KNIGHTS OF LABOR MEETING.

The Prize Ring—A Noted Stage Robber and Bandit Makes a Confession, but Pleads an Aberration of Mind.

[The HERALD'S Special Dispatches.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The president left the city last night by the way of the Baltimore & Potomac railroad for a few days' duck shooting. It is not known exactly where he has gone, but it is supposed to the Onita marsh duck hunting grounds in Maryland in the vicinity of Chesapeake bay. Private Secretary Halford said today that he could not tell where the president was because he did not know. The president wanted a few days' undisturbed recreation, and the only way he could have it was by keeping his movements a secret.

AN OUTLAW'S CONFESSION.

He Has Been Guilty of a Long List of Robberies and Murders.

BESSEMER, (Mich.) Nov. 14.—Reinus Holsehay, incorrectly called Black Bart, on trial for the murder of Banker Fleichbein, of Belleville, Ills., and the robbery of the Gegobic stage, took the stand in his own defense to-day and made a confession. He admitted that he robbed the Milwaukee and Northern train six months ago, held up the Wisconsin Central train at Codett, Wis., a month later, and waylaid the Gogebic stage and shot Banker Fleichbein. Holsehay claimed that several years ago he was hurt by a fall from a horse, and since then has been subject to "spells," during which he did not know what he was doing.

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

The Annual Convention in Session in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14.—The report of the committee on law occupied the time of the convention of the Knights of Labor this morning. It was decided that on Saturday the convention will go into a committee of the whole to consider the state of the order. Several committees were appointed, but only routine work was done.

THE PRIZE RING.

McAuliffe and Mike Daly Matched for a Fight.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A fight has been arranged between Jack McAuliffe, of Brooklyn, and Mike Daly, of Bangor, Maine, to take place December 5th near Boston. Fifteen rounds will be boxed with two ounce gloves.

THREE INDIANS KILLED.

A Battle Between the Piutes and Southern Utes is Anticipated.

DENVER, Nov. 12.—A Durango, Colorado, special to the Republican says: News reached here to-day of the quarrel of Old Hatch, chief of the Piutes, and Cowboy and his 17 year old brother, sons of Old Wash, of the Southern Ute tribe on the Blue Mountain range, near a place called Double Cobbins. The quarrel originated over a Navajoe blanket which Old Hatch accused Cowboy of stealing. Cowboy denied all, and one word brought to another until Hatch started for his gun, whereupon Cowboy and his brother shot him dead.

The Piutes present turned upon the murderers and killed both of them. This caused a great commotion among the Piutes, who pulled up camp and scattered, leaving their dead lying on the ground where they fell. The Southern Utes, however, returned and gathered a large pile of logs, placed Cowboy and his brother thereon, together with their guns and other personal effects and cremated them, at the same time killing twenty-five horses. The latter ceremony was according to tradition, the Indians believing that in so doing they assist in sending the spirits of the dead Indians to the happy hunting grounds. Fifty Piutes are now assembled in the Blue mountains and 100 warriors from the Southern tribe have gone to meet them, and it is believed that a bloody battle will take place in a few days.

Disarming an Unseen Foe.

"This was sometime a paradox," as Hamlet says. Since, however, the people of America and other lands have been enabled to pit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters against that unseen foe, malaria, it is no longer a paradox, but an easy possibility. Whatever malaria evolves its misty venom to poison the air, and decaying unwholesome vegetation impregnates the water, there, in the very stronghold of miasma, is the auxiliary potent to disarm the foe and assure efficient protection. Fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, no matter how tenaciously they have fastened their clutch on the system, are first forced to relax their grasp and eventually to abandon it altogether. But it is preventive force that should chiefly recommend the Bitters to persons dwelling in malaria-cursed localities, for it is a certain buckler of defence against which the enemy is powerless. Cures, likewise, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney and bilious ailments.

CRAWFORDSVILLE NOTES.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Nov. 12.

Stockmen are in good spirits over the prospects so far.

Born, Nov. 7th, to the wife of M. D. Murphy, a son.

Born, Nov. 8th, to the wife of Joseph Rebham, a son.

John Casey returned home last Friday. He has been in Eastern Oregon for the past two years.

Mr. and Mrs. William McCaw left here last Wednesday to visit their son-in-law, Mr. Irvin, near Walla Walla, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, of New York, are visiting the family of C. F. Colbert. Mrs. Thompson is a niece of Mrs. Colbert.

