WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For Albany and vicinity—Following is the forecast for 24 hours, ending at 8 P. M. to-day: Rain, warmer.

NOTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Mrs. L. E. Gray is quite ill at her home in this city.

Walter Ketchum went to Portland yesterday on business.

Hon. E. B. McElroy, of Salem, superintendent of public instruction, is in the city.

H. W. Tidings, superintendent of the Golden City and Dry Gulch Mining Companies, is in the city.

Mrs. A. H. Marshall, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. D. O. Woodworth, at Ellensburg, has returned home.

William Kay's suit for $1000 damages against the city of Independence for falling off the side walk and breaking his collar bone, has been compromised, the city paying $150.

A protracted meeting is in progress at the Baptist church in this city. Rev. C. M. Hill, of Eugene, is assisting the pastor, Rev. L. J. Trumbull. All are invited to attend these services.

There is talk in Prineville of incorporating a company for the purpose of taking water out of Crooked river and taking it to the flats north of Prineville for irrigating purposes, but of late nothing has been heard of the scheme.

The Oregonian says editorially: The growth of a newspaper is a good measure of the growth of the town in which it is published. By this test Salem and Albany are making rapid progress.

For the coming holiday trade F. H. Pfeiffer has the largest line of candies ever opened in Albany. He is selling choice broken candy for 15 cents per pound, or 2 pounds for 25 cents.

Two prominent citizens became so warm over the election yesterday that words arose which led to a genuine old-time knock down. While the fight was at its hottest a policeman stood in the crowd and created much amusement by shouting, "Gentlemen, why don't you separate them? why don't you separate them?"

The number of votes cast was 612. The number would have been much larger had it not been for many voters who are engaged at the front on the railroad work. These, with others who were out of the city, would safely make the number of voters of Albany 800.

The councilmen who retire are Julius Gradwohl and Virgil Parker, Councilman Tabler being re-elected. The members who retain their seats are F. M. French, C. G. Burkhardt and L. W. Deyoe; who, together with the newly elected councilmen, will constitute the city council for the next year.

Greenwood's Art Gallery. W. H. Greenwood, the artist photographer of this city, is always to be found busy at his studio, where he carefully waits on all his patrons. His enlarging work, either in crayon, oil, India ink, water colors or pastels is not set away from his place of business, as he executes the work himself to the entire satisfaction of all who patronize him.

Seat and Novel. Mr. John Dodge is engaged in making neat range chairs, which are both novel and attractive. His shop is in the rear of the hardware establishment of Chas. H. Dodd & Co. The work embraces easy chairs, rockers, settees and rustic furniture of all kinds. The chairs are similar to the willow wicker furniture and are sold at less than half the cost. For something novel in the way of a holiday present it will pay to see him.

We are in the field and in the lead for competition. Suits to order for $20 at Zaches Bros., opposite the postoffice.

THE CITY ELECTION.

Five Republicans and Two Democrats Elected.

COWAN RE-ELECTED MAYOR.

All the Republican Councilmen Elected—Also Recorder and Treasurer—The Vote in the Several Wards.

The city election yesterday was warmly contested, and an unusual amount of rustling was done by the various candidates and their friends.

The bulk of the votes were not cast before noon, as is often done in more quiet elections, and the count resulted in several surprises. More scratching was done than has occurred in many years, the count showing that the number of straight tickets were remarkably scarce. The result of the election is as follows:

A CHINESE FUNERAL.

It Was Conducted With Pomp, But Ended with a Runaway and a Broken Hearse.

Ah Ben, a Mongolian employee of the firm of Kwong Shing & Co., died Sunday night. He was an industrious Chinaman, and was familiar to many people about the city, for whom he used to cut wood and perform odd jobs.

The funeral was conducted with great pomp. Ans Marshall's hearse was employed for the dead, and a carriage was filled with Chinese mourners, while George Savage's dray was brought into service to convey the dead man's trunk of Sunday clothing, a box of candles, a roasted chicken and other articles.

The outlandish ceremonies were too much for the team attached to the hearse, for on returning they ran away and broke the vehicle to pieces, entailing a damage of about $100.

RETURNING DELEGATES.

The Oregonians who have been in attendance upon the national game in Sacramento, California, passed through this city on Sunday morning's train.

From W. M. Hillery, of the party, we receive the list of names of those on board and the whereabouts of the others.

Those on board the train were: Hon. R. P. Boise and wife, Misses Mae and Nellie Boise, H. E. Hayes, worthy master of the Oregon state game, Rold, Imbrie and wife, of Hillsboro, W. M. and Mrs. L. L. Hillery, of Turner.

John Simpson, Oregon state game lecturer, stopped at Talent, in Southern Oregon, and will organize a game there.

Chas. Miller, of Jefferson, stopped at Ashland to visit his brother. D. B. Stumb and family, and I. M. Wagner and wife, of Salem, will remain a few days in California.

D. L. Russell and family will arrive on the next train. They were delayed to get their baggage.
