A CHICAGO SUICIDER was endowed with the merit of persistency at least. After the doctors had re-loved him of the poison he had swallowed he made several ineffectual attempts to hang himself, finally winding up with cutting his throat with a razor and jumping from the fourth story to complete the job. He was 64 years old and did not want to live any longer.

The election reports indicate that, as usual in the off years, the gains are on the democratic side of the house. In New York and Ohio the prohibition movement seems to have augmented the same side, and to have drawn from the republicans a condition that can be looked for when any appreciable growth is shown in the third party.

The Alta grows factions over the census matter and says that Mr. Porter desires to enrich the next census with the sumptuous statistics of religion. That is good, but fat is not wholesome without lean. Let us have, also, the statistics of that poor man's blister, the great American farm mortgage.

The practice of gentlemen taking hold of a lady's arm while walking with her has been suddenly broken up in New York by the small boy universally crying out, "He's arrestin' her for pickin' his pocket."

MARRIED. STRATTON FARWELL.—At the residence of the bride's parents on First street in Albany, Wednesday morning, Nov. 6, 1889, Mr. J. S. Stratton, of M. B. and Miss Lucinda Farwell, daughter of County Treasurer Farwell, I. E. Fisher, pastor of the Episcopal church officiating. Only a few of the near relatives were present. The best wishes of the friends of this newly married couple go with them.
