YAQUINA BAY NEWS.

Large Grain Shipments—Coal Developments—New Harbo Lights Wanted.

YAQUINA CITY, Dec. 4. A large amount of grain is being shipped from the Willamette Valley via the Yaquina bay route, the freight rates being from 6 to 7 cents per bushel cheaper from the valley to market than by any other route.

Along with the other towns of Oregon Yaquina City and Newport are taking on a growth. At Newport a board of trade is being organized and it will be incorporated under the name of the Yaquina Bay Board of Trade.

It is understood that the board of trade will take hold of the matter of the proposed Newport, Kings Valley & Salem railroad and raise a subsidy of $150,000 to induce some one to build the road.

Some time ago the right of way through the Sietz Indian reservation for a railroad was secured from congress by a Newport organization. It is proposed to utilize this franchise for the new road.

There is a reasonable prospect that valuable coal mines will be opened soon just a few miles east of Yaquina bay and within easy distance for transportation.

A seven-foot vein has recently been found on the Wetzel place on Depot slough and bonded to Tacoma parties who intend to work the mine. The coal is pronounced superior to any now being mined on this coast.

Experienced mill men have sent a proposition to Newport to put up and operate a first-class woollen mill provided a certain amount of stock is taken by the people of this city. The parties now have a plant in Boone, Iowa, that they will move if their proposition is accepted.

A petition will soon be sent to theighthouse department asking that harbor lights be placed in Yaquina bay and also for the reopening of the old light at Yaquina head which was abandoned several years ago. The buildings are in excellent condition and it would cost very little to replace the light.

During the last two weeks the jetties have been subjected to very heavy seas, but they have withstood the pounding without showing the slightest damage. Mr. Polhemus, the government engineer in charge, feels now that the work is safe for the winter.

Last Saturday the people of Yaquina City thought for a few moments that they were going to be treated to a flood after the Johnston pattern. The diem confining the water for the water works recently built by the Oregon Pacific Railroad Company in the hill back of the town gave way and the water rushed down in a deluge, but the flats were large enough for it to spread before it reached the built-up part of the town and the warehouses. Very slight damage was caused by the break. The break is now being repaired and the dam will be built much stronger.

The hull of the wrecked steamer Yaquina Bay, that was carelessly stranded alongside of the south jetty a year ago, has now almost entirely disappeared from sight, only a small portion being visible at very low tides. The wreck was an eyesore to the people of Yaquina bay.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The teachers of Linn county and others interested in education, will please take notice that a teachers' institute for the 2d judicial district will be held in Corvallis, Benton county, Oregon, commencing on Thursday, Dec. 26th, and will continue until Saturday evening. Arrangements are being made with railroads to secure reduced rates.

The local committees are also making arrangements to entertain visiting teachers free, at any rate there will be greatly reduced rates at hotels. Supt. McElroy is making the usual efforts to make this one of the most successful meetings.

Many leading instructors in the state will be present to participate in the discussions. This meeting coming on during the holidays there will be no good excuse for non-attendance. Let every lover of good institute work be present.

Teachers from Linn county are not compelled by law to attend, but a cordial invitation is extended to all and teachers are especially requested to be present.

Respectfully, L. W. CURRI, Co. Supt. Linn Co.

The Albany and Astoria Road.

The Albany & Astoria railroad has $2,000,000 behind it, and in front of it, and is a sure thing, says the Astorian. W. B. Barr, the engineer in charge of this road, has returned from a trip to Tillamook, and is very much pleased over the result of the reconnaissance. He says that he found two routes, either one of which will be perfectly satisfactory. The country surpassed all his expectations. He says that the fifty miles he traversed between here and Tillamook exceed in value for a railroad any similar area in Oregon, and that the country through which the road will run gives assurance of being capable of furnishing valuable traffic for the road. He returns to Albany entirely satisfied with the result of his trip.

A Fine Elk's Head.

A fine elk's head and antlers was brought in from the front on the Oregon Pacific yesterday. The elk, which was killed on the line of the road above Breitenbush, was as large as an ox. The specimen is being mounted by W. H. Greenwood in this city. The head carries a beautiful set of horns, and will be highly valued when finished.

