OVER THE WIRES.

Terrible Disaster on a Cincinnati Street Railway Incline.

SEVERAL PASSENGERS KILLED

News East of the Rockies and the Old World—The Chicago Jury Bribery Case.

The HERALD'S Special Dispatches.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 15.—The most appalling accident ever known on the inclined plane railways of this city happened to-day between 12 and 1 o'clock on the Mount Auburn inclined plane road. It lies at the head of Main street and it reaches the hight of between 250 and 300 feet in the space of 2000 feet. Two cars are employed, one on each track, drawn by two steel wire cables wound upon a drum at the top of the hill by an engine located there. Nine passengers had entered the car at the foot of the plane and a number more were in the car at the top. The passage of the ascending car was all right until it reached the top when to his horror the engineer found the machinery would not respond, and he could not stop the engine. Only one result was possible. The car was arrested by a strong bumper which stopped its progress, and as the engine continued all its force was extended on the two cables and they snapped like wrapping thread. Then the car with its inmates locked within began the descent of that frightful slope. The crash at the foot of the plane was frightful. The iron gate that formed the lower end of the truck on which the car rested was thrown 16 feet down the street. The top of the car was almost as far in the gutter. The truck itself and the floor and seats of the car formed a shapeless wreck, mingled with the bleeding and mangled bodies of the passengers. Two were taken out dead. Five others are injured, perhaps fatally. One man escaped miraculously with but slight injuries.

A Battle With Natives.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Advices from Brisbane, Greenland, states that Sir Wm. Magrell, administrator of New Guiana, accompanied by twenty-two men, recently landed on the Island of Demara, were attacked by 250 natives, who after hard fighting were repulsed. Eleven natives were killed and wounded. Several whites were wounded. The party then burned the village of the natives.

The Chicago Jury Bribers.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The investigation into the methods of the jury bribery is temporarily at a standstill to-day. The efforts of the state are now directed toward the bringing out of the leader of the conspiracy. The examination of veniremen was resumed in the Cronin case this morning.

Honors for Emperor William.

THE FASCINATION OF NIAGARA

A Possible Explanation of the Many Suicides at the Falls.

Buffalo Express.

"Never," said an old resident of the village, "have I known so many people going over the falls as during the past six months." During that time some eight or nine persons have been known to pass over, three of which have been deliberate suicides. It is a source of wonder to many people living here why persons will come from a distance to Niagara apparently to commit suicide.

The press despatch sent out from Binghamton under the impression that the last suicide was a Miss Mead of that place, says that the young lady visited this place a short time ago and has been "strangely fascinated with Niagara ever since." It is a well-known fact that scarcely any two persons have the same impression when first looking upon the rapids or falls. Only a few evenings since your correspondent heard a clergyman in a neighboring city make this remark: "I never look upon Niagara above the falls but that there is a strong desire to get into the water, lie down and go with it. I have no thought of suicide, but it always seems to me as if it would be pleasant to go with the water."

A lady from Rhode Island was making her first visit to Niagara, and was standing on one of the Sister Island bridges, looking into the rapids underneath. She hurriedly took the arm of her companion, and asked to leave the spot. Upon reaching the center of Goat Island she sank upon a seat, seemingly exhausted and very nervous. When asked the cause, she said:

"I don't know what came over me, but if I had stood on the bridge another moment nothing could have prevented me jumping into the rapids."

"Why", said her friend, "do you wish to commit suicide?"

"God forbid!" said she. "It was the furthest thought, but there was an impulse which I could not control, and I do not think I would dare live at Niagara."

Others have experienced a similar sensation.

A YOUTHFUL FORGER.

How a Four-Year-Old Gained His Liberty.

Chicago Herald.

Sometimes children are wise beyond their years. Upon one of the South Side avenues is a lady who is the mother of a bright youngster aged 4 years. This youngster of hers has annoyed her greatly by running away during the day to the house of a neighbor, about a block away, and hiding himself there until some one is sent after him. Rather than be annoyed in locating after him, his mother called on the lady who owned the children in the next block and came to an understanding with her.

"When I am willing that Georgie should call on your children," she said, "I will write a note to that effect and pin it on his arm. In the note I will state what time I want him sent home, and you can act accordingly."

Well, the other lady aggreed to this plan. A day or so later the youngster appeared at her house with a note pinned on his arm. She thought it was all right, and she allowed him to play with her children until she thought it time to look and see when he was to be sent home. When she unfolded the paper she saw nothing but a lot of scribbling and she asked the youngster what it meant.

"Well," he said, "my mamma was asleep when I wanted to come up here so I wrote the note myself."

