DISASTROUS STORMS.

Twenty-Seven Vessels Driven Ashore on the Atlantic Coast.

LOSS OF LIFE AND PROPERTY.

Terrible Scenes of Destruction. The Coast Stream With Wreck—Twas Sublime of and People Flew for Their Lives.

Lewis, Del., Sept. 12.—No language can picture the terrible scene along the coast. The wind is blowing almost a hurricane, driving the rain with a force that cuts like hail. A half a mile beach of sand, between the town and the coast, is now a tossing ocean, bearing wreckage on every wave.

Through the mist of spray the battered sails and masts of a score of deserted and dismantled vessels are dimly seen.

Since Monday night the storm has raged without abatement. Yesterday's dawn showed a hundred vessels which had sought the refuge of the breakwater. The refuge was insufficient, and by 11 o'clock the sea broke over the breakwater, wrecked the telegraph station, carried away the fog bell, and rushed shoreward, sweeping away the steamboat pier. The piers of Brown & Co. and Lace Bros. gave away and were swept to sea. The United States marine hospital was dashed from its moorings and sent spinning down the beach. The Jones life-saving station, forty feet above high water mark, was flooded and its foundation undermined.

Hughesville, a suburb between the town and the beach, is submerged, and its 100 inhabitants fled for their lives, leaving all their possessions behind.

The first boat came ashore at 9 A. M., then came another and another.

The life-saving crew was reinforced by the Henlopen and Relio both crews. They went to work and have labored almost unceasingly ever since. The crews on every vessel that struck were taken off by these daring men, and not a life was lost.

MORE PARTICULARS.

In all, twenty-seven vessels came ashore here.

A vessel was sunk off Provo shoals and all the crew drowned, except two who got ashore on a raft. Another vessel was sunk on Shears' shoals. It is not known whether the crew escaped.

The total number of lives lost will probably exceed forty. Five of the eight men who composed the crew of the E. and L. Bryan perished when the vessel struck on Brandburne shoals. The mate and two seamen caught a spar and drifted all night. At daybreak the others were discovered. One of the sailor's dead body was still lashed to a spar. The survivors were picked up by a tug and brought ashore.

There is great concern over the crew of the pilot boat Ebe Tulnell. She put to sea Monday and has not been heard of yet. Pilots John Barnes, Lewis Bertrand, James Romland and Berry Hickman and a crew of eight men were on board.

The New Jersey pilot boat Edmund Blown is across the bay on the Jersey coast with sails in tatters.

An unknown schooner is ashore at Bobobots and the coast for miles down is reported strewn with wrecks.

TALES OF SUFFERING.

Three schooners are lost outside the capes. A colored man and a German have come ashore as survivors of the wrecks. They were on a raft from 5 P. M. Monday to 9 A. M. yesterday. The other fifteen who composed the crews of these schooners are given up for lost.

FEARS FOR THEIR SAFETY.

There has been no communication with Longport and great anxiety is felt for the safety of the residents.

IMMENSE DAMAGE IN ATLANTIC CITY.

ATLANTIC CITY, (N. J.) Sept. 12.—It will take months for this city to recover from the loss the storm has caused. The wind still blows 35 to 40 miles an hour and it is still raining. The beach tides have not been large to day; consequently, are unaccompanied by further damage. The meadows are still three or four feet under water.

ANXIOUS STEAMSHIP OWNERS.

New York, Sept. 12.—The steamer Columbia from Havana is three days overdue and the owners are anxious.

It is rumored that a large steamship is on the rocks near Fort Schuyler. Nothing definite can be learned yet.

Administrator's sale.

Perry, deceased, at the time of his death in and to the following described premises, to-wit: The west half of the northeast quarter, and the north half of the southeast quarter of section 21 in township 10 south, range 1 east of the Willamette meridian, in Linn county, Oregon, containing 160 acres, to the highest bidder. Terms of sale—cash in hand on the day of sale. T. J. MUNKERS, Administrator.

A SINGULAR ACCIDENT.

Upheaval of Rocks Under the Mills of a Paper Company.

There was a remarkable occurrence at the mills of the Combined Locks Paper Company at Combined Locks, five miles below Appleton, Wis. On Saturday, from some unknown cause, there was an upheaval of the rock upon which the mills are located, throwing the great wall of stone and cement twenty feet thick, and making a saddleback several hundred feet long and six inches high in the bed-rock beneath the mill. An artesian well 260 feet away on the bluff has dried up. The damage to the mill and machinery will amount to several thousand dollars. A panic occurred among the mill operatives at the time of the shake up, but nobody was hurt in the stampede.

CONQUERED THE OLD MAN.

One More Instance of Woman's Way of Doing Things.

New York Sun.

An extremely stout, choleric old gentleman sat in his office on Friday morning over a lot of papers and swearing to himself. He was in a beastly temper, for things had gone wrong ever since morning, and now and then he cast his eyes about as if in search of something to kick as an outlet for his tempestuous state of mind.

"That book agent is out here, sir," said a clerk, thrusting his head through the door.

"Show him in," yelled the old gentleman greedily, "and I'll kick the everlasting stuffing out of him."

A minute later a pretty little girl came demurely in, and calmly drawing a chair up to the old gentleman's desk, smiled sweetly.

"Just excuse me a minute," said the old fellow, "there's a nasty book agent coming."

"I am the book agent, sir," said the girl, and she thrust a hand away down through a hole in her dress and brought up a volume.

"Can't I sell you a copy, sir," she said cheerfully, running through the leaves. "It is only $5, and is profusely illustrated, and so useful that no home is complete without one. Buy a copy, please, and I shall forget that you called me nasty."

"I didn't," puffed the old gentleman, excitedly. "I swear I never said anything of the kind. Leave the book."

