OVER THE WIRES.

The Usual Budget of News From the State Capital.

SALEM'S NEW POSTMASTER.
News East of the Rockies—Young Gil Found Murdered in a Brook—Operations of Bold Highwayman.

THE HERALD'S SPECIAL DISPATCHES.
SALEM, Oct. 25.—Circuit court adjourned this afternoon, having pretty well cleared the docket. It was in session two weeks and sent three men to the penitentiary. The commission of Hon. A. N. Gilbert, the new postmaster, was mailed from Washington on the 19th inst. and is expected to arrive to-morrow. He will probably assume charge of the office on November 1st.

The recently incorporated Salem Building and Loan Association will meet to-night and effect a permanent organization by electing officers. They will soon be ready for active operation and prepared to make loans to members.

THE BOOK OF JOB.
A Preacher Who Says It Is Only a Poem.

ROCKFORD, (Ill.), Oct. 24.—Professor E. L. Curtis of the McCormick Theological Seminary started the orthodox congregation of Westminster Presbyterian Church here Sunday by declaring in a sermon his belief that the Book of Job is only a poem, written by some pious Jew during a period of exile. He asserted that the book was only a parable, and that Job and other persons mentioned were but creatures of poetical fancy.

He gave as one of his reasons for this belief that it was not reasonable to suppose that any man who had become so reduced by fasting and bodily sundering could utter such lofty poetic sentiments as are ascribed to Job.

FOUND IN A BROOK.
The Dead Body of a Handsome Young Woman.

GREENWICH (N. Y.), Oct. 24.—The body of Maggie Haugrain, who disappeared on Friday night, was found Saturday in a shallow brook about a mile from the village. Miss Haugrain was a handsome young lady of 18, of excellent reputation and social standing, well known and highly respected. The body was nearly nude, and an examination showed that she had been assaulted. There is no clue to the perpetrators.

A DESPERATE ROBBER.
He Shoots a Bank Manager, and Kills Himself to Avoid Capture.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—A desperate attempt at bank robbery was made at Didsbury, Lancashire to-day. An unknown man entered the bank, drew a revolver and shot Allen, the manager. He then fired at the clerk, seized £80 and bolted across the country. A crowd pursued him, and he was soon overtaken. Finding escape shut off, he shot and killed himself. Allen's wound is not necessarily fatal.

TRAFFIC ARRANGEMENT.
Between the Chicago & Northwestern and the Union Pacific

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—President Depew, of the New York Central, said to-day, referring to the statement made in a morning paper, that there had been an alliance made between the Chicago & Northwestern and the Union Pacific: "The statement is correct. There has been a traffic arrangement made between the roads, but nothing further has been done, and I have nothing to add."

Newspapers and Magazines.
The time is now approaching when people will want a good supply of reading matter for the winter evenings. F. L. Kenton continues to receive subscriptions for all the leading news papers and magazines. All papers except the Delineator and renewals to the Youths Companion are furnished at publishers regular prices, thus saving the subscriber the trouble, risk and expense of sending orders to the publishers. All orders are forwarded without delay. Price lists furnished free.

The Latest Novelty in Pantaloons.
Zaches Bros., merchant tailors and drapers, opposite the postoffice, are prepared to place before the Albany people their own invention of cutting and making pantaloons without an outside seam. The novelty is not only without a seam, but in bright stripes and checks. The foreparts are bound to coincide with the same of the backparts. We guarantee a perfect fit in every pair or money refunded.

Blackman's Addition to Albany.
This addition, which has been recently platted embraces sixty-five beautiful and sightly lots. The addition lies just south of Hackleman's grove, and is beautifully situated. These lots will now be placed on the market at $50 per lot, by Burkhardt & Mallin, who are the agents for this addition.

A MODERN SAMPSON.

The Man that can Make John L. Sullivan Take a Back Seat.

