TROUBLE IN MEXICO.

The Worst Not Told Concerning the Fight on the Border.

THE MIGHTY CZAR OF RUSSIA.

He Shakes Hands with the Emperor of Germany—Assembling of the International Congress in Washington City.

[The HERALD's Special Dispatches.]

CITY OF MEXICO, Oct. 11.—Gen. Cervantes, commanding the government forces in the Yagur country, who arrived here Saturday on leave of absence, returned to his post yesterday by order of the government. No exact account of the fighting there can be obtained. Gen. Cervantes assured a correspondent that it was dangerous to give or publish news of a campaign.

INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS.

The Delegates Beginning to Assemble at Washington City.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The delegates to the international conference are beginning to arrive. The first to report was A. M. Bisbee, delegate from China. He is an American who has been for many years connected with the Chinese imperial customs service. Chevalier Settebrini, Italy's delegate, has arrived in this country and will be in Washington within a day or two. The conference will meet next Wednesday.

THE CZAR OF RUSSIA.

He Arrives at Berlin and Shakes Hands With the Emperor.

BERLIN, Oct. 11.—The czar arrived in Berlin this morning, accompanied by Emperor William. They were received by the empress and emperor's representatives. Afterwards the czar turned to Bismarck and shook hands with him. He also had a long conversation with the chancellor, and subsequently entering a carriage drove to the Russian embassy at a fast trot and entered the gates.

WORMY APPLES AND PEARS.

How to Kill the Pests and Save the Fruit at a Small Outlay.

Salem Statesman.

It is a fact that all the apples in this valley, with only few exceptions, were ruined this year and the crop that promised fair in the beginning, promises nothing in the end. Early in the spring the apple trees were set full of young fruit, but it kept falling until, when ripening time came, only an occasional apple could be seen on the tree and those were usually worm eaten and worthless. To speak in a general way, Oregon has no apple crop in 1889 and the question is asked by a farmer who lives in the red hills, "How are we to be rid of the worm?" This question applies almost as much to pears as apples, for the worms also attack pears though they perfer the apple.

It is well proved by the experience of Oregon fruit growers, and especially those at The Dalles, that to spray trees four or five times between early May, when the blossom falls, and September, when the worm ceases work, is a certain means of preserving apples and pears. A pound of London purple to 150 or 200 gallons of water answers, and a spraying pump and equipment can be fixed up for $20, that will answer for a whole neighborhood. The first spray should be made when the boom falls and leaves the young fruit just formed, and then twice a month afterwards up to September to do thorough work.

These who own the pump together can help each other. Besides the time the only expense will be for the London purple, which costs 30 cents a pound and a pound will poison 150 to 200 gallons.

It is estimated by one who saved his fruit this year and hired all the labor done, that the entire cost was 2 cents a bushel. If the only outlay had been for the poison and the labor had been done at home, the cost would not have been half a cent. It is easy enough for a man to decide if his apples and pears are worth the saving at that price. It looks as if it would pay well to make the effort.

A force pump with two spraying rods and nozzles connected with the pump by india rubber hose, can be easily rigged to a tank or tub that can be set on a cart or a sled. One man to drive and work the pump and two others to hold the spraying pipes will go over 500 young apple or pear trees that will yield a bushel of fruit apiece in an afternoon. In spraying 500 trees four times you will use $1.00 worth of London purple.

Here is a plainly proven fact, that by spraying with a solution of London purple apples and pears can be saved and worms killed. Any one can do it and any neighborhood can own a partnership outfit, as was done at The Dalles. Now it narrows down to this; will you have choice apples and pears, or will you let the worms take them? No one can help you and you can easily help yourself—if you wish to do so.

CANADA AROUSED.

Chinese Immigration Not Desired in the Dominion.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Remonstrances are being received from eminent men in the Dominion protesting against the removal of the restriction now in force against Chinese immigration into Canada. The matter has aggravated the provincial wrath, already sufficiently aroused by the sealing squabble, to the highest pitch, and influential members of Parliament are already being appealed to to oppose the removal of the barriers against a Chinese invasion at the next session of Parliament.

On the other hand, the merchants at open Chinese ports have informed the Government that unless the Chinese are treated as human beings by England the latter can have no grounds for complaints if discriminations are made against her subjects that will have a crushing effect upon the trade of England with the Celestial Empire. The English colonists at Hongkong and other ports are wealthy and influential and will spare no trouble and expense to put the question before Parliament in the most favorable light.

The English at home, not being brought into contact with the Chineee in any appreciable numbers, are not aware how objectionable they are in many respects as neighbors. One gentleman, holding a place in the Council of Nations, even ventured to remark to a prominent Canadian that the Chinese ought not to prove so dangerous an element to the dominion as the French Canadians, who are the descendants of England's hereditary enemies.

