OVER THE WIRES.

Postmaster-General Wanamaker Fixes the Telegraph Rates.

REVOLUTION IN THE SOUTH.
An Emphatic Denial of a Railway Consolidation Rumor—News East of the Rockies and the Old World.

The Herald's Special Dispatches.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Postmaster-General Wanamaker today made a public order fixing the rates for telegraphic service for the government for the present year. Day messages not exceeding ten body words to be sent not exceeding four hundred miles, 10 cents, and a half a cent extra for each word in excess of ten. Over four hundred and less than one thousand miles, 15 cents for the first ten words, and three-quarters of a cent for each word in excess. Over one thousand miles, half a cent a word added to the one thousand mile rate. Night messages not exceeding twenty words, 15 cents for all distances and half a cent extra for each word in excess of twenty.

AN EMPHATIC DENIAL.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—First Vice-President Pease, of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, makes a positive statement here that there is no truth whatever in the rumored alliance between the Pennsylvania and Burlington railroads. There is no truth in the report that the Burlington road has withdrawn from the interstate railroad association.

A SENSATIONAL LIBEL.
The Suit of Mrs. Mackay Against the Manchester Examiner.
LONDON, Oct. 31.—The action for libel brought by Mrs. Bohn-Mackay against the Manchester Examiner came up in the court of the queens bench today. The libel complained of is the allegation that the plaintiff was a poor widow with two children, that she was employed as a washerwoman when she fell in love with and married her. The plaintiff contends that the article declared that she was not a lady by birth or education, and that she was not accustomed to associating with persons of good position. The defendants admit the first innuendo, but deny the second. The defendants had paid £10 into the court, and the question before the court today was whether the payment applied to the whole libel or the innuendo admitted. The court ruled that it applied only to the part of the libel admitted.

A Revolution in Guatemala.
CITY OF MEXICO (via Galveston) Oct. 31.—The National telegraph published a telegram from Guatemala saying that a revolution is in full progress in the Santa Rosa district. The revolutionists are holding their own, aided by other forces in the direction of the Mexican frontier.

A Wrestling Match.
PARIS, Oct. 31.—A match between Cannon and Pietro, the champion French wrestler, took place last night. They wrestled over an hour, neither gaining any advantage. Finally the referee declared the match a draw. Another match will take place Friday.

Disarming an Unseen Foe.
"This was something a paradox," as Jamlet says. Since, however, the people of America and other lands have been enabled to pit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters against that unseen foe, malaria, it is no longer a paradox, but an easy possibility. Whatever malaria evolves its miasmatic venom to poison the air, devolving upon the water, there, in the very stronghold of miasma, is the auxiliary power to disarm the foe and assure efficient protection. Feyer's and other malarial remittent, dumb ague and ague cures, no matter how tenaciously they have fastened their clutch on the system, are first forced to relax their grasp and eventually abandon it altogether. But it is preventive medicine that should chiefly recommend the Bitters to persons dwelling in malarial districts, for it is a certain buckler of defence against which the enemy's power is useless. Cures likewise, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney and bilious ailments.

CANADIAN AFFAIRS.

The Canadian Chinese Laws—Our Relations With the Dominion.
OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—It is stated that representations have been made by the imperial authorities here to modify the Canadian Chinese law, in view of the possibilities of its creating complications which might lead to the injury of the British trade with China. British Columbia is urging the resumption of the tax on Chinamen.

It is understood the Dominion parliament will meet on January 16, 1890, and the fight over the Jesuit bill will be disturbed by the relations between Canada and the United States, and the possibility of the United States extending commercial relations with neighboring republics.

FALL OF A COURT.
He Pleads Guilty to a Charge of Forgery.
NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—William C. Tanner, the French Count, who has been victimizing business men of this city by forging their names to checks, was arraigned before Judge Martine today. He presented a rather shabby appearance.

He told the Judge that he was perfectly willing to admit his guilt, which was the result of poverty, and asked that he be dealt with according to law. He forthwith pleaded guilty of forgery in the third degree and was remanded for sentence.

Documents on his person prove that Tanner comes of good French stock. His career of crime dates back to the forgery of Sarah Bernhardt's name to a check for 10,000 francs, which was successful. During the actress' last tour he tried to repeat the performance, but failed.

