It is rumored that Col. T. E. Hogg, of New York, will be in Albany within a few days, and that some important developments concerning the eastward extension of the road will be made public.

Prof. W. H. Young's concert and song service at the W. C. T. U. hall last evening was well attended. He was assisted by good local talent, and the concert was greatly enjoyed by the music loving people present.

The new state of Washington contains 69,574 square miles; 1922 miles of shore land; 1200 miles of navigable rivers; 20,000,000 acres of magnificent timber, which will last at the present rate at which it is being cut 1000 years; 10,000,000 acres of prairie and plain; 5,000,000 acres of rich alluvial bottom land.

A company of sawmill men, among whom is J. C. Goodale, of the Colburg mill, are contemplating the establishment of a sawmill of large capacity at Eugene. A part of the scheme is to build a log railway, which would be nearly four miles long from the McKenzie to the Willamette at Eugene, thus giving the proposed mill the advantage of securing logs from both rivers.

She will give an address at the W. C. T. U. hall at 3 p. m., to which all are invited, and especially the ladies who desire to know more of the work of both the national and local unions. Her evening lecture will be well worth the hearing of all thinking people. She has recently done good work in Washington territory and meets with general favor wherever she speaks, this being her second visit to this coast.

Schufler, the experienced tailor who has charge of that department. Call early and get your choice of patterns before the stock is broken.

Fresh oysters served every day at Hermann's restaurant.

ABOUT SEWERS.

The Part of the Sierras Says Sewerage and Paving is What Makes Cities.

Joaquin Miller, the poet of the sierras, who recently made a tour of Oregon, and then went East, has returned to San Francisco. He has become enthusiastic on the subject of town building, sewerage and paving. He was recently interviewed by a newspaper reporter.

"What makes good towns?" was asked.

"Sewers, sewers, always sewers," replied the poet.

Continuing, he said: "There is Omaha, which was known as a bad man's town of the wild and woolly plains, until a few years ago when the sewer and paving question was agitated. The city spent $5,000,000 or rather went in debt for that sum, and the sewers and pavements made the place. Now, there is Kansas City, the same way exactly, only on a larger scale. Oakland people should learn to build good sewers. Then we will have a busy, bustling town. Give me $2,000,000 and I'll employ men who will build such a town as will astonish everybody from ocean to ocean."

There is no doubt something in what Joaquin says. Money paid to workmen for sewers and the paving of streets is well spent, and it is a question in which Albany will sooner or later be interested on no small scale.

A FLYING TRIP TO THE COUNTRY.

Off to Lower Soda for health. On every hand I find abundant evidence of having had an abundant harvest, but now everything is dried up and waiting for the welcome autumn rains, even old Mr. Parrish as we met him looked as though he had evaporated somewhat. The first town of importance on the road is Lebanon, which shows much thrift in the way of improvement, consisting of a new addition and many new dwellings. Being in a hurry we passed on to Waterloo, where we expected a square meal, but met with a sadder defeat than did old Napoleon at the same place. Everybody had gone—we eat the last meal of the season, that is the last for us. By the way, there is the best farming land about Lebanon that can be found in Linn county.

Sweet Home shows thrift and improvement. A new union church is being built. It will be used by the Evangelical denomination. We stopped at Mrs. Davis' hotel, and were treated to a good meal, with trout and other mountain luxuries. This brings us to Mr. Shay's, who kindly proffered us all the big onions we could eat.

At Lower Soda we found a new proprietor in the hotel, Mr. Crabtree and wife, who furnished everything one could desire in the way of edibles, except trout, but we had plenty of venison and soda water. The new spring gives forth the best soda I have found in America, it is simply delicious to drink. There are only eight or ten tents on the field now. We soon got well, and could not tarry, but will buy the whole business when we get rich. We returned home safely, save running into a wagon on the side of the mountain and breaking a single tree and partially upsetting a few times. The next time I go up I will tell you about it.

