miasma, is the auxiliary potent to disarm the foe and assure efficient protection. Fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, no matter how tenaciously they have fastened their clutch on the system, are first forced to relax their grasp and eventually to abandon it altogether. But it is preventive force that should chiefly recommend the Bitters to persons dwelling in malarious localities, for it is a certain buckler of defence against which the enemy's powerless. Cures, likewise, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney and bilious ailments.

OVER THE WIRES.

Movements of the President and Party During Their Trip.

ALLEGED INDIAN OUTRAGES.

A Big Failure in a California Town—The Senatorial Committee Looking After the Irrigation Project.

The Herald's Special Dispatches.

BAR HARBOR, Aug. 10.—The "Dispatch" reached here this morning at 10:30 with Secretary Tracy on board. An hour later the secretary, his daughter, Mrs. Wilmerding, Lieut. and Mrs. Manson, Captain Cowles, called on the president. The afternoon will be spent on the Sappho by the president and Mr. Blaine.

THE SENATE COMMITTEE.

They will Meet at Boise City to Arrange the Plans.

BOISE CITY, (Idaho) August 10.—Dispatches received to-day from Senator Stewart state that the senate committee on irrigation will be at Boise City on August 16 and 17. Charles Day, counsel for the Ogden water works company, is here and has presented to the governor and attorney-general an argument in favor of the right to appropriate the waters of Bear lake for irrigation and city use in Utah. The governor is convinced that the plans of the Ogden company would deprive the citizens of Idaho of their just right. He is determined if necessary to proceed by an injunction to protect our settlers.

The secretary of the interior stated to-day that the United States will interfere in the controversy between Idaho and the neighboring territories over irrigation rights. It is learned here that speculators from Colorado have filed claims, including the entire water capacity of Snake river. Reports received at the executive office stated that showers in Eastern Idaho are extinguishing forest fires.

ALLEGED INDIAN OUTRAGES.

A Company of Infantry Sent to Make an Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Adjutant General Kelton, has received a telegram from General Miles, at San Francisco, informing him that the commanding general of the department of the Columbia, has reported that Capt. Kuhn, of the 4th infantry has been with his company to Calispel, W. T., to investigate the reports of Indian outrages, but has been ordered back to Spokane. Reports under date of August 7 were to the effect that no heavy stacks were burned, and no lives made by the Indians. Some land was burned over, but there is no reason to think the fire was started by Indians.

A Big Failure.

MARYSVILLE, (Cal.), August 10.—Daniel McGanney, a prominent farmer and miner, living at Marysville, filed a schedule of his liabilities last evening and made an assignment to the sheriff. The amount set forth on the paper is $121,000. It is estimated that it would take another $10,000 to pay his petty accounts. Most of his creditors are secured. Over $90,000 are held by banks and individuals in San Francisco.

Earthquake in the Adirondacks.

SARATOGA, August 10.—A sharp shock of earthquake of 45 seconds' duration was felt in the Adirondacks at 8:45 a. m. The dishes rattled and buildings shook in at least a dozen places. The motion was from east to west. A noise accompanied the shock which was distinct and sharp. The shock was particularly hard at Warrensburg.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well and popular known as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise—A pure medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidney, and remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood. Will drive Malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers—For the cure of Headache, Constipation and indigestion try electric Bitters—Earliest satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded. Price 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle at Foshy & Mason.

Grand Army boys, as well as many others, will be interested in the following from Alex B. Pope, Stewart, Tenn., who is A. D. C. Commander Dep't Tenn. and Ga. He says: "We have had an epidemic of whooping cough here and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been the only thing that has done any good." There is no danger from whooping cough when this remedy is freely used. 50 cent bottles for sale by Foshy & Mason.

Mr. F. J. Smith, Editor of the Ft. Abercrombie, Dakota, Herald, says: "The most wonderful medicine, I have ever met with, is Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. In case of cholera it gives speedy relief. On hunting trips I have found it indispensable. Put in alkali water, it imparts a pleasant taste and prevents the painful diarrhoea, which alkali water produces. I could not feel safe without it in my house." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Foshy & Mason.
