OVER THE WIRES.

The Election Contest Case in Montana on Trial.
STANLEY IS COMING HOME.
One Hundred and Fifty Men Massacred in West Virginia—Military Murdered by Natives in Guinea.
The ALBANY Special Dispatches.
HELENA, Oct. 30.—A motion has been made in the election mandamus case by counsel for Democrats for judgment on pleadings. It sustained this will determine the case favorably to the democrats. If not sustained the next step will be the hearing of evidence. The whole day was consumed in argument on the motion. This brings the case down to its merits, and the question whether or not the returns from precinct 34 were legal will soon be decided.

A MISSIONARY MURDERED.
The Natives in Guinea Murder a Missionary.
LONDON, Oct. 30.—Advices from Brisbane state that the natives of South West New Guinea have murdered Rev. Mr. Schagie, sent out by the London missionary service. A number of natives, teachers and the crew of the cutter Mary, belonging to the society, and the cutter Albatross belonging to the Queens Land government have been dispatched to the scene.

A BLOODY FEUD.
One Hundred and Fifty Men Massacred in West Virginia.
MILTON (W. Va.), Oct. 30.—One hundred and fifty men nearly equally divided between the Hatfield and McCoy factions were massacred ten or twelve miles south of Hamlin last night. A bloody battle to-day is imminent. The McCoy's are entrenched in the hills and at last reports the Hatfields were marching to attack them.

Stanley Marching Home.
BERLIN, Oct. 30.—Dr. Schweinfurth, the well known African traveler, has written in the National Gazette that a letter from Emin Pasha which reached Captain Wissman justifies the expectation that Emin and Henry M. Stanley will soon arrive at Upwapa.

All Hands Saved.
FEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The steamer Kanawaha, from Newport, arrived this morning with the crew of the steamer Geopatra, twenty-six in number, and the crew of the steamer Crystal Wave, which were sunk in a collision yesterday off the Cape of Delaware. All hands were saved.

THE OREGON WESTERN.
A New Railroad Reported as a Southern Pacific Movement.
SALEM, Oct. 29.—The Oregonian Western Railway Company, with a capital stock of $200,000, through R. Koehler, John Kelly and William T. Muir, incorporators, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state to-day. Besides constructing a railroad, a wagon and railway bridge between Portland and East Portland will be built, and the Oregonian Railroad Limited will be purchased. Steamboats on the Columbia and Willamette rivers will connect the points touched by the railroad. It is regarded as a Southern Pacific move.

GENERAL HARRISON'S POLICY.
All Good Democrats Will Be Permitted to Serve Out Their Terms.
Washington correspondence New York Herald: "I am not in sympathy with the sentimentality that insures every democrat four years. If I had my way all democratic office-holders would have gone three weeks after the 4th of March."
Such are the sentiments attributed to Senator Quay, in a conversation touching political matters last evening. There is no doubt correct, for the Pennsylvania senator has substantially made the same declaration here time and again. It is evident, however, that Senator Quay will not have his way.

The president has recently said that Mr. Hartity, the postmaster at Philadelphia, whose place Senator Quay is desirous of filling with a republican, will be permitted to serve four years without being disturbed.
Gen. Harrison also said on Saturday last, when asked to make certain changes at the San Francisco custom-house, that he proposed allowing all good democrats against whom charges were made to fill out their terms. He added that the Cleveland administration had set the republicans a good example in this regard, and that he proposed following it whenever he consistently could.

AT CASTLE GARDEN.

Abuses Which Demand an Investigation.
STARTLING DISCLOSURES.
How Immigrants Are Picked on Landing in America—Secretary of Wisdom May Ask for Legislation.
CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—A special from Washington says: It is generally believed that the Secretary of the Treasury in his forthcoming report to Congress will devote some considerable attention to the question of immigration. The abuses at Castle Garden and other landing places and the agreements among the Commissioners of Immigration have become intolerable, and the coming over of this business to the Federal authority has become an absolute necessity. While the respective benevolent societies are doing all the work of aiding and counseling the immigrants, the commission pockets the money. Their claims for salaries alone for the last two months amount to over $15,000; but not only that, every immigrant must contribute his 50 cents toward this whether he stays or is sent back. Attention is also paid to the balance of the money he brings along. All who come bring more or less of foreign coin and this may be estimated by the average of one shipload of several hundred passengers at $35 per capita. An exchange broker has the monopoly for exchanging this for United States currency. It is very easy to persuade the owner of this money that it is useless in his country without being exchanged, and as he must be a shrewd man born in any foreign land who can tell at a glance how much in dollars and cents he ought to receive for pounds, francs or thalers, or whatever foreign coins he has brought, with such opportunities and nobody to watch him, it is easy to make an ample fortune in a very short time.

ODD AND INTERESTING.
Henry Villard, the railroad magnate, is said to be an excellent performer on the violin and to be an enthusiastic music lover.
Since Secretary Rusk took charge of the crusade against the White House rodents his cabinet colleagues have called him "Old Rough on Rats."
Three thousand, three hundred and twelve miles of railway have been constructed in the United States this year, and of these 1353 are in the South.
When the pope recently received a letter from Harvard University in acknowledgment of some present which he had sent it, he read the communication out aloud, slowly, and expressed his admiration of the classical Latin in which it was written.

Whitlaw Reid, our minister to Paris, speaks good French, yet he prefers to use his native tongue as much as possible in France. He recently said to a friend: "You'll never catch me trying French when I can make the Ohio dialect serve my purpose."
Disarming an Unseen foe.
"This was sometimes a paradox," said a learned lawyer, "since the people of America and other lands have been enabled to pit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters against that unseen foe, malaria, it is no longer a paradox, but an easy solution. The malarial malaria evolves its insidious venom to poison the air, and decaying unwholesome vegetation impregnates the water, there, in the very stronghold of miasma, is the auxiliary point to disarm the foe and assure efficient protection. Fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, no matter how tenaciously they have fastened their clutch on your system, are first forced to relax their grasp and eventually to abandon it altogether. But it is preventive force that should chiefly recommend the Bitters to persons dwelling in malarial localities, for it is a certain bulwark of defence against which the enemy is powerless. Cures, likewise, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney and bilious ailments.

Another Use for Salt.
As an Exterminator of Moths It Is Without a Rival.
Philadelphia Press.
For moths salt is the best exterminator. The nuns in one of the hospital convents have tried everything else without success, and their experience is valuable, as they have so much clothing of the sick who go there, and strangers, when dying there, often leave quantities of clothing, etc. They had a room full of feathers, which were sent there for pillow-making, and they were in despair, as they could not exterminate the moths until they were advised to try common salt. They sprinkled it around, and in a week or ten days they were altogether rid of the moths. They are never troubled now. In heavy velvet carpets sweeping them with salt cleans and keeps them from moths, as particles of salt remain in the carpets and corners. Salt is not hurtful to any one, and has no bad smell. Here is a little hint I add, which, perhaps, everyone does not know. For cleaning wash basins, bath, etc., use the same thing, common dry salt. Rub a little of the salt with your fingers on the basin. Often a sort of scum is noticed in the bathroom; the salt takes it off easily and leaves the basin shining and clean.
