DRIVEN OUT BY SNOW.

A Party of Surveyors on the Lebanon Wagon Road Returns to this City.

K. H. Britt, Arthur Collier, and a party of eight surveyors, who have been engaged in surveying on the W. V. & C. M., or Lebanon Wagon Road, reached this city last evening, having been driven out of the mountains by snow. They left their camp on Sunday nine miles above McKinnon's, where there was a foot of snow.

A suit is pending for the forfeiture of the land grant of this and other Oregon wagon road companies, and this surveying party has been in the field for several months, having been sent out by the company to make a survey of the topography of the lands along the road between Lebanon and the summit of the Cascade mountains and furnish estimates as to the value of the lands to be used as evidence in the suit.

Mr. Collier, who left last night for his home in Eugene, stated that a man and family nearly perished in crossing the mountains from Eastern Oregon last week. Their team, consisting of two horses and two mules, foundered in the snow at the summit and two of them were killed. The man and family succeeded in getting out of the snow with the remainder of the team and reached Sweet Home Friday.

Rough on Veatch.

The Salem Statesman says: The Albany Democrat thinks Veatch, of Lane county, will not accept the nomination on the democratic ticket for congress, but that he will likely return to the state senate from his county. Veatch would come about as far from filling Binger Hermann's place in congress as any man imaginable; he would fill it at all—he would just rattle around in it. His caliber is seriously strained in the Oregon senate. He is about the right size for a school director of the Cottage Grove district.

Laying Steel Rails.

The Southern Pacific's work of replacing its iron rails with steel is progressing favorably. The road is already all steel as far south as Tangent and from Roseburg south. Between Roseburg and Tangent some sixty miles have been replaced this season, leaving a balance of some twenty-five miles to be completed. To this end there are now afloat in ships hither bound 2400 tons of steel rails. The rails are of American manufacture and weigh about 61 1/2 pounds to the foot. The work will probably be completed in about six months.

The Albany & Astoria Railway.

The Oregonian referring to the Albany & Astoria Railway says: The route of the proposed railway between Albany and Astoria is being surveyed, and Mayor Cowan, of Albany, is authority for the statement that the road will be built. He himself is one of the incorporators, and says there is plenty of money backing the enterprise. The preliminary survey from Albany to Tillamook is completed, and the route between Astoria and Tillamook will be mapped out at once. The road will cost about $3,000,000.

THE U. S. SOLDIERS' HOME.

Dan Jones Writes His Views Concerning Affairs at Santa Monica.

The following letter has been received by the U. S. A. R. post of this city:

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 21.

Courrades:—John Bryant has gone to town this morning for my papers, and I will write a few lines to let you know that we are well and able to eat our full rations, which this morning consisted of hash, bread and butter with weak coffee. Our dinner will be a stew, minus the butter, and supper will be bread, butter and tea. To tell you the truth it is rather a poor house to board in at present, and it is getting no better. I have been here five months, and in that time there has not been ten good meals set on the tables for us. The best rations are served on Sunday, and that is but a common meal for a laboring man.

I have not done a days work here, for the reason that there are able-bodied men enough here to do all the work to be done by reliefs. One relief will work a month, get their pay, and go on a drunk till their cash is gone and then they are ready for the next month. It is but a small amount they get per month—from $4 to $10, but it is $50 it would be the same. It may be a good thing, for the reason that it has taken a lot of drunks from the country and put them here together, and they afflict but a small portion of the people. There are but a few good men here, and they are ashamed of the way they have to live and the company they have to keep. There are some here that have been in the different soldiers' homes of the country. They are called "tourists" by the men here. It is my belief that no man who can act like a gentleman in a civilized community has any business here. But if he is past all respect for himself and others then this is the place for him.

The surf-bathing season is over here and the town is dead. There are but a few visitors at the home now. People have found that nearly all of the inmates are here from the effects of drink, and they have but little respect for us, and I can't blame them. The people here are altogether different from those of Oregon. They have no use for a man if he has no money. They have nothing to sell but barley and real estate—the former cheap and the latter for all they can get, from $100 to $500 per acre.

