THE GREATEST OF CENTENNIALS.

In three years we shall reach the four hundredth anniversary of an event which has been pronounced the greatest in human history—the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus.

It was proposed to celebrate this anniversary first by a world's exposition, and afterward by a permanent exposition of the Three Americas.

There is only one new thing in the news from Samoa which is cable from Berlin, and that is the derisive exhibition of Emperor William's bust in the native dances.

SUNSET COX, after visiting the Pacific Coast, says of the people here: "They are," he said, "as if you had taken the cream of New York, of Washington, of Buffalo, of all the cities of the East—the brightest boys of the family—and sent them out. With plenty of wit, plenty of enterprise, and their pockets full of money, they are the brightest people in the world."

They have got grit and money. They have money right in their hands, and know how to use it. They have $10,000,000 to rebuild Seattle, and it is at work.

It is evident that some stringent rules such as were applied at Oklahoma will be needed to keep rustlers out of the Sioux reservation before the lands are formally thrown open to settlement.

Since the destructive fire at Spokane Falls the city council has extended the fire limits and stopped the erection of frame buildings.