PREDICTIONS.
Rumors of Railway Combinations that are to be Made Soon.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—Railway men here predict that the arrival of C. P. Huntington from Europe will be soon followed by the announcement of railroad combinations fully as great as any yet made public. One of the expected combinations is between the Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Missouri Pacific and the Gould roads east of St. Louis and Chicago. The recent reported purchases of Santa Fe stock by Gould and Huntington adds strength to the prediction.

THE BRITISH WHEAT CROP.
It Will Not Prove So Good as Formerly Reported.
LONDON, Oct. 31.—Sir J. B. Lawes states that the forecasts of the British wheat crop must be considerably discounted. The land under crop for 1889 is 2,540,720 acres—over 120,000 less than 1888. He puts the crop at a little over 8,000,000 quarters and the amount required for consumption at 27,000,000 quarters. According to this the requirements will be higher than last year.

QUITE A TOWN.
Although It Has Only Eight Inhabitants It Supports a Newspaper.
Perhaps the smallest town in the world in which a newspaper is published is Orondo, in the Big Bend country the home of the Orondo News. The village consists of three or four very imposing buildings, one being used as a store, one as a dwelling, and one for the printing office. The present population comprises eight souls—four adult males and three women and a little girl. The town lies immediately on the left bank of the Columbia, where that grand river rushes between steep mountains on the west and high abrupt bluffs on the east. The compositor on the News "keeps batch" in the little room occupied by the type cases and a six column army press. A kitchen table is used for an "imposing stone," and the cook stove serves to warm the office and fry the bacon for both the editor and the printer. But one other house can be seen from the "town," and that is across the river, at the foot of an almost perpendicular mountain, which towers abruptly fully one thousand feet above the river, leaving barely enough level space at the river bank for a house. Where the patronage of the News comes in from the spectator cannot see, as there can not possibly be more than a dozen persons living within a radius of three miles from Orondo.

If the News succeeds there, it certainly would seem that a paper ought to make a living anywhere. No wonder the rural editors are all getting rich. It would seem that it is cheaper to run a newspaper than a cider mill.

Let us give the readers of the Herald a little timely advice. Hot weather is coming and with it cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhoea. The only safe way to combat these diseases, is to keep some reliable remedy at hand, and all who have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will admit that it is the most prompt, reliable and successful medicine known for these complaints. It costs but 25 or 50 cents, and may be the means of saving you or your family much suffering if not life itself, before the summer is over. For sale by Foshay & Mason.

Miss Hattie Blaine, Miss Wanamaker, Miss Fuller, Miss Hasian and Miss Campbell are among the women who will bloom this winter in the garden of Washington society.

Justice Stephen J. Field looks none the wiser for his exciting experience in California. It troubles him, however, and he discourages all allusions to it. His friends understand that he is to speak of it first.

The Philadelphia statue of General McClellan is to be placed in the middle of Broad street, just south of the city hall. The design represents the general on horseback, surveying a line of battle.

General Alger appears to be rapidly moving into the place that General John A. Logan occupied for years before his death as the favorite of the old volunteer soldiers of the country. General Sherman is their hero, but Alger is their leader.

The wife of the new Chinese minister at Washington has not emerged from the seclusion of the legation, so that prying eyes could catch a glimpse of her. She gets fresh air and a knowledge of the capital by driving or walking in the evening with her husband.

A whim of the fair sex is to wear a brooch composed of a raised crystal heart in the center of diamonds and turquoises alternating.
Four enameled violets with a diamond dewdrop on each have their stems bound around by a lovers' knot of burnished gold and form together an effective brooch.

Restricting the Sale of Morphine.
In view of the reputed large increase in morphine consumption in this country, it is of interest to note the recent action of the Congress of Legal Medicine in Paris. The use of morphine has reached such an alarming pitch in France that actual deterioration of the race is threatened, and with the purpose of restricting as far as possible the facilities for obtaining the drug, the congress has passed resolutions, and asked that they be sanctioned by legislative authority, to the effect that (1) Wholesale druggists and chemical manufacturers shall sell morphine and cocaine to pharmacists only, and deliver the poison at the buyer's house. (2) Pharmacists shall dispense only once, unless the contrary be mentioned by the prescriber, a prescription containing either morphine or cocaine.
