Grain for sale.
A GOOD QUANTITY OF FIRST CLASS wheat for sale at the lowest price. Apply to J. R. Mote, a farmer living in Phelps county, Nebraska, about twelve miles from Kearney; is in possession of a curiosity which is a valuable relic of prehistoric times in this part of the continent. Some time ago while excavating for a cave, he exhumed a large brown stone weighing over twenty pounds. When the clay was removed from it a large fossil, representing a clenched human hand, was revealed. The specimen had been broken from a mammoth arm just above the wrist, and the imprint of a coarse cloth or some woven material was plainly outlined on the back of the hand. At the time of the discovery nothing was said of it, as Mr. Mote does not belong to the curious class of people.

A PETRIFIED MISER.

How Death Found Him—A Hand Clenched Full of Diamonds.
A recent dispatch says: J. R. Mote, a farmer living in Phelps county, Nebraska, about twelve miles from Kearney, is in possession of a curiosity which is a valuable relic of prehistoric times in this part of the continent. ### THE PRIZING.

Sullivan Wants $20,000 to Fight Peter Jackson.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—President Fuld, of the California Athletic Club, in reply to his dispatch asking John L. Sullivan's terms for a fight here with Peter Jackson, the colored pugilist, received a dispatch from Captain Cook, Sullivan's backer, today, as follows: "Sullivan says, 'white men $10,000 apiece, colored men double price.'"

SULLIVAN INTERVIEWED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—When questioned in regard to the proposed match between himself and Peter Jackson, in San Francisco, John L. Sullivan said: "If he fights Kilrain first, then I will not meet him. Yes, I am willing to waive the color line, but I must have the first chance and a good purse. If the California Athletic Club wants to do business it must do it with me, and not through any middlemen. I will fight Peter Jackson just as soon as the fight can be made, and if the purse is large enough—say $20,000—I will fight him under the conditions imposed by the California Athletic Club, and that means, I suppose, five-ounce gloves. As to Dom McCaffrey, he is a big bluffer, and wants to get notoriety at my expense. I shall go to California as soon as arrangements are made and I shall be glad to meet the sports of San Francisco and show them what I can do."

GIBBS CONFESSES.

The Guilty Wretch Broke Down and Wept Like a Child.

SOUTH AMERICAN REVOLUTION.

Rio De Janeiro: A Scene of Wild Disorder.—The Imperial Minister Confined in Prison.—Eastern News.

THE HERALD'S Special Dispatches.
YREKA (Cal.), Nov. 16.—Gibbs, on being taken to the Yreka depot to-day, attracted a large crowd to see him off, and while seated in the coach awaiting train time he confessed to the shocking deed and told Deputy Clarkson that he was the man who killed James McDevitt. He completely broke down and began crying bitterly. His intention in journeying down the Klamath river was to take the train for Seaton.

SALEM NEWS.

Newsy Notes from the State Capital.—The Railroads.

SALEM, Nov. 16.—A transcript of the assessment of Union county filed to-day gives a total taxable property of $2,812,700. Sixteen transcripts have thus far been received, all showing favorable returns.
The following notaries were appointed to-day: John T. Hays, Grant, and Hugh Lafayette, Multnomah.
The first car load of machinery for the woolen mill arrived to-day. The mill will be completed by the first of the year.
Andrew K. Vendevener, of New Jersey, to whom the Narrow Gauge lines were yesterday transferred, to-day decided to the Oregon Western Railway his interest in the Oregon (limited) Railway, the consideration being $200,000.
The O. & C. will build a commodious new freight depot at Salem soon, plans for which are now being arranged.

THE SOUTHERN REVOLUTION.

Wild Scenes of Disorder in Rio De Janeiro.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—But little further information has been received here concerning the revolution in Rio De Janeiro. Dispatches received this morning state that the minister of marine was not killed, as reported yesterday, but seriously wounded by the rebels. Another dispatch says the question as to the nature of the future government will be submitted to the plebiscite.
A later dispatch from Rio De Janeiro reports that the republic has been proclaimed, with Renhos Da Fonseca as president. The imperial minister is arrested and placed in close confinement. The provisional government has guaranteed protection to the members of the imperial family. The emperor is at his summer hacienda at Petropolis, twenty-five miles west of Rio De Janeiro. All business in the city has been suspended, but there is no danger to life or property.
LONDON, Nov. 17.—Another dispatch from Rio De Janeiro states that a provisional government has been formed, under the following leaders: Constant, a journalist named Quintillo, Conquista and General Da Fonseca. The populace, the latest dispatch says, are holding aloof from the revolutionary movement and believe the government will be able to suppress it.

uable relic of prehistoric times in this part of the continent. Some time ago while excavating for a cave, he exhumed a large brown stone weighing over twenty pounds. When the clay was removed from it a large fossil, representing a clenched human hand, was revealed. The specimen had been broken from a mammoth arm just above the wrist, and the imprint of a coarse cloth or some woven material was plainly outlined on the back of the hand. At the time of the discovery nothing was said of it, as Mr. Mote does not belong to the curious class of people.