SCIENTIFIC.

The heaviest purely metallic meteorite known is the "thunderbolt" of the Arab Sheik Kalrph Ben Assab. It fell in Central Arabia, and is one of the ten known meteorites that have been seen when falling. It was bought by English authorities, who have since caused it to be chemically analyzed. It contains 91.04 per cent. of iron 7.40 nickle, 0.66 cobalt, traces of copper, phosphorus, and 0.39 of amorphous carbon. Its weight is one hundred and twenty pounds. Much larger stony meteorites are known, including on of twenty-five tons.

Dr. Von Duhring has reported a case in which tuberculosis was transmitted by the ear-rings of a girl who died of consumption to another girl. Shortly after the second girl commenced to wear the ear-rings, an ulcer containing tubercle bacilli formed on her left ear, and she subsequently developed palmonary consumption.

A process of removing tattoo-marks, recommended by M. Variot, consists in re-tattooing a small patch at a time with tannin, then rubbing with a nitrate of silver crayon, and afterwards sprinkling with tannin powder several times daily for several days. In a fortnight or so a dark crust comes away leaving only an inconspicuous reddish scar.

Prof. G. Sormani has shown that the flesh of animals which have died of tetanus may be eaten with impunity, the bacillus passing through the system without causing special disturbance. An animal may swallow unharmed 10,000 times more than would kill it placed beneath the skin. The germ itself is unaffected by the digestive juices.

An official report states that in England and Wales 546 persons were killed by lightning during the twenty-nine years from 1852 to 1880. The inhabitants of rural districts are found to suffer more from lightning than those of tows, while vicinity to the west and south coast reduces the chances of injury by lightning, and distance from the coast and high land seems to increase them.

Disarming an Unseen Foe.

"This was sometime a paradox," as Hamlet says. Since, however, the people of America and other lands have been enabled to pit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters against that unseen foe, malaria, it is no longer a paradox, but an easy possibility. Whatever malaria evolves its misty venom to poison the air, and decaying unwholesome vegetation impregnater the water, there, in the very stronghold of miasma, is the auxiliary potent to disarm the foe and assure efficient protection. Fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, no matter how tenaciously they have fastened their clutch on the system, are first forced to relax their grasp and eventually to abandon it altogether. But it is preventive force that should chiefly recommend the Bitters to persons dwelling in malaria-cursed localities, for it is a certain buckler of defence against which the enemy is powerless. Cures, likewise, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney and billious ailments.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.

A Lineman Killed by Electric Light Wires in New York.

AN APPALLING SPECTACLE.

He Was Literally Broiled to Death in Mid-Air in the Presence of Hundreds of Horrified Spectators.

Special to the HERALD.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—An electric light lineman met with a horrible death to-day at the corner of Center and Chambers streets from coming in contact with an electric light wire. He was employed by the Western Union Co. and presented a terrible sight as he died on the network of wires in mid-air, while the deadly fluid actually made his body sizzle, and the blood poured out on the sidewalk and over the clothes of the horrified spectators. The accident occurring in the middle of the day in one of the busiest parts of the city was witnessed by a large crowd of people. The man's body lay limp and motionless over the mass of wires attached to the cross tree of the poles. Firemen brought down a ladder and one went up with a pair of shears to cut the wires. The lineman was found to be dead.

The wire was turned towards him and in fifteen minutes the electricity had burned off one-half of the face of victim. His left arm was also found to be burning and every few seconds blue flames spurted out from various parts of the body. Hundreds of people stood spell bound as they looked at the awful sight overhead.

No one dared go near. Even the firemen's faces blanched with horror. Lineman Benson, the dead man's companion, was asked why he did not go up. He simply said: "It's no use. He is dead. I don't know the electric wires. I can't help him. I was on the other pole and don't know anything about it." All this was said in a catching, halting voice, as of a man completely overcome with horror and emotion.

Immediately after the accident Mayor Grant was notified. The Mayor gave order to have the wires that caused the accident cut at once. His secretary said that the mayor would act promptly in the matter, and it is possible that he may order the cutting of all the electric light wires above ground to-night, whereupon a large part of the city will be in darkness.

Let us give the readers of the HERALD a little timely advice. Hot weather is coming and with it colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhoea. The only safe way to combat these diseases, is to keep some reliable remedy at hand, and all who have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy will admit that it is the most prompt, reliable and successful medicine known for these complaints. It costs but 25 or 50 cents, and may be the means of saving you or your family much suffering if not life itself, before the summer is over. For sale by Foshay & Mason
