Not to see our stoves and ranges before buying is a mistake. Mistakes are always costly. In heating stoves we have the largest as well as the most carefully selected stock in the city.

J. M. Ogle says that his potato patch near Slaughter, W. T., will yield 1000 bushels per acre, and in order to convince the incredulous public of the fact he has arranged for a public inspection of the crop.

Curran & Monteith stated that the new addition of Ketchum & Dubraille, which they placed upon the market a few days ago, has all been sold. This is something of an example of the demand for real estate in Albany.

Noted Lecturer Coming.

Miss Henrietta Moore, of Ohio, who stands high on the list of National W. C. T. U. lecturers is now speaking at different points in this county, and will reach Albany on Monday, the 30th inst. She will give an address at the W. C. T. U. hall at 3 p. m., to which all are invited, and especially the ladies who desire to know more of the work of both the national and local unions. Her evening lecture will be well worth the hearing of all thinking people. She has recently done good work in Washington territory and meets with general favor wherever she speaks, this being her second visit to this coast.

The Wheat Market

The price of wheat in this city remains at 61 cents. There is an upward tone in the market, and the price will no doubt be higher. The foreign markets certainly justify this assertion. England will need to import 144,000,000 bushels during the next twelve months, and the Russian grain crops are disappointing. Russia last year sent most of her grain to the European market. This year she will have to buy back her own grain at an increased price. The price of oats in Albany is 25 to 30 cents.

Lively Runaway.

James Anderson was unloading wheat at the Red Crown Mills yesterday, when his team became frightened and ran away. They brought up at the depot and scared bystanders generally. The wagon was overturned and broken to pieces, but fortunately no one was hurt.

CONGRESSMAN BINGER HELMANN.

He Visits This City and Goes to Yaquina. He Will Return Friday.

Congressman Binger Hermann, according to his commendable custom, has been spending several weeks visiting his constituents in different portions of Oregon, and familiarizing himself with the interests and wants of the people of the state.

He arrived in this city yesterday morning from Roseburg and spent the forenoon in visiting principal points of interest about the city and conversing with prominent citizens concerning matters of interest to this portion of Oregon.

He expressed himself as both surprised and delighted with the indications of growth and prosperity and the material progress made in building and improvements since his last visit two years ago.

"These fine brick buildings, electric lights, the street cars rushing to and fro," he said, "give Albany a decided metropolitan appearance, and your business men inform me that the volume of business is increasing in a corresponding rate to the growth of the city."

"Albany's important railroad connections contribute much to her prosperity, and it is needless to speak of the rich country tributary to the city, as the wealth and value of old Linn county is well known abroad. It is gratifying to note how rapidly the country east of here is being developed by the building of the Oregon Pacific railroad."

"I find the towns all over Oregon enjoying an era of growth, and the country was never in a more prosperous condition. Our neighbors in the East seem determined to share this prosperity with us, for certainly the steady influx of well-to-do, industrious and energetic people from the East during the past year has been wonderful."

Mr. Hermann has interested himself in the matter of securing better mail facilities in this portion of the state, for which the people will be truly thankful.

The administration at Washington, he said, has an eye on some of the timber land jobbery that has been going on in this state and Washington during the past year, and a rigid investigation is likely to be made, which Mr. Hermann thinks will result in the suspension of many fraudulent entries made.

Mr. Hermann left on the 1 o'clock train for Yaquina, where he will inspect the government work on the north and south jetties, and ascertain as near as possible the needs of the harbor in the way of appropriations, etc. Congressman Hermann has always labored faithfully for the development of every portion of Oregon, and is one of the most popular, able and untiring representatives of the interests of the entire state.

He will return from Yaquina on Friday and will probably remain in this city until Saturday morning, when he will go to Salem, and from there return to his home in Roseburg. He will return to his post of duty at Washington in about six weeks.

The following real estate transfers were recorded yesterday: J. M. Porter to Douglas and J. Taylor, west half of lots 1 and 7, block 8, Halsey $1000. Wm. Weddle to Sarah C. Weddle, 120 acres in section 26, township 11 south, range 1 west, 600. H. L. and F. B. Reese to Herman Metzger and S. Wasserman, west half of section 36, township 13 south, range 2 west, 600. Gilbert, 1 acre in eastern suburbs of the city, 800. Jay W. Blain to Dr. I. N. Woodie, 14 1/2 acres in eastern suburbs, 8000. Dubraille & Ketchum to C. W. Watts, 9 lots in Dubraille & Ketchum's Addn., 900.

To-Night's Entertainment.

Concerning the Oakes Comedy Sketch Club and Swiss Bell Rings, who will appear in this city this evening, the Idaho Statesman says: "This excellent company gave two excellent entertainments in our city on Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week. Frank Hollister (F. H. Veatch) as a banjo artist is the best on the road. The crystal chimes, performed by John and Alice Oakes, was simply charming. Mr. William Weston in his musical comedy act entitled, 'Excuse Me While I Make Another Noise,' raised such a storm of laughter and applause that he was compelled to pause until it was over. Fades, as a facial clown, is a wonder. The other members of the company did excellent work. Come again, Sketch Club!"

