The superintendent of the railway mail service has made, or will soon make, an order placing clerks on the local trains between Portland and Eugene. Mail will then be carried on these trains to all local postoffices on the line the same as it is now carried on the overland trains. This will be a great accommodation to the public.

C. H. Spencer, who for several years has been engaged in the grocery business in this city, made an assignment yesterday for the benefit of his creditors, who are mostly in Portland. The liabilities are about $2000, and the assets about $2500. D. R. N. Blackburn is the assignee. An invoice of the stock is being taken.

Arrangements have now been made to begin a dancing school at F. Company's armory on Monday evening for beginners only. No spectators except the parents of scholars will be admitted. Lessons will commence at 7:30 sharp, and will be under the personal direction of Wm. Richards. Those desiring to learn dancing should present the first evening.

Fiction Stranger Than Truth.

The climate of Eastern Oregon does not seem to be entirely adapted to a successful propagation of the baby crop. Recently a baby without eyes was produced in that region, and it is now in a dime museum in Portland. This was followed by a youngster with twelve fingers, and now comes a stunner from Pendleton. The following is taken from a letter written by a Wasco lady. After giving the name and date of a child's birth, she writes: "Where the child's fingers and toes ought to have been, there were rattlesnake's heads, and there was a small snake grown from the top of its head and hung down on its face. The head of the snake was the child's nose, and whenever the baby moved the snake on its face would raise up, run out its tongue and hiss. The baby only lived five hours, but the snake part lived five hours longer."

The drawing for our pure China tea set, given as a premium with our brand of Unity tea, will take place Dec. 18th. THE JAPANESE TEA.

A Large Attendance Present at the Opening of the Armory Last Evening.

The opening of the Japanese Tea, given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church, at the armory of F. Co. last evening, was attended by a great throng of people.

The ladies who had the affair in charge were attired in beautiful and varied Japanese costumes. A number of young men were also fancifully dressed as Japs. The spacious building was brilliantly illuminated with electric lights, and the many booths, handsomely decorated with evergreens, flags and Japanese finery, and presided over by beautiful maids in their quaint attire, presented a scene at once pleasing and attractive.

Some of the booths were filled with fancy and art work, while from others a tempting lunch, washed with tea in dainty Japanese cups was dispensed by fair hands to several hundred people. An attractive feature was the little folks corner. In it hundreds of dolls dressed in every fashion were on exhibition. These are to be sold at auction. Another interesting corner was the curio booth. A large doorway was perched a huge snow-white owl, done up so faithfully by the taxidermist that no one seemed to be viewing every thing going on. The booth itself is filled with curiosities, relics and rare old articles of every description.

The scene within the hall was simply brilliant and pleasing in every way. An interesting literary and musical programme was rendered. It consisted of a song by a male octette, a charming piano solo by Miss Eva Cowan, a beautiful recitation by Miss Helen Crawford, a well rendered vocal solo, "Big Ben," by Prof. W. H. Lee, and one of Prof. E. G. L. Lorillard's pleasing piano solos.

To-night the following programme will be rendered: Song—Male octette. Piano solo—Miss Anna Houk. Recitation—Miss Jesse Wagner, of Corvallis. Cornet solo—Prof. David Link. Vocal solo—Miss Minnie Van Horn. Music—Octette.

A number of fine articles of fancy work were sold last evening and others will be sold to-day and this evening. The opening evening gave sufficient assurance that the affair will prove a brilliant success in a social way as well as in all other respects.

A WONDERFUL COLLECTION. Among the curious things revealed by a cursory view of the curio booth are the following:

Case of coin, owned by C. E. Brownell, also a case of minerals. Little boy's drawers worn across the plains by Mavor J. L. Cowan in 1850.

Quilt of 6000 pieces made by a lady 70 years of age. Woolen churn that came across the plains, owned by Mrs. C. E. Wolverton.

Counterpane made by Mrs. Condit when 15 years old and a pair of mittens worn by her in her babyhood.

Carved ivory card case from Japan. Snow shovels used in Canada by Mrs. Kossler.

Silver teaspoons hammered out of fifty-cent pieces over 200 years ago.

Block of olive wood from Jerusalem.

Anti-revolutionary tin plate. Needle case 100 years old.

A collection of Japanese views from Yokohama, sent by W. A. Howe to Mrs. Sears.

Two collections of Confederate money. White bedspread made in 1819 by Mrs. Baldwin, owned by Mrs. Patterson.

A Jewish emblem containing the ten commandments, 40 years in Mr. Sternberg's family.

