THE BOSTON FIRE.

The Loss Will Reach Into the Millions.

A WIFE MURDERER HANGED.
Failed to Use Paper or Lead and Was Killed—Body Dismembered Before House.

THE BOSTON FIRE.
BOSTON, Nov. 29.—The burned district today presents a scene of desolation. A portion of the fire department spent the entire night and forenoon quenching the remnants of the big blaze. The weary officers are still guarding the ruins. Incoming trains are packed with sightseers.
The walls of some of the gutted buildings are in a very dangerous condition. Gangs of men have already begun tearing away the debris. Nearly all the burned out merchants have made arrangements to occupy other stores at once. Among the specialties at the ruins today were 500 girls employed in T. Y. Crowell's book-binding, many of whom are the main support of their families, and who now have no means of subsistence. Two more firemen are reported missing. They are believed to be in the ruins of Brown & Durrell's building.
The largest bankers look for no bad financial effect from the recent fire. Most of the insurances are held by English companies, as in the case of Lynn. The losses are comparatively small in the home offices and are well distributed and the losers are abundantly able to pay. John G. Paegle's agency estimates the total loss at $10,000,000. The aggregate losses of the fire insurance companies as reported by the agencies show a total of over $3,000,000. The underwriters in the street estimate the total loss between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000.

THE NEW YORK THEORY.
New York, Nov. 29.—The Boston dispatches say that yesterday's fire was caused by the crossing of an electric light wire and the wire of the electric time company. All the clocks on the electric time company's line stopped at 6:48, the wires being burned out at their connections with the clocks, causing incipient blazes at many places including the city hall.

A FRIGHTFUL BUNGLE.
A Murderer Slowly Strangled to Death.
GUELPH, (Ont.), Nov. 29.—W. H. Harvey, who in March last murdered his wife and two daughters, was hanged this morning. The execution was one of the worst pieces of bungling ever witnessed. The weight which lifted the body was not heavy enough and the scaffold was not high enough to give sufficient rebound to break the condemned man's neck and his struggles and contortions as he slowly strangled to death were frightful. To add to the horror the knot slipped and the gurgling in the man's throat as his life was being choked out could be heard through the jail wall.

The Wizard was Killed.
LYNN, (Mass.) Nov. 29.—William F. Sawtelle, a performer in a dime museum, last night was performing a trick with a rifle, which he apparently loads with leaden bullets. At his request some one shot at him, he appearing to catch the bullet in his mouth. Last night he failed to substitute a pasteboard bullet and William Flannigan, who fired the gun, shot him dead.

ENGINE HOUSE KNOCKED OUT.
The Switch Falls to Act and the Car Runs Away.
PORTLAND, Nov. 28.—This morning a young man employed by the Mount Tabor motor line company essayed to switch a passenger car on Mount Tabor heights, but the switch refused to work and the car got away, running down the hill about forty rods, into and through the engine house, knocking both sides out of the building.

Speakership Rumors.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Speakership candidates found time today to eat a good dinner at Ben Butterworth's house, and then resumed their struggles for votes. The New York delegation held a meeting this evening. The vote showed sixteen of the nineteen members present for Reed, with one of the remaining three absent from the city. Congressman Baker announced that while he was for Burrows he would not hesitate to cast his vote for Reed. Flood and another member is for McKinley, but in that matter he might, in certain contingencies, vote for the main candidate.

SEPARATED TWENTY YEARS.

Husband and Wife Strangely Reunited Near Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—Twenty years ago a settlement in the Gila valley, A. T., was attacked by Apache Indians, and the fight became very warm. It was finally decided that the best thing to do was to send the women and children to the nearest government fort under escort, while the men remained to defend the ranch and all they had in the way of earthly possessions. This was done, and for some reason unexplained Mrs. T. D. Rafer became separated from the party of women and children, and no trace of her could be found by her husband.
A few days ago Mrs. Rafer, who has really had a wonderful experience came to this city, and learned that her husband was a resident of Santa Maria valley. The wife, with true loving instinct, hunted her husband out and reversed the usual custom. The reunion is said to have been most touching.

OREGON TIMBER LANDS.

The Right of Married Woman to File on Them Being Considered.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—An important question affecting the right of married women in the state of Oregon to take lands under the United States timber act of June 3, 1878, is now being considered, and will soon be decided by the secretary of the interior. The late commissioner of the general land office, Mr. Stockslager, decided that married women in Oregon could not take up land under that act, basing his decision wholly on the ground of the provisions of the Oregon statutes in relation to the rights of married women in reference to holding and transferring real estate. An appeal from this ruling was taken to the secretary, the appellant being Deillah Stuckle. The case in the ordinary course would not have been reached for over a year, but as many married women in Oregon have made application to purchase under this act, United States Senator Mitchell moved that Secretary Noble advance the Stuckle case, which has been done. Mr. Mitchell regards the decision of Stockslager as wholly unprepared.

WEALTH OF A MAN WHO DROPPED DEAD AT SANTA ANNA.
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—George Ackerman, an old miser who had lived in Santa Ana since September, while walking along the street peeling an orange this evening fell dead in an apoplectic fit. Several large sums of money crumpled in six or seven thicknesses of old rags were found on his person. There were also two pass-books showing accounts with the First National Bank of Santa Ana and the Merchants' Bank of this city. Ackerman was very reticent and little was known of him. He is supposed to have been a bachelor. He had no relative in this state, but is said to have a brother in Pennsylvania.

Disrupting an Escrow.
"This was something a paradox," an Elamlet says. Since, however, the people of America and other lands have been enabled to pit Hosterter's Stomach Bitters against that unseen foe, malaria, it is no longer a paradox, but an exact possibility. Whatever malaria evolves its misty venom to poison the air, and decaying unwholesome vegetation impregnate the water there, in the very stronghold of miasma, is the auxiliary potent to disarm the foe and assure efficient protection. Fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, no matter how tenaciously they have fastened their clutch on the system, are first forced to relax their grasp and eventually to abandon it altogether. But it is preventive force that should chiefly recommend the Bitters to persons dwelling in malaria-cursed localities, for it is a certain buckler of defence against which the enemy's powerless. Cures, likewise, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney and bilious ailments.
