OVER THE WIRES.

Villard's Scheme Is Adopted by the Northern Pacific.

A BIG LONDON STRIKE.

The Weather Gauge—Bar Harbor Gossip—The Charleston on the Ocean—Newsy Items of Interest.

The HERALD'S Special Dispatches.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—A special meeting of the North Pacific directors was held to-day. Villard's scheme for placing a consolidated mortgage of $100,000,000 was unanimously approved and a special meeting of the preferred stockholders will be held on October 17 to formally ratify the mortgage. Twenty millions of the new bonds will be expended on the terminals at Tacoma, Superior and elsewhere and on additional equipments, and the balance of the bonds will be substituted for the obligations of the company and the branch lines now outstanding. No action was taken in regard to the dividend of the preferred stocks.

THE CHARLESTON.

Second Official Trial Trip of the New Cruiser.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21—The cruiser Charleston went to sea this morning for her second official trial trip. Commander Benham and other naval inspecting officers went on board last night. The cruiser will make her run in open ocean, not going to Santa Barbara Channel as was thought probable, but will probably anchor in Monterey bay to-night. The ship is not expected to return here until tomorrow afternoon.

"BOSS" HIGGINS DEAD.

The Well Known San Francisco Politician Succumbs to Disease.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21—Wm. T. Higgins, the widely known Republican politician, died at his residence in this city at 8 o'clock this morning, after a long illness.

His death was not entirely unexpected. He had been confined to his home for some time. Death resulted from a reoccurence of heart trouble, to which he had been subject for several years.

Higgins was born in Ireland in 1829, and would have been 61 years old on September 10. He arrived in Boston when 1 year old. He came to California in '49, having been married in the east. He was out walking Monday as usual. He had never been confined to his bed and was conscious to the last.

GASOLINE EXPLOSION.

A Refinery at Alleghany City Destroyed.

PITTLBURG, Aug. 21.—A gasoline still at the oil refinery of A. D. Mills & Son, Alleghany City, exploned at 2 o'clock this morning with a frightful noise. The entire plant was immediately fired and rapidly destroyed. Thornton Miller, the engineer, is missing, and probably perished in the flames. MORMONS IN WEST VIRGINIA.

The People Aroused at the Alarming State of Affairs.

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 21.—The Mormon elders have been doing effective missionary work in this state, and the effects are beginning to be felt in a serious way. The situation is critical, and in some sections serious trouble is brewing. In Wheeling there is to be found a congregation of saints, with a church building of their own, and regular service held. The converts made have been mostly women. Some of them have been exported to Utah.

The elders, or missionaries, as they call themselves, are working in the boldest manner. They have made an astonishing number of converts, and scores of families have been broken up in consequence. Cases are numerous where entire families have renounced their former faith and united with the Mormon church; more numerous, however, are the cases where family ties have been broken, where wives have deserted husbands and husbands wives, to cast their lot with the Mormons. Young girls have been induced to leave their homes and go to Utah. The feeling is very bitter against them, and an organized movement will probably be made to drive them out.

HARRISON IN OHIO.

An Enthusiastic Reception Given Him in Cincinnati.

SPEECHES AND HANDSHAKING

The Members of the Presidential Party—The Citizens of Cincinnati Tender Them a Great Ovation.

The HERALD'S Special Dispatches.]

CINCINNATI, Aug. 21.—Amid the booming of cannon and cheers from the vast multitude gathered at Central station, the president of the United States arrived here at 2:45 o'clock. The crowds at every station as the train came humming down this morning, gave cheers when the train stopped, and the president was besieged by eager patriots, to shake hands.

The party included President Harrison, Attorney-General Miller, Secretary Rusk, Hon. John H. Elam, General Thos. G. Morgan, commissioner of Indian affairs, and others.

From the Business Exchange the president was driven to the magnificent new building of the chamber of commerce, where it had been arranged that the members should have a reception for a quarter of an hour. Then the public should be admitted for an hour, but the members became engulfed in the great mass of people that crushed into the hall. The president, in reply to an address, referred to the fact that in his youth it was at Cincinnati that he, as a country boy, had his first glimpse of a great city.

Notwithstanning an hour was spent in handshaking, not near all of the throng present could be gratified.

The Central Union depot was packed and there was almost continuous applause until the president reached his carriage, which he occupied with Gov. Foraker. The First Regiment, Ohio National Guards, commanded by M. L. Halkins, and Battery B, of the Ohio National Guards, fired a salute, which added to the volume of cheering, as the president was making his way to the carriage.

The line of march to the Burnett House was packed with standing people, while windows were alive with men, women and children, all joining in the boisterous welcome to the chief magistrate. The president rode almost continually with his hat in his hand, and was constantly bowing his acknowledgment to the enthusiastic greetings.

The common expression among those who had not seen him since the end of last fall's campaign was "How well he looks."

Arriving at the Burnett House, a public reception began immediately. At the end of three-quarters of an hour the president was driven to the Business Exchange, where another address of welcome was made by president Allison of that body. Here again, as at the Burnett House, was a great press of people to shake the president's hands.