The lady was dumfounded. The wise youngster had seen his mother write the notes which gave him his freedom, so he thought, as she was asleep when he wanted to go, that he might as well write a note himself rather than disturb her. That boy will never get left.

HOW A STATE IS MADE.

The Steps that Will Be Necessary to Admit Washington.

"Now that the constitution is adopted, how will the fact that Washington is a state be recognized by the general government?" was a question put to Supreme Justice-elect John P. Hoyt by a reporter.

"It is an interesting question, and the mode of procedure is as follows," replied Justice Hoyt. "The returns of the various counties as soon as they are all in, are canvassed by the county auditor, probate judge and another county officer, and if found to be correct are forwarded to the territorial secretary.

"When all the returns are in, the secretary of the territory, the governer and chief justice, or any two of them, will proceed to canvass the returns, together with a statement of the votes cast for the constitution, and upon the separate articles thereof. Then it shall be forwarded to Washington to the president."

"Will it be forwarded by messenger or by mail?"

"As there is no providing for the payment of a messenger, I presume that our constitution will be confided to the care of Uncle Sam's mails under the protection of a registered package. The president will examine the organic law of the state of Washington, and if it is Republican in form and if the provisions of the enabling act have been complied with in the formation, the president will issue a proclamation announcing the result. Thereupon the state of Washington shall be declared admitted to the Union by congress under virtue of the enabling act. It shall stand on an equal footing with the original states from and after the date of the issuance of the proclamation."

"How soon do you think it will be, judge, before the president will issue his proclamation?"

"It is possible it may be issued in a month, but it may take longer."

THE U. S. NAVY.

Our New War Vessels are Models of Excellence.

GREAT SPEED ATTAINED.

The Navy of This Country Is Beginning to Assume Respectable Proportions—Foreign Vessels Compared.

The recent performance of the cruiser Baltimore placed that vessel in the formost rank of armed cruisers on the sea. She has developed, so far as can be learned, a speed greater than any vessel of her tonnage class and over, save one, though it is indisputable that she has been beaten by numerous smaller vessels, the Vesuvius being one. Of the vessels which have surpassed the Baltimose in speed there may be mentioned the Reina Regente of the Spanish navy and the Piemonte of the Italian Navy.

The Reina Regente justly claims the honor of acquiring for her tonnage displacement the greatest speed yet obtained in a warship. The Piemonte is less than 3000 tons displacement, which places her below the Baltimore. All of the torpedo boats exceed the Baltimore's speed, but a comparison can hardly be made between them and such a craft as the Baltimore. There are many vessels in the British Navy that have done nineteen knots, several have gone over twenty knots, but in so doing they have not brought their mean speed to the standard obtained by the Baltimore. The Melpomene and Immortalite, it will be observed, approach close to the figures obtained by the Baltimore. For the reason that vessels of the torpedo-boat catcher type do not properly enter into comparison with a forty-five-hundred-ton cruiser, the doings of such craft as the Rattlesnake, Sharpshooter, Jim, Vesuvius, Tripoli, El Destructor and the torpedo boat Ariete belong in a class of their own.

It certainly seems that when Americans are determined to build fine vessels they succeed in turning out models that excite the admiration of the world. This was the case in the days of the Old Ironsides. It was true in 1812. Shortly before the war, when such ships as the Hartford and sloop of war Brooklyn appeared, admiration for them abroad was universal. The frigate Niagara was another such craft. But since the late war we have done absolutely nothing except design the Trenton—another vessel greatly praised. With the advent of the new navy we have seen the Reach cruisers do more than 15 knots an hour. The Yorktown has 17.2 knots. The Vesuvius has attained a maximum of 22.9 knots and a mean of 21.646 knots. The Baltimore now makes her appearance with a maximum speed to her credit of 20.2 knots and a mean of 19.6 knots in a four hours' run.

It will be noticed that the navy of the United States is steadily coming out of its state of innocuous desuetude and is becoming a thing of credit to the country.

Disarming an Unseen Foe.

"This was sometime a paradox," as Hamlet says. Since, however, the people of America and other lands have been enabled to pit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters against that unseen foe, malaria, it is no longer a paradox, but an easy possibility. Whatever malaria evolves its misty venom to poison the air, and decaying unwholesome vegetation impregnater the water, there, in the very stronghold of miasma, is the auxiliary potent to disarm the foe and assure efficient protection. Fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, no matter how tenaciously they have fastened their clutch on the system, are first forced to relax their grasp and eventually to abandon it altogether. But it is preventive force that should chiefly recommend the Bitters to persons dwelling in malaria-cursed localities, for it is a certain buckler of defence against which the enemy is powerless. Cures, likewise, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney and billious ailments.