Fruit cake presented to G. W. Smith in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1867, in good state of preservation.

This is but a small portion of the thousands of interesting curiosities on exhibition.

The Official Count. Mayor Cowan and Recorder Henton have completed the official canvass of the votes cast at the city election as required by law.

The figures of the votes for the various candidates were found to be the same as published in the HERALD, but in the total number of votes cast, four scattering ballots were counted which were not taken notice of in the published vote. This makes the whole number cast 616 instead of 912. The canvass showed a republican majority in the city of 35, there being a straight republican majority of 60 in the first ward, 20 in the second and 3 in the third ward.

An Albany Boy.

The Paragraph, a dramatic and art journal of Oakland, California, of recent date publishes a portrait and sketch of W. J. Henderson, formerly of this city now of Oakland. The Paragraph says: "Mr. Henderson stands at the head and front of the finest musical organization in Alameda county. He is leader of the Union Band and Orchestra, and is personally a polite, clever and worthy gentleman and is one of Oakland's representative men." Mr. Henderson is a son-in-law of Mr. Frank Wood of this city.

The Albany and Astoria Railway. Surveyor E. J. O'Connor and Wm. Wright are engaged in making a set of maps, showing the elevation profile and general route of the Albany and Astoria railway as obtained in the recent survey of the line. The company has expended about $2000 in surveying the route, and has also spent a large sum for a plan to begin work on the road early in the spring.

It will be a beautiful medal, costing $75.

Voting Under Difficulties.

A telegram dated Dec. 3d, in the Portland Journal tells of the great difficulty with which Newport's city election was conducted: Late Saturday night the people of Newport were surprised at the discovery that there was no legal ballot paper nearer than Corvallis, and the city election to take place Monday. Efforts were made to procure by courier sent out, but failed. A special engine was chartered from the Oregon Pacific at a cost of $150, arriving at Yaquina at 2:40 p. m. with paper. All parties enlisted in paying expenses.

Steamboat Collision.

Wednesday afternoon, coming through Yaquina chute just above Salem, the Modoc and Hoag came together. The port bow guards of the Modoc were smashed to the extent of $50. Each captain thinks the other at fault and from their reports there is certainly a misunderstanding of signals or a deliberate ram. The matter will probably go before the Portland local inspection board, whose powers include revocation of license. Both captains were inclined to be reticent.

A Real Live Bulgarian.

A queer looking old chap dressed in a long, flaring zossamer coat and a red turban upon his head, preceded to a crowd on the street last night. He said that he was a Bulgarian monk, and that his mission was to convert the ministers and priests of this country to Christianity. As there were none of the latter present his sermon fell short of its aims. The average American would think that it would be many moons before this country needs converting on matters of religion at the hands of wandering Bulgarians in greasy red turbans.

A POPULAR ESTABLISHMENT.

New Julius Gradwohl's Golden Rule Bazaar Meets the Public Want.

One of the most extensive and elegantly stocked establishments in the Willamette valley is to be found in the Golden Rule Bazaar store of Julius Gradwohl in this city. In order to accommodate his many customers he is in the field early this year, and has already commenced receiving his immense line of beautiful goods for the fall and winter and for the holidays, and has one of the most gorgeous and dazzling displays to be seen in any Golden Rule Bazaar in Oregon. The line carried comprises a bewildering assortment of fine china, queensware and glassware of the latest styles and most delicate designs. The beautiful china and glassware, together with the decorated and fancy wares, novelties, elegant stand and hanging lamps, toys, boys' wagons and general bazaar goods, present a scene well worth one's time to visit.

Here may be found a complete line of table cutlery of the celebrated makes, Roger Bros' silver and silver plated goods and Bohemian wares of every variety, while his stock of dolls, toys, toilet and fancy goods, in plush and silver, and novelties for the children will be larger than ever before. Mr. Gradwohl has enlarged his stock in such a replete manner that his Golden Rule Bazaar is not only a credit to the city of Albany but to the entire Willamette valley, being one of the most extensive establishments of the kind in Oregon. The most important feature to purchasers is in prices, and when we assert that his prices are as low as $77 house in the state and that his goods are sold at figures that cannot be equaled in the Northwest, it is but the recital of an absolute fact. It will be to the interests of the country merchants to purchase their holiday goods from this establishment, and orders should be sent in at once.

Mr. Gradwohl has long since proven his adaptability to this business, and it is taking no risk to say that this emporium of elegant fancy and decorative ware is the new complete in the Willamette valley. Those who deal at the Golden Rule Bazaar, will find a large assortment to choose from, and a square, reliable gentleman to deal with.
