tended his hand and warmly congratulated him upon the sentiment. Many catching the significance of the scene sprang also to their feet and cheered and wildly waved handkerchiefs...

International projects will be more easily accomplished for no questions will arise but what will be settled without interrupting or delaying work upon such enterprises. With the establishment of the national amity and comity that must surely follow this conference...

The so-called Australian system of voting did not work well in Montana, for the deciding vote for Toole, who was elected for governor, was cast by a hundred dagoes who could not read nor speak English.

The collision of the passenger trains upon the Burlington and Missouri at Gibson, a few miles from Omaha, wherein a large number of passengers were injured and several lives lost, appears to have been the result of careless negligence.