The Hand Engine.

To-day the old hand engine, which for twenty years has done effective service for the city of Albany, will start for Hillsboro. Yesterday when it was removed from its quarters in No. 1's engine house, preparatory to shipping the old firemen were so affected to see it go that they tolled the fire bell as a farewell tribute to the faithful servant. It was always effective in its service, and as a monument of its usefulness can enumerate thousands upon thousands of dollars that it has saved from destruction. May it continue its useful career in its new field of operation.

Patents Granted.

The following patents have been granted to citizens of the Pacific States during the past week as reported by C. A. Snow & Co., patent lawyers, Washington, D. C.: E. S. Bonnell, San Francisco, musician exercising; J. Brown, Santa Rosa, Cal., latch; H. R. Coffey, Stockton, Cal., fare register; W. P. Humphrey, San Francisco, dredging; A. W. Livingston, San Francisco, soldering; E. M. O'Grady, San Francisco, drill chuck; O. Pierce, San Francisco, filter; A. Sommers, Berkeley, Cal., solution of sulphuric acid; J. T. Storr, Sacramento, terret; L. F. Thompson, San Francisco, cut off valve; H. O. Triplett, Oakland, Cal., grain separator.

The Siuslaw Railroad.

A surveying party is engaged in the work of locating a railroad route from Eugene City, Oregon, to the coast at the mouth of the Siuslaw, and it is expected that next year such a line will be constructed. The government engineer in charge of improvements on the Oregon coast has reported that Siuslaw is deserving of improvements and recommended a liberal appropriation for that purpose. It is probable that the next river and harbor bill will contain something for the Siuslaw.

Drowned in Yaquina Bay.

On Saturday evening, while four men were crossing over from Yaquina to West Yaquina during a storm in a light skiff, a heavy wave struck her, immediately swamping the boat and throwing them in the water. One of them, named Gus Larsen, a stevedore, was unable to swim and sank and was drowned. His body has not been found.

STATE DISPATCHES.

The Gervais Shooting Was Accidental—Howey Notes from Salem.

Special to the Herald.

SALEM, Sept. 23.—It appears from information obtained from Gervais to-day that the murder said to have been attempted there Sunday was not a murder. Thomas Winning, the young Englishman who said he was shot at twice from an ambush, evidently accidentally shot himself in the arm, which is powder burned. There is no second wound.

Work on the permanent survey of the Salem & Silverton motor line begins to-morrow. The line is pretty certain to be built almost at once.

REAL ESTATE SALES.

The following real estate transfers were recorded yesterday: Henry Epley to S. M. Daniel, lots 13, 14, 15 and 16, Scio, $400; Frank Hayes to J. N. Gulliford, northeast quarter section 19, township 14 south, range 3 west, 1800; E. E. Pentland to W. H. Ramsey, 1 1/2 acres, Scio, 950; E. E. Pentland to W. H. Ramsey, 1 1/4 acres near Scio, 100; J. M. Moyer to H. B. Moyer, 7 acres near Brownsville, 50.

Assassins at Gervais.

Thomas Winning, a young Englishman, 21 years of age, lately from California, who has been working for F. N. Mason, about one and one-half miles east of Brooks, went out hunting on Sunday, and while returning home was shot by some unknown party or parties, who were hid in the brush, the charge taking effect in the right arm, making a very large and dangerous wound. After being shot he cried for help. Then the parties, who were about 150 yards distant, fired again, taking effect in the back. He was taken to Gervais and his wounds dressed by Dr. Stott, who pronounces them quite critical. No reason is assigned for the shooting.

Coming Thursday Evening.

The celebrated Oakes Comedy Sketch Club and Swiss Bell Ringers will positively appear in this city on Thursday evening. The Ogden Standard says of their performance there: The Oakes Comedy Sketch Club and Swiss Bell Ringers played here Tuesday night to a large and appreciative audience. The performance was a success from beginning to end. Harry Eades in his facial contortions is a host in himself. His inimitable delineation of a Kansas lawyer brought down the house. The banjo solo by Frank Hollister, (F. H. Veach), were excellent, and received much applause. Mr. and Mrs. Oakes' selections on the glasses was a decided hit.