Take Notice.

All persons indebted to the late firm of Bardeue & Robertson will please call at the store and settle their accounts without delay and greatly oblige, J. M. Bardeue, successor to Bardeue & Robertson.

Fall and Winter Opening.

Of fine millinery at Ida M. Brush's, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 27 and 28. The ladies of Albany and vicinity cordially invited.

COL. HOGG COMING.

He Will Arrive in Albany in a Few Days With a Party of Capitalists.

A few days ago the HERALD stated that Col. T. Edgerton Hogg, president of the Oregon Pacific Railroad, would probably arrive in this city within a short time. It is now learned definitely that he is on his way here in company with a party of New York capitalists, and will arrive in Corvallis on Friday, where a public reception will be tendered the party, a meeting of citizens having been called by the mayor for that purpose.

It is said by those in a position to know that the men in company with Col. Hogg are capitalists who have recently invested largely in the road, and are coming out to see something of the wonderful improvements being made along the route of the road.

"The Oregon Pacific company is all right," said a well posted railroad man to a HERALD reporter yesterday.

"Another year," he said, "will witness the establishment of car and machine shops of no small dimensions in Albany, and the headquarters of the company will be removed to Albany and contracts let for completing the road across Eastern Oregon and on to Boise City."

Nor is this opinion at all visionary. It is known now that the Oregon Pacific is on a sound financial basis, and while, like all great undertakings, the work of building the road eastward has progressed slowly, it has been moving steadily forward toward such a connection.

It is believed that the coming of Col. Hogg will be a signal for more rapid and active work in this direction. The Colonel and party will probably arrive in Albany the last of the week. They will be given a cordial welcome here, and we believe will not be displeased with the evidences of growth and prosperity in this city as well as along the entire route.

MORE REAL ESTATE SALES.

The following sales have been made through the real estate agency of Burkhardt & Keeney in the last few days: To M. E. Balch, 5 acres of garden land, belonging to J. H. Burkhardt, consideration, $410. To M. Fish, 6 acres of garden land, belonging to F. Valley; consideration, $320. To T. H. Goddard, 5 acres of garden land, belonging to J. H. Burkhardt, $410. To Robert Hederick, 10 acres, same as above; consideration, $820. To C. H. Goddard, 12 1/2 acres, same as above; consideration, $1100. To C. H. Hart, 10 acres of garden land, belonging to F. Valley; consideration, $550. To Andrew Benksen, 11 1/2 acres of land, 2 miles north of the city; consideration, $600. To S. Shupp, 22 feet front on First street, belonging to W. J. Morgan, occupied by Hale Backesto; consideration, $6000.

Landmarks Gone.

Forest fires have destroyed the "witness trees" that marked the boundary between Oregon and California by the survey made some fifteen years ago, thus obliterating all record of the same. The Jacksonville Times says that a party that recently took the contract for surveying five townships in Curry county was obliged to suspend operations as all traces of the state line had vanished. The folly of leaving nothing but trees to witness the established boundary between states would be inconceivable but for the fact that government surveyors closely resemble other officials in that they work mainly for the money that is in the job.

Oregon's Volcanoes.

Joaquin Miller says he talked with an old Oregonian, within the past thirty years, who saw Mt. St. Helens in active eruption in 1842. "This old man was at The Dalles, then a Hudson Bay post, at the time and said that two inches of ashes fell there. And I read on good authority that it is a matter of record that an Indian traveling on the spur of the mountain at the time of the eruption was treated by an English surgeon at one of the British posts for injuries to his feet from hot lava, that well nigh proved fatal. Joseph Meek, our first delegate to Congress from Oregon, told me, when a little boy, that he had seen trees that were badly burned by flowing lava, but still standing. Still, there may be some room for doubt and speculation in all this; but there is no doubt about the lava, tufa and pumice stone which you encounter at the very outset when you attempt to ascend any of these snow peaks either in Washington or in Oregon. And indeed, the very graves on the banks of the great river here are often dug in ashes and lava, just as on the mountain sides beyond the city of Mexico."

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

The Plan for the Work for the Series of 1889-90.

From Professor E. R. Lake, in charge of the department of botany and horticulture, agricultural college, Corvallis, it is learned that the following six institutes will be held under the auspices of the State Agricultural College during the coming winter season. The college will be represented at each institute by at least two members of the faculty. The management of these institutes lies largely with the experiment station council, and it is hoped that this series may prove even more interesting than did the series last year. The following places and dates are set. Slight changes may be made if better dates can be given by the localities interested.

The names accompanying the places and dates are those of members of the college faculty who will present addresses.

A Royal Banquet.

At a special meeting of St. John's lodge, No. 62, A. F. & A. M., held at their hall last evening the Master Mason's degree was conferred upon Messrs. A. Klein and J. R. Abbey. After the ceremonies in the lodge room the two new-made Masons invited the entire lodge and visiting members to a banquet at the Revere House. A sumptuous meal was served and the occasion was a most enjoyable and pleasant one.