Then the old man yelled, "John, give this young lady $5."

When the old gentleman picked up his book to carry home he discovered that it was a collection of love songs.

THE OFFICER BECAME SYMPATHETIC.

At midnight the other night a patrolman found a man lying on the grass under a tree in the Randolph street park, and he aroused him with: "Come, mister, no one is allowed to sleep here."

"But I have a good excuse," replied the man.

"What is it?"

"See that house over there? Well, please do me the favor to go and ring the bell and ask if William Dockey is at home."

The officer ascended the steps and rang the bell. A head was thrust out of an open chamber window and a female voice demanded: "Now, who is there?"

"Madam," replied the officer, "is William Dockey at home?"

"No, sir, and I don't expect him until daylight," snapped the woman, and at the same moment a howl of water descended on the officer's head and half drowned him.

"Well," said the man on the grass, as the dripping officer came up, "you see how it is, don't you? I'm Dockey. That's Mrs. Dockey."

"I think I see," replied the officer. "You can remain right where you are."

Disarming an Unseen Foe.

"This was something a paradox," as Hamlet says. Since, however, the people of America and other lands have been enabled to pit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters against that unseen foe, malaria, it is no longer a paradox, but an easy possibility. Whatever malaria evolves its miasm to poison the air, and decaying unwholesome vegetation impregnate the water, there, in the very stronghold of miasma, is the auxiliary potent to disarm the foe and assure efficient protection. Fever and ague, biliousness, remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, no matter how tenaciously they have fastened their clutch on the system, are first forced to relax their grasp and eventually to abandon it altogether. But it is preventive force that should chiefly recommend the Bitters to persons dwelling in malarious localities, for it is a certain bulwark of defence against which the enemy's powerless. Cures, likewise, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney and bilious ailments.

Notice to P. of H.

The next regular meeting of Linn County Business Council P. of H. will be held with Harrisburg grange at their new hall three miles northeast of Harrisburg at Muddy Station on the O. & C. R. R. on the first Saturday the 5th day of October 1889. Members of the grange from adjoining counties respectfully invited. F. M. KIZER Pres. L. C. B. C.

EAST OF THE ROCKIES

Tanner's Resignation Accepted by President Harrison.

WHAT THE PRESIDENT SAYS.

The U. S. Vessel Iniquis Proved to Be a Very Slow-Gaiter Boat. The Great London Strike.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Commissioner Tanner's letter of resignation is made public. He says: "The difference which exists between the secretary of the interior and myself as to the policy to be pursued in the administration of the pension bureau, has reached a stage which threatens to embarrass you to the extent which I feel I should not call upon you to suffer, and as an investigation into affairs in the bureau has been completed, and I am assured both by yourself and the secretary of the interior, contains no reflection on my integrity as an individual or as an officer, I herewith place my resignation in your hands, to take effect at your pleasure, to the end that you may be relieved of any further embarrassment in the matter."

President Harrison's reply accepts the resignation, to take effect when the successor qualifies, and adds: "I do not think it necessary in this correspondence to discuss the causes which led to the present attitude of affairs. You have been kindly and fully advised of my views on most of these matters. It gives me pleasure to say, as far as I am advised, your honesty has not at any time been called in question. I beg to renew the expression of my personal good will."

A BIG ENTERPRISE.

The Future Plans of the Canadian Pacific.

New York, Sept. 12.—A Montreal special says: T. G. Shaughnessy, assistant general manager of the Canadian Pacific railroad, has been appointed assistant president. He leaves for England by New York to-day to contract for three steamers of 5000 tons each, to steam 18 knots an hour, for the Pacific mail service to China and Japan. They are to be of the same model and design as the North German Lloyd's steamer Lahn to cost $1,000,000 apiece, and to be delivered at Nanconver in eighteen months.

President Van Horn in an interview to-day says that nothing short of universal disaster will prevent the company from earning $20,000,000 next year, and $8,000,000 net, or 6 per cent, on its capital. The government guaranty of 3 per cent, ends in 1893.

HER TRIAL TRIP.

The Iniquis Does Not Develop Sufficient Speed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—The United States man-of-war, Iniquis, which was recently repaired at the Mare Island navy yard, was given a trial trip in the bay this week, preliminary to sending her to Honolulu. The maximum speed developed with the tide in her favor was a little over eight knots, and her average speed was seven and two-tenths knots.

The Iniquis was built thirty years ago, and at that time was regarded as one of the finest wooden ships afloat.

In view of the low rate of speed developed this week there is a doubt expressed as to whether or not she will be sent to Honolulu.

The London Strike.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—A conference between Cardinal Manning and the directors of the dock companies was held to-day. The owners were not willing to compromise.

A Badly Disappointed Dog.

Madison, (Wis.) Journal.

A savage dog made a dash at Captain Curran, Assistant Quartermaster-General of the State, and the latter, who heard the brute's ugly disposition, thought his time had come, the ferocious beast seized him by the leg, his teeth making a peculiar grinding sound as they penetrated the limb. Soon, however, the brute released his hold, looked up into Captain Curran's face with an expression full of chagrin and pain, and then, putting his tail between his legs, sneaked off in a most sheepish manner. He had seized the veteran's wooden leg.

Curious Cause of Death.

A short time ago Aaron Smith left for Swanton, O., to superintend his father's estate. Shortly after arriving he became ill, and died a few days later. A postmortem examination was held. The result of the investigation was singular. A large artery had grown between the heart and the lungs, and the lungs were as hard as stone, caused, it was supposed by the physicians, from inhaling iron dust at the safe works where he was employed. In the heart was an opening of about half an inch, caused by his severe efforts made to breathe.