New Church.

Elder J. F. Stewart, pastor of the Christian church in this city, returned from Mill City yesterday where he had been in the interests of church matters. An organization of some twenty members of that denomination has been formed at Mill City, a site donated for a church building, and a church will be erected as soon as possible.

CROOK COUNTY NOTES.

PRINEVILLE, Sept. 21.

Winter has certainly set in on Beaver. A person recently down from there says ice has already formed three inches thick in those parts.

Kinman Elliott and family left this week for Linn county. Mr. Elliott has bought a farm near Lebanon which he will make his future home.

Those who have been gathering cattle in the southern part of the county say beef is not in so good condition as usual at this time of the year.

The Oregon Pacific managers propose to have their line completed in time to haul next year's crop of wool out of this county. If this is done it will add several cents a pound to the price of wool here.

The total value of property on which taxes will be paid this year in Crook county is $144,893 less than it was last. This decline is principally owing to the reduction made by the board of equalization in the value of cattle, horses and sheep.

Last Tuesday night J. N. Williamson, who lives at Powell Buttes, about eight miles from town, discovered that his hay stacks were on fire. Several men were at his place that night, and he aroused all hands to help fight the flames. They labored manfully, but between 50 and 60 tons of hay were burned before the fire was put out, leaving Mr. Williamson only about 15 tons of hay and a stack of straw. The loss was about $1000, partially covered by insurance in the State of Salem.

THE HOLINESS REVIVALISTS.

One of Them Arrested at Brownsville—A Little Feeling Exhibited.

Brownsville, Sept. 21.

While in Halsey I had the pleasure of attending a meeting in the M. E. church, conducted by H. B. Keniston. His subject was "Devilism Exposed," in which Mr. Keniston proceeded to handle the Revs. Lambert and Ellis, the two sanctified preachers in a hot-handed manner. The speaker said that Messrs. Lambert and Ellis are the leaders of a certain class of revivalists who have been traveling the country over for a number of years, and growing fat on the hard earned earnings of their followers. It seems that Lambert, who was the leader, would have frequent communications from God informing him that a certain brother or sister must pay over into his hands $300 $400 or $500 as the case might be. He would immediately inform the favored brother of that fact, and if the brother demurred he would be threatened with dismissal from the band of the Chosen Few; that would generally bring the shekels, in several cases parties mortgaging their farms to raise the money. Keniston was one of the followers, but at last getting his eyes opened determined to expose the whole thing.

Recently Ellis preached in Brownsville, and the reverend gentleman talked so abusively about the different church denominations that some of the citizens had him arrested and lodged in the cooler for the night. There is much feeling expressed over their so-called religious procedure.

Disarming an Unseen Foe.

"This was sometime a paradox," as Hamlet says. Since, however, the people of America and other lands have been enabled to pit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters against that unseen foe, malaria, it is no longer a paradox, but an easy possibility. Whatever malarial fever, ague and ague fever, poison the air, and decaying unwholesome vegetation impregnate the water, there, in the very stronghold of miasma, is the auxiliary potent to disarm the foe and assure efficient protection. Fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, no matter how tenaciously they have fastened their clutch on the system, are first forced to relax their grasp and eventually to abandon it altogether. But it is preventive force that should chiefly recommend the Bitters to persons dwelling in malarial localities, for it is a certain buckler of defence against which the enemy's power ceases. Cures, likewise, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney and bilious ailments.

Milton, of 111 Post street, San Francisco, writes: "I had been ailing for weeks with a disorder of the liver and kidneys. Finally my wife, becoming frightened, procured bottles of 'The California Remedy'—Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla. It cured me right up. I had not had so much sleep for months I think."
