EDITORIAL NOTES.
The cranberry crop and the turkey yield...

The German government has placed to the credit of her navy department 32,000,000 marks...

Extreme cold weather is causing much suffering among the survivors of the Johnstown flood...

The French soldiers receive the magnificent sum of five cents per day, as payment for their services...

Observers of provident animals and insects say that the supply of winter stores is amply large enough to satisfy the most credulous...

The demand for lumber in this state this year has far exceeded the supply, and every sawmill has been kept actively busy with orders...

The Statesman is authority for the statement that nearly every man coming to the penitentiary or asylum lately is a morphine fiend...

Spain is becoming alarmed over the emigration taking place from that country to the South American republics...

The matter of fruit in the state of Oregon has become a serious question. The apple crop, through the devastation of the codling moth...

The secretary of the treasury has awarded the contract for furnishing material and labor for the construction of the telegraph line between Tillamook rock light station and Fort Stevens, Or...

The effort to defeat the constitution in Washington though taken up with great zeal on the part of some, seems to have had a boomerang action...

The ghost of the Chinese nation seems to have some power to affect even cold blooded American editors, as will be seen in the Free Press when its editor hints at what may come, in saying that "Emile de Laveleye says that 1000 years hence, setting China aside, there would be in the world two colossal and overshadowing powers—Russia and the United States. His setting a 4th of China is significant in that it indicates that he is one of the many publicists who believe that the celestial empire is destined to be an active, aggressive and disturbing element among the nations of the world...

Some material political changes seem imminent in Canada's government affairs. It is hinted in official circles that Lord Stanley is not going to remain his full term of office as governor-general of Canada, but that he will return to England to take part in the next general elections for the British Parliament as a supporter of Lord Salisbury and a prospective member of his cabinet. It is said that Queen Victoria is anxious that the Earl of Fife, her new grandson, shall be assigned to the post of governor-general of the Dominion.

And now comes the stunning news that Commissioner Groff, of the general land office, has issued an order to the chiefs of divisions, clerks and employees of the general land office, forbidding them to give to newspaper correspondents any official information whatever respecting the business and workings of the office. Such information as may be proper to be given out will be furnished by the commissioner. Commissioner Groff need not borrow any trouble over the matter. The newspaper correspondents will find a way to secure all the information they want. It would seem also that there is little of interest that need be kept dark in the working of the general land office.

Engene Register: There arrived on Monday night's train a car containing a whole farming outfit and family direct from the East. They brought horses, chickens and everything in the shape of household goods. They evidently thought they were coming into a wilderness and supposed they could not buy such things here.

Wheat is worth 63 1/2 cents.