The following story detailing the muscular feats of a modern Sampson is taken from a London exchange:
The spectator, as he watches, feels that it is better to be friendly with such a man, for with a blow of his fist he breaks an iron chain that will bear a pressure 3,000 lbs. With his two hands grasping a short chain of 2,500 pounds ascertained pressure he makes a momentary effort and pulls the iron chain to bits, and in what seems the most wonderful feat—namely, fastening two tight iron chain bracelets or armlets around his biceps—the spectator may view the process from beginning to end. One hears the strong man take a long breath, sees the muscles of his arm growing bigger and bigger, the cords of his neck swelling with the sustained effort, his face crimsoning and then in the silence these nearest he state can hear a curious little snuffing snap. It is the double chain armlet that has broken and which the next second falls to the floor.
When Sampson's fist is clinched ready to strike the measurement of his upper arm round the biceps and triceps is 19 1/2 inches, which, we may casually remark, is considered a tolerable waist for a young lady.

A TALKATIVE JURIST.
Judge Deady Gives His Opinion of Sarah Althea.

A Washington dispatch says Judge Mathew P. Deady of the Oregon Federal Circuit and District court, before whom the famous Sharon-Hill case was brought to a hearing, is in Washington.

Judge Deady wrote the opinion declaring the famous marriage contract a forgery, and Judge Sawyer wrote a concurring opinion.

On being interviewed by a Post reporter Judge Deady said: "I came East as a delegate to the Episcopal convention in New York. Yes, I sat in the Sharon-Hill case. "The fact is that woman was merely his mistress. He gave her $500 a month, furnished her magnificent quarters and spent his money on her lavishly. Her influence on Judge Terry was undoubtedly bad. She urged him to act beyond even his own inclination. In November she will be tried before me for resisting the authorities. It is very likely she may at some favorable opportunity attempt the lives of Justice Field, Judge Sawyer or myself. I predict she will die a violent death."

A PLAGUE OF EELS.
They Clog Up Canals and Prevent Water-Wheels From Running.

The following pretty large fish story is told by telegraph from Washington: Western sportsmen who delight to handle the reel and search for the finny tribe should come to Washington. The water mains hereabouts are filling up with eels. In some places along the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal in the District there are so many eels that they interfere with the workings of the locks, and the wheels in some of the old-fashioned watermills are reported to be clogged up now and then by this long, slippery and slimy species of fish.

At the last session of the Maryland Legislature a bill was passed providing for the extermination of eels in the Wycomico river and the sum of $5000 was appropriated for the purpose. The State Fish Commissioners were instructed to expend this sum and report the result of their labors. Their work has been well done, but they say that the nuisance has not been abated. The money was expended in bounties, 2 cents being paid for each eel delivered to any of the six inspectors distributed along the river. The enormous number of 70,000 eels were captured and paid for and Mr. Toadvine, one of the commissioners, says there are more eels in the Wycomico river to-day than when he began his work of extermination. They vary in length from two feet to an inch.

Disarming an Unseen Foe.
"This was sometimes a paradox," as Hamlet says. Since, however, the people of America and other lands have been enabled to pit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters against that unseen foe, malaria, it is no longer a paradox, but an easy possibility. Whatever malaria evolves its mists venoms poison the air, and decaying unwholesome vegetation impregnates the water, there, in the very stronghold of miasma, is the auxiliary potent to disarm the foe and assure efficient protection. Fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, no matter how tenaciously they have fastened their clutch on the system, are first forced to relax their grasp and eventually to abandon it altogether. But it is preventive force that should chiefly recommend the Bitters to persons dwelling in malaria-cursed localities, for it is a certain buckler of defence against which the enemy's powerless. Cures, likewise, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney and bilious ailments.

Why Women Fade
Women lose their beauty because colds undermine their life. Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption is an absolute cure for colds.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES.

The condition of Otto, King of Bavaria is reported as precarious. He is suffering from insanity.