Call at Barrows & Searls and see their line of lace curtains in tasteful designs.

AMORHER RAILROAD ENTERPRISE.

The People of Brownsville Want Connection With Albany—Their Views.

BROWNVILLE, Dec. 5.—Among the towns in the Willamette Valley receiving new life the past year is Brownsville. The stores show better and larger stocks than usual, and trade seems to be good. The merchants seem to be cutting loose from the long time and high prices formerly charged at Portland, and many bills are being received from first hands in the East, at very close rates. Goods are sold here much lower than ever before.

Land in this vicinity is now being sought for and some is selling. A vacant house is also looking up, and not a vacant house in town.

The public school is full, and we are second on the list in the county in number of school children.

The woolen factory is running full time, making excellent goods, turning out over $11,000. The are now working on an order for 500 pair of blankets for one firm.

Oregon is a fine place in which to build railroads, especially in the winter, when all the wagon roads get saturated with "Oregon mist," the railroads come to the front.

I suppose there must be considerable of the old Arkansas man's philosophy about this, the ground dries up so nice and solid in summer we can travel anywhere, till the rains come again, and then who wants to travel anyway, except the grummer or tax collector.

Be that as it may we of Brownsville have not as yet become reconciled to the way we were switched on in our railroad connections. Once we had a fair prospect of direct connection with Albany, which was very desirable, even when you did not aspire to be a railroad center. We are still looking that way hopefully, and in the past year we have been demonstrating the maxim that "The Lord helps those that help themselves," and towns, like individuals, must ask for what they need if they expect to get it.

The last few days has brought out the beginning of another railroad enterprise. A scheme to secure the right of way and build a railroad from this place up the Calapooia to the fine timber there and the mines on the upper Calapooia.

Also connection with Albany, the coming railroad center of the Willamette valley, if not of the Northwest. A company will undoubtedly be incorporated for this purpose in the near future. Mr. Leigh Harnett has been in town for a week. He has lately visited the mining region above named, and says the prospects are really the best for permanent mines for silver and gold he has seen anywhere, and he claims to have seen nearly all the mines on the coast except Alaska, and this is the shortest and most natural route to them.

Brownsville can be seen from Treasur Mountain, the center of the district. We are much interested in their speedy development.

A POPULAR ESTABLISHMENT.

Now Julius Gradwohl's Golden Rule Bazaar Meets the Public Want.

One of the most extensive and elegantly stocked establishments in the Willamette valley is to be found in the Golden Rule Bazaar store of Julius Gradwohl in this city. In order to accommodate his many customers he is in the field early this year, and has already commenced receiving his immense line of beautiful goods for the fall and winter and for the holidays, and has one of the most gorgeous and dazzling displays to be seen in any Golden Rule Bazaar in Oregon.

The line carried comprises a bewildering assortment of fine china, queensware and glassware of the latest styles and most delicate designs. The beautiful china and glassware, together with the decorated and fancy wares, novelties, elegant stand and hanging lamps, toys, boys wagons and general bazaar goods, present a scene well worth one's time to visit.

Here may be found a complete line of table cutlery of the celebrated makes, Roger Bros.' silver and silver plated goods and Bohemian wares of every variety while his stock of dolls, toys, toilet and fancy goods, in plush and silver, and novelties for the children will be larger than ever before. Mr. Gradwohl has enlarged his stock in such a replete manner that his Golden Rule Bazaar is not only a credit to the city of Albany but to the entire Willamette valley, being one of the most extensive establishments of the kind in Oregon. The most important feature to purchasers is in prices, and when we assert that his prices are as low as a 27 house in the state and that his goods are sold at figures that cannot be equalled in the Northwest, it is but the recital of an absolute fact. It will be to the interests of the country merchants to purchase their holiday goods from this establishment, and orders should be sent in at once.

Mr. Gradwohl has long since proven his adaptability to this business, and it is taking no risk to say that this emporium of elegant fancy and decorative ware is the most complete in the Willamette valley. Those who deal at the Golden Rule Bazaar, will find a large assortment to choose from, and a square, reliable gentleman to deal with.