During October about ten inches of snow fell, and the country is as green as Oregon in May. The climate is as fine in the winter here as any country in America. We have had no frost, snow or cold winds, and the fogs have been light since the first of October, but they will come again with February and last till October again.

John Bryant says he has got all of California he wants, and I can say the same for myself.

There are about 400 men here, and they are going and coming. I have explored the country around here for a radius of 10 miles. To the east there is good farming land, on the north mountains and bee ranches, and to the west Santa Monica and the broad Pacific ocean. Los Angeles is a city of humbugs and swindlers. They have boomed as long as they can, and it has returned to them with a boomerang, and they are waiting for people to come here from the East, and build the town up with winter residences.

There has been more crime in this county in the last five months than in all Oregon. This seems to be where all criminals assemble. I have noticed 127 reported in jail at one time, and there are not half as many there as there should be. I am getting tired, and you will be by the time you read this.

I remain as ever your comrade, DANIEL H. JONES.

STATE DISPATCHES.

Charges Against Portland School Mistress New from the State Capital.

Special to the Herald: PORTLAND, Oct. 25.—A special meeting of the board of directors of this city and district was held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the parlors of the Commercial National Bank to consider the charges brought against Miss Bertha Moore, a teacher in the Park school, by Mrs. S. W. Rice, who claims that Miss Moore has violated a rule of school laws of this city, as established by the board. The violation consists of chastising Master Rice. Mrs. Rice says she does not think the boy was injured at all, but she is after Miss Moore's scalp and is going to have it if she has to carry it into court to carry the case into court to gain her point.

Last Night's Entertainment.

Billy Arlington's entertainment at the opera house last night for the benefit of the Albany fire department was well attended. It was a very enjoyable affair. After an overture by the Albany band, Mr. C. E. Barrows sang the ballad, "A Warrior Bold." He has a fine voice and won a hearty applause. Several beautiful readings were given by Baby Arlington. Billy Arlington's specialties were clever and were greeted with the usual applause. An interesting military drill by F. Co., O. N. G., was given under command of Sergeant T. J. Overman. Some beautiful piano selections were rendered by Mr. Charles Mueller. The entertainment concluded with the laughable farce, "Handy Andy," by Billy Arlington and the handsome soubrette, Virgie Bunell.

In order to accommodate his many customers he is in the field early this year, and has already commenced receiving his immense line of beautiful goods for the fall and winter and for the holidays, and has one of the most gorgeous and dazzling displays to be seen in any Golden Rule Bazaar in Oregon. The line carried comprises a bewildering assortment of fine china, queensware and glassware of the latest styles and most delicate designs. The beautiful china and glassware, together with the decorated and fancy wares, novelties, elegant stand and hanging lamps, toys, boys' wagons and general bazaar goods, present a scene well worth one's time to visit.

Here may be found a complete line of table cutlery of the celebrated makes, Roger Bros., silver and silver plated goods and Bohemian wares of every variety while his stock of dolls, toys, toilet and fancy goods, in plush, anvil, and novelties for the children will be larger than ever before. Mr. Gradwohl has enlarged his stock in such a replete manner that his Golden Rule Bazaar is not only a credit to the city of Albany but to the entire Willamette valley, being one of the most extensive establishments of the kind in Oregon. The most important feature to purchasers is in prices, and when we assert that his prices are as low as any house in the state and that his goods are sold at figures that cannot be equaled in the Northwest, it is but the recital of an absolute fact. It will be to the interests of the country merchants to purchase their holiday goods from this establishment, and orders should be sent in at once.

Mr. Gradwohl has long since proven his adaptability to this business, and it is taking no risk to say that this emporium of elegant fancy and decorative ware is the envy and complete in the Willamette valley. Those who deal at the Golden Rule Bazaar will find a large assortment to choose from at a square, reliable gentleman to deal with.