For several months the specimen had lain about the house, and no one who saw it had any idea of the great amount of wealth held firmly in the grasp of the stony fingers. A small boy in the family whose faculty for smashing things is just beginning to develop, conceived the idea of opening the hand. When broken, to his astonishment, there rolled out eleven brilliant transparent stones. The discovery of these beauties was not made public until yesterday, when Mr. Mote showed them to a jeweler, who pronounced them genuine first water diamonds, without a speck or flaw to mar their beauty.

The jewels are uniform in size and are about the shape of Lima beans. They have the appearance of being water worn but are still beautiful stones. The possessor of this beautiful find will dispose of the diamonds, and will at once begin his search for the other hand as well as the rest of the body of this relic of an early age.
The mystery of the broken hand is one of perplexing interest. How long has it been there? To what race of giants did its owner belong? Was the subject an ancient miser, who died grasping his most precious possessions? Many other like questions are raised by the discovery, but to all of them the modern historian can only answer in remote and uncertain speculation.

New Church in Portland.

PORTLAND, Nov. 16.—At the present time the only Lutheran churches in this city are of foreign nationality, but an effort is now on foot to establish an English church of that faith. The church extension board has the matter in hand and has sent hither Rev. M. T. Sweizeg from Scranton, Pa., who has secured a hall in which to hold morning services.

A POPULAR ESTABLISHMENT.

How Julius Gradwohl's Golden Rule Bazaar Meets the Public Want.

One of the most extensive and elegantly stocked establishments in the Willamette valley is to be found in the Golden Rule Bazaar store of Julius Gradwohl in this city. In order to accommodate his many customers he is in the field early this year, and has already commenced receiving his immense line of beautiful goods for the fall and winter and for the holidays, and has one of the most gorgeous and dazzling displays to be seen in any Golden Rule Bazaar in Oregon.
The line carried comprises a bewildering assortment of fine china, glassware and glassware of the latest styles and most delicate designs. The beautiful china and glassware, together with the decorated and fancy wares, novelties, elegant stand and hanging lamps, toys, boys' wagons and general bazaar goods, present a scene well worth one's time to visit.
Here may be found a complete line of table cutlery of the celebrated makes, Roger Bros' silver and silver plated goods and Bohemian wares of every variety, while his stock of dolls, toys, toilet and fancy goods, in plush and silver, and novelties for the children will be larger than ever before. Mr. Gradwohl has enlarged his stock in such a replete manner that his Golden Rule Bazaar is not only a credit to the city of Albany but to the entire Willamette valley, being one of the most extensive establishments of the kind in Oregon. The most important feature to purchasers is in prices, and when we assert that his prices are as low as any house in the state and that his goods are sold at figures that cannot be equaled in the Northwest, it is but the recital of an absolute fact. It will be to the interests of the country merchants to purchase their holiday goods from this establishment, and orders should be sent in at once.
Mr. Gradwohl has long since proven his adaptability to this business, and it is taking no risk to say that this emporium of elegant fancy and decorative ware is the most complete in the Willamette valley. Those who deal at the Golden Rule Bazaar, will find a large assortment to choose from, and a square, reliable gentleman to deal with.

Astoria.

Lots in the north addition to Astoria; price $45 each on the installment plan, or a discount for cash. These lots are selling rapidly in Portland and other cities. I am authorized to sell but a few blocks and it will pay you to call early and get your choice. E. G. Beardsley, Real Estate Agent, Broadalbin street, Albany.

We are in the field and in the lead for competition. Funds to order for $25 at Zaches Bros., opposite the postoffice.

THE POSTAL SERVICE.

Some of Postmaster Wannamaker's Practical Ideas.

THE REDUCTION OF POSTAGE.

How He Proposes to Increase the Efficiency of the Department Over Which He Presides.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Postmaster General Wannamaker at his recent interview with the leading postmasters here is reported to have said: "I am not a mugwump in any sense of the word, gentlemen, but a dyed-in-the-wool Republican, and I propose to benefit the postal service by every means that lies in my power. Still means that will have no effect in determining my course, but I want to say to you, Democrats and Republicans alike, that there is a necessity for a radical reform in the railway mail service. It matters not to me if a man can talk all day about cube and square root, theorems in geometry and climatic effects in Africa or Asia, so long as he does not thoroughly know the postal service through which his postal car is running. I would sooner have a postal clerk who knows every nook and corner in his district than some theorist who could tell all about zones and geographical centers remote from his own country, and I shall recommend to Congress that the civil service examinations be modified to this extent."
At the same conference it was proposed to reduce the rate on merchandise from the fourth to third class, and that hereafter there should be only three classes of mail matter. Some of the Postmasters thought the time inopportune for a reduction of this sort and did not hesitate to say so to the Postmaster-General. According to his proposition there would be a reduction of 50 per cent. on merchandise; that is, from 1 cent an ounce to 1/2 cent an ounce. The postal rate on merchandise parcels in the United States of 1 cent an ounce, or 16 cents a pound, is the heaviest rate levied by the Post-office Department on its customers.

The United States is behind every country in Europe in this particular branch of the postal business. In ten leading countries whose rates were published in a report made by Senator Chase a year ago, it was shown that while the local letter rate averages three times our rate, and the newspaper rate four and a half times, the rate on samples, which are under the same rate as fourth-class or merchandise matter, is only three-eighths of our rate. The parcel postage in Europe is still lower. Postmaster-General Wannamaker proposes to reduce the rate on the poor man's express.