Joseph Lane, of Halsey, was in town yesterday examining the bridge to see what repairs are necessary. He thinks it will stand until spring, as it would not be safe to undertake to repair it now, for fear of the river rising and knocking out the false work that would be necessary.

Noah Shanks met with quite an accident last Saturday, while grubbing near a fence. In striking a blow with a mattox he hit a post, and the mattox bounded back, striking him on the head. It cut quite a gash on his head, but the mattox being dull he escaped without much serious injury.

What came very near being a serious accident occurred at the residence of Benjamin Cutler last Tuesday evening, while a number of the neighbors were gathered there for singing. Some one accidentally knocked the lamp off of the organ on to the floor. The lamp did not go out when it fell but kept burning. One of the men present threw it out into the yard. No damage was done aside from frightening the ladies considerably.

Special Notice.

Owing to a misunderstanding regarding the school hours, Mrs. Mead and Miss Starbuck the teachers of the select and kindergarten school in the W. C. T. U. hall, wish to say their session is from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M., also they have received a large and fine assortment of kindergarten material, and give instructions daily in common school studies and kindergarten work. Also music lessons given free to each pupil if desired. Terms fifty cents per week.

MONMOUTH NOTES.

The senior review class consisting of thirty-two members, organized about three weeks ago.

Professor Jolliffe, of Vancouver, teacher of instrumental music, will soon organize a class in voice culture.

Preaching last Wednesday evening by president Stanley, instead of the usual prayer meeting on that evening.

Dumb-bells have been ordered for the ladies who are already practicing gymnastics under the direction of Professor Tuthill.

There are one hundred fifty-three students in school now. Last year at the close of the first term there were only one hundred and forty-two.

Philip Tharp, who attended the Normal School, here last year, died at his home near Souver November 5, after an illness of twenty-four hours.

There are several new buildings going up in town among which is a very nice brick building which will contain the Polk County Bank, and the F. M. A. store.

Prof. Tuthill of Portland has charge of the elocution classes, which are doing very well. Prof. Tuthill also gives private instructions in elocution.

Work on the new college is progressing rapidly. It would have been nearly completed but a delay was caused by inability to procure material. The building will contain a chapel, it is said will be the largest in the state, being 50x80x29 feet.

A general interest is taken in literature this year. Five literary societies have organized. The Websterine, Hesperian and Junior, societies for the gentlemen; the Vespertine society for the ladies; and the Vespertine Hesperine Union Society.

Miss Eva Copeland, teacher of drawing and painting, returned from Portland last week with a new supply of materials for pastel painting.

Croup Can Be Prevented.

We want every mother to know that croup can be prevented. There is no question about this; as it has been done in thousands of cases, and you may depend upon it that when a child takes the croup it is wholly owing to the negligence of its parents. True croup never appears without due and timely warning; a few hours or a day or two before the attack, the child becomes hoarse. This hoarseness is the first indication of croup, and is a sure sign that croup is to follow, unless promptly and properly treated. The free use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed with each bottle, under the heading "To prevent croup," will dispel all symptoms of the disease. This first sign of croup, hoarseness, may be overlooked by young mothers or those not familiar with the disease. Under such circumstances, or when not properly treated, the hoarseness becomes more marked, and the child shows shows symptoms of having taken cold, then a peculiar, rrugh cough is developed. Even at this stage Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will prevent the croup, but after the cough has developed the croup is liable to appear at any moment. The proper way is to keep a bottle of this remedy at hand, it costs but 50 cents, and only a few doses, or at most not over a third of a bottle, is required to dispel all symptoms of the disease. Can you afford to risk so much for so little? There is not the least danger in giving this remedy in large and frequent doses, which are always required, as it contains no injurious substance. As proof of this fact we refer to John L. Olson, of Des Moines, whose 18-months-old boy drank the entire contents of a 50 cent bottle of Chamberlain's cough remedy without the least injury. Certainly it made the baby vomit very freely; but after taking a nap he would have been glad to have drank another bottle of the remedy, as he liked it. A similar instance occurred near Valley Springs, Dakota. Mrs. Mattie Johnson's two-year-old daughter, Annie, drank a full bottle of the remedy without injury. This remedy has been the sole reliance of thousands of mothers for croup, and especially as a preventive for many yearss, and has never been known to fail. It is also invalua le for colds and whooping-cough. For sale by Foshay & Mason.
