OVER THE WIRES.

Johnstown Again Visited by Devastating Floods.

BRIDGES SWEEP AWAY. The Oregon Trial—The Three-Year-Old Trotting Record Broken—Eastern News Items.

The Herald's Special Dispatches. JOHNSTOWN, Nov. 9.—The rain for the past 36 hours has raised the rivers to a dangerous point. They are overflowing their banks. The temporary bridge across the iron works at Camoria City has been carried away. Woodvale is flooded. Some of the houses erected since the flood have been abandoned by the inmates. The river is still rising.

SAMUEL J. TILDEN'S WILL. The Supreme Court Declared the "Trust Clause" Void.

New York, Nov. 8.—Justice Lawrence's decision, in which he upheld the "trust clause" in the will of the late Samuel J. Tilden, was today reversed by the general term of the supreme court. The will in the thirty-fifth clause provided for the establishment of libraries in this city and other places, but according to today's ruling, this bequest, by reason of legal technicalities, is void. Mr. Tilden in the disputed clause directed the formation of a corporation to be known as the "Tilden Trust," and gave his residuary estate for that purpose. Should the trust not be incorporated during the lifetime of two of his nieces, whom he named, the residue was by his executors to be applied to such educational and charitable purposes as in their judgment would render the widest and most substantial benefit. George H. Tilden, a nephew, attacked the validity of this section, and the supreme court sustains the contest on the points of the indefiniteness of the provisions.

IDAHO'S AMBITION. The Territory is Anxious to Become a State.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Delegate Duboise of Idaho is already here and at work to create a sentiment in favor of the admission of that Territory as a State. He says that the constitution recently adopted by the people there is strongly opposed to polygamy, and is all that could be desired on that score. It is not improbable that an effort will be made at the coming session to embrace Idaho, New Mexico and Wyoming in an omnibus bill, and its passage will be urged by the combined influence of those Territories.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—In the Cronin case to-day Archibald Cameron, a saloon-keeper, testified that he heard Coughlin introduce Kunze to another man as his friend. The rest of the session was occupied with microscopic expert testimony on specimens of blood and hair from the Carlisle cottage and the trunk. Prof. Tolman, microscopist, testified that he found microscopic hairs, such as only exist on the human body, in the drop of blood examined, and that the blood and hair appeared to be of a human being.

Sullivan Released. CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—The matter of releasing Alexander Sullivan from $20,000 bail in which he was held by the coroner in July last, came up before Judge Baker this morning. The state did not contest the motion and the objection was discontinued by order of the court and Sullivan discharged.

The Trotting Record Broken. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Senator Stanford's filly Sunold broke the 3-year-old record at the Bay District track this afternoon. She trotted a mile in 2:10 1/2.

Count Valensin's "Faustine" broke the yearling stallion record at the Bay District to-day. He trotted in 2:35. The record was 2:38 1/2.

Plate Discharged. PORTLAND, Nov. 9.—The charge against Plate, the employment agent, was withdrawn to-day and the prisoner released from custody.

Disarming an Unseen Foe. "This was sometime a paradox," as Lamlet says. Since, however, the people of America and other lands have been enabled to pit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters against that unseen foe, malaria, it is no longer a paradox, but an easy possibility. Whatever malaria evolves its misty venom to poison the air, and decaying unwelcome vegetation impregnates the water, there, in the very stronghold of miasma, is the auxiliary potent to disarm the foe and assure efficient protection. Fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and acute ague, no matter how tenaciously they have fastened their clutch on the system, are first forced to relax their grasp and eventually to abandon it altogether. But it is preventive force that should chiefly recommend the Bitters to persons dwelling in malarial or malarious localities, for it is a certain bulwark of defence against which the enemy's powerless. Cures, likewise, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney and bilious ailments.

What can we reason for or what we know? Brownell sells goods because his prices are below the custom. Others brag and blow, but he goes to do it, that is all.

Prescriptions and recipes care fully compounded at the City Drug Store.

IT IS COMING.

Let winds blow cold, let winds blow high, Let days be dark and drear, Who cares? Thanksgiving's drawing nigh A time of mirth and cheer.

What through we burn wood by the coal And weather prophets creak? Soon on the granary festive board The turkey, stuffed, will smoke.

Then something to the poor we'll spare— Who's always with us here— It will be for all grief and care In sweet Thanksgiving cheer.

HUMOROUS DRIFT.

It days not to be hasty—that is, it pays the other man who takes advantage of your slowness, and gets in ahead.

A conscienceless tenant and a tramp with a ragged coat are very much alike—they are each oblivious of the back rent.

It is better to suffer an injury than to commit one—unless you are positively sure you are bigger than the other fellow is.

Real humorists are scarce, and when a man once gets that reputation his whole life is saddened by the effort to live up to it.

People who like to see the smaller company win the battle always take pleasure in a mill between a bulldog and a hornet.

The Pittsburg manufacturers have raised prices on barbed wire. Independent politicians must come off the fence or be scratched.

Superfluous: Teacher—Egelbert, is it proper to say it rains water? Egelbert—May be proper, but unnecessary; it never rains milk-shakes or anything like that.

Managed to roll along: First hoop-snake—Times are pretty hard, aren't they? Second ditto—Yes, but I managed to make both ends meet. And, putting his tail in his mouth, he went away.