The switchmen's strike at the Louisville & Nashville yards at Evansville, Ind., is practically ended. Judge A. M. Bryant, one of the most prominent republicans of Texas, was thrown from his buggy Wednesday evening and killed. He was seventy years of age.

John S. Bagber, the newly appointed United States judge for Alaska, has received his commission, and will sail from San Francisco for Sitka on November 6.

It is reported that the emperor of Austria regards the treaty between his country and Italy as temporary, and that he has said that the future holds in store many surprises.

Judge Hoffman at San Francisco has granted an indefinite postponement of the case against the Chinese consul-general, as the case has probably been compromised out of court.

It is announced that "Lucky" Baldwin has purchased from A. E. Gage a half interest in the Hotel Richelieu, at Chi-go. Gage is retiring from business. His partner, H. V. Bemis, will continue to have control of the enterprise with Baldwin.

George Lederer, the theatrical manager, who eloped a few days ago with a daughter of lawyer Newcome, of New York, was indicted for bigamy, arrested and released on $2500 bail. The actress, Clara Chester, claims that he is her husband by common law marriage.

Early Thursday morning three masked robbers gain an entrance to the residence of Judge Henry S. Kelly, of St. Louis, and going to the bed room where the judge and his wife were sleeping, one of the robbers covered them with a revolver, while the others searched the room for valuables. They obtained $600 in jewels and money.

Louis Kellerman, who shot and fatally wounded his wife at Watertown, Wis., Wednesday, concealed himself in the loft of his mother's barn after the shooting. Hearing his younger brother below in the morning and supposing the officers had discovered his hiding place, he seat a bullet through his own brain, dying instantly. Mrs. Kellerman is still alive, but very low.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker has awarded the contract for furnishing adhesive postage stamps for the year beginning on the 1st of January next to the American Bank Note Company of New York. The new stamps will be about one-eighth smaller than those in present use. The one-cent stamp will continue to be printed blue, the two-cent stamps, now printed in green, will be printed in bright carmine, and changes will be made in some of the other denominations.

A Romance from Yakima.
There is upon the Yakima reservation a family of half-breeds known as the Olneys. A romance is associated with the name. The white father of the Olneys died recently, but to the last he slung his own race. In some respects he was like Sam Houston, but unlike Sam Houston he never repented of his self-banishment among the Indians. He was of a highly respectable Rhode Island family and a graduate of Yale college. About the time he completed his studies the discovery of gold in California occurred. Olney joined the Argonauts of '49, and came west to seek his fortune. He left behind him a sweetheart to whom he was to be married as soon as he found the fortune and returned. The girl grew weary of waiting, as many another of her sex has done. About a year after he reached the coast Olney received a letter announcing the marriage of his betrothed. He never got over the blow.

Drifting about for a time he located in Oregon and was made sheriff of Wasco county. In those days there was usually excitement enough in the duties of sheriff to banish the memory of the past. But after while Olney got tired of hunting down criminals. He gave up his office, crossed the Columbia river and became a member of the Yakima tribe. His adoption was in good faith on his part, for he took an Indian wife and raised a family. As his children grew up he educated them with care, and when he died he left them well provided for. The Olneys are influential in the tribe, and they exercise that influence for good. But they have no thought of leaving the reservation. They seem to have inherited from their father his disinclination of white society.

At Kenton's.
Sweet potatoes, celery, cabbage, lemons, figs, dates, choice comb honey, Log Cabin maple sugar, maple syrup, eastern corn meal, cranberries, and other good things too numerous to mention at F. L. Kenton's, near the postoffice.

Railroad Laborers Wanted.
E. J. O'Conner, of the firm of O'Conner & Barr, came down from the front yesterday to secure more men to finish up the work on their contract on the Oregon Pacific. They offer good wages, and want men at once.

Durno's Catarrh Snuff.
Sure cure for sore eyes, deafness, headache, and the worst forms of catarrh in the head and throat. Price 25 cents. Sold by Fesby & Mason, Albany, Oregon.