"Well, I can't see any fun in attendin' court," said an observant old lady. "Every time a witness goes to tell anything that's got anything to do with the case all the lawyers jump up and holler and the judge rules the testimony out."

"I would advise you to buy a better watch. I cannot guarantee this one." "Oh, it is plenty good enough. I am buying it for my nephew to remember me by, and the worse it goes the more he will have to think of me."

Smith—Jones, did you ever have to double up at a hotel? Jones—Should say I did! It was my own fault, though. Smith—How so? Jones—Why, I ordered sauerkraut, roast pork, mince pie, olives and milk for supper.

ODD AND INTERESTING.

The Argentine republic has the greatest debt per capita of any nation in the world.

President Johnson issued his proclamation declaring the civil war ended April 2, 1866.

Canada's production of minerals last year amounted to $16,500,000. The most valuable product was coal.

A sarcastic New Yorker having read that Amelia Rives Chanler performs on the violin, remarks that "her husband plays second fiddle."

Old Jason Mitchell was lately tarred and feathered by twenty-five citizens of Taylorville, Neb. He offered no resistance, and has collected $2500 damages.

There are altogether about 17,000 Arabs in this country, and not 10 per cent. of them have a settled home or any other means of support than peddling.

Emperor William, of Germany, is having two new crowns made for himself and the empress. His will weigh three pounds, has a large sapphire at the top and glistens with 100 diamonds. His wife's crown is to contain 1500 diamonds and eleven large pearls.

Leader Sousa, of the Marine band, Washington, has completed his collection of the national songs of the world ordered by the navy department. Mr. Sousa has been able to identify the composers of only twenty-one numbers out of 128 which his book contains.

Dr. Chauncey M. Depew is not at all afraid that this country will be overcrowded through the rush of immigration. He says that "the area of arable acres in the United States is 20 per cent. larger than that of China, which supports a population of nearly 400,000,000."

Twenty years ago there reamed over plains and mountains of the West nearly 8,000,000 buffaloes. Today there are less than 500 head in existence. There are about 85 head of wild buffaloes, 304 alive in captivity, and about 200 under the protection of the government in the Yellowstone park.

A Very Old Vessel. A remarkable vessel, a fore and aft schooner of about eighty-five tons register burden, called the Vigilant, is now, and has been, regularly running from Santa Cruz to St. Thomas and vice versa as a passenger, freight and mail packet for upward of four score years. The Vigilant, it is said, was built in Baltimore, Md., during the very first years of our national independence, making her upward of 110 years old. She was of the "Baltimore clipper" class, so famed many years for speed, and must have been a wonder and a beauty when launched.

Durno's Catarrh Snuff. Sure cure for sore eyes, deafness, headache, and the worst forms of catarrh in the head and throat. Price 25 cents. Sold by Fishay & Mason, Albany, Oregon.

Fifty pieces of furniture given with all cook stoves or ranges sold by Matthews & Washburn.

LIMITED COMPANIES.

The Liability of Stockholders Under the Law.

Washington Post. "How often is the word 'limited' seen after the name of many great stock companies, but how seldom does the average reader understand its import," said B. Elwood Kelley, the real estate agent.

"I have been surprised to have people ask me whether that meant that only a given quantity of stock could be issued by the company displaying the word on its prospectus.

"Formerly a member of a stock company doing business was responsible for the entire indebtedness of that company should all other sources of security fail to satisfy the demands of creditors. In Scotland some years ago a bank failed for about $1,000,000. There was but one really wealthy director of that organization, and to him only could the creditors look for the satisfaction of their demands. He had practically to pay every cent of the loss. Such was the law. Cases of this kind were quite common, and men of wealth avoided connection with concerns which they could not absolutely control, but in which they could so easily sink their fortunes.

"Then an amendment to the law was made by limiting the liability of the directors and stockholders in a concern to the amount they had so invested. The law, in order to protect those who dealt with companies of this class, made it obligatory that the word 'limited' should be connected with the names of such organizations and given equal publicity with the company's title on all occasions.

"In England and Scotland this law is complied with very generally, but in the United States such limitations have become so widely the rule that it is looked upon as a matter of course, and only a very few large concerns are now seen with 'limited' attached to their names, but though comparatively occasionally used it is sufficient to puzzle a good many people who read it."

Ouida is Not Polite. Ouida spends much time at the Langham when she is in London. Not long since a young American girl, Miss W., of New York, called upon her at the hotel with a letter of introduction. After waiting some time a strangely dressed figure rushed into the room. Every color of the rainbow appeared in her costume, and her head was decorated with a circlet of many colored bright ribbons. This bizarre creature stalked up to our American girl, and in a very brusque manner said: "Do you want to see me?" "I have a letter of introduction to you." "You are an American—I know it by your bold stare," was Ouida's polite reply. "And I know you to be a circus rider from your outlandish costume, and so I wish you good morning and decline your acquaintance."

Lincoln and the South. A passage in the "Life of Lincoln," to be found in the November Century, shows as nothing else can, how great a friend was lost to the South when Abraham Lincoln was assassinated. It is the first publication ever made of the draft of a message and proclamation which the President submitted to his Cabinet on February 5, 1865. In it he proposed a payment of four hundred millions as an indemnity to slaveholders, complete pardon for political offenses, and the release of confiscated property except under certain circumstances. Such magnanimity was, however, too much for his conciliators, who "unanimously disapproved." Along with the document is given a full account of this best kept of Cabinet secrets.
