Investigation of Cashier Silcott's $70,000 Defalcation.
HELD WITH CLOSED DOORS.
A Murderer Goes to the Gallows. Protection His Innocence—Preparations for the Funeral of J. F. Davis.

A MURDERER HANGED.
He Went to the Gallows Protesting His Innocence.
NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—John Theodore Wild, alias Greenwald, twice convicted for the murder of Lyman Weeks, his residence on Dekalb's avenue, Brooklyn, was hanged this morning. His neck was broken, and he was pronounced dead in two minutes.
It was expected that Greenwald would say something on the gallows, but he did not. He went upstairs with a firm step. Greenwald declared that he was innocent. He wished this inscription put on his tombstone: "Murdered December 6, 1889." He made a will in which he declared his innocence and gave his effects to Mr. Birmingham, private detective. Greenwald was a burglar and shot Weeks while robbing his house.

DEATH OF JEFF DAVIS.
Preparations for the Funeral—A Speech by New Orleans Mayor.
NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 6.—Jefferson Davis, ex-president of the Southern confederation, died at the residence of his lifelong friend, J. U. Payne, in New Orleans, this morning at 12:45 o'clock. He was aged 81 years.
When the family had partially recovered from the shock of Davis' death, Farrar sent dispatches to Mrs. Winnie Davis, who is in Paris with Mrs. Pulitzer, to Davis' son-in-law in Colorado City, and also notified Governor Lowmyer of Mississippi. Mrs. Hayes, Davis' daughter, was here yesterday, but was delayed last night at Fort Worth. She is not expected until Saturday.
Judge Fenner and Farrar have the affairs of the dead man in hand, but the latter said last night that they would not take any steps looking to the future until they held a consultation with Mrs. Davis, who at present is too much grieved to be approached on the subject. Farrar stated that he did not know but that Mrs. Davis had received some final wish from her husband regarding the place of burial. Mrs. Davis had not intimated where she desired the interment. Mayor Shakespeare has issued a proclamation announcing Davis' death and inviting the press, various exchanges and commercial bodies and a number of prominent citizens to meet at the city hall and make proper arrangements for the funeral.
The mayor says: "It is with the deepest regret that I announce to the people of the city of New Orleans the departure from life of Jefferson Davis. He needs no eulogy from me. His life is a history and his memory is enshrined in the hearts of every man, woman and child in the broad south. We all loved him and we will all honor his memory."

THE NEWS IN WASHINGTON.
No Action Will Be Taken on the Death of Jeff Davis.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The war department has not been officially notified of the death of Jefferson Davis and has taken no action with respect to it. A large oil painting of the deceased hangs on the wall of the chief clerk's office, and is surrounded by portraits of the ex-secretaries. The flag on the building which has also been half-masted on the death of an ex-secretary to-day floats in the breeze from its usual place at the top of the staff. Secretary Proctor said: "I see no occasion for any action whatever. It would subvert no good purpose that I can see. Better let the matter rest in oblivion, sleep if it will, and relegate it to the past, than to do anything that would revive memories that had been forgotten."
EMIN PASHA'S ACCIDENT.

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—News of the accident to Emin Pasha has caused a sensation in this city. The emperor was deeply pained when informed of the accident, and immediately sent a dispatch to Zanzibar, asking that daily reports as to the condition of Emin be sent to him. The accident was caused by

Disarming an Unseen Foe.
"This was sometime a paradox," as Tarnet says. Since, however, the people of America and other lands have been enabled to pit Hostetter's Stomach Bitters against that unseen foe, malaria, it is no longer a paradox, but an easy possibility. Whatever malaria evolves its misty venom to poison the air, and decaying unwholesome vegetation impregnates the water, there, in the very stronghold of miasms, is the auxiliary agent to disarm the foe and assure efficient protection. Fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb dysentery and ague cake, no matter how tenaciously they have fastened their clutch on the system, are first forced to relax their grasp and eventually to abandon it altogether. But it is preventive force that should chiefly recommend the Bitters to persons dwelling in malaria-cursed localities, for it is a certain buckler of defence against which the enemy's power is useless. Cures, likewise, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney and bilious ailments.

poor eyesight. He walked on a portico and fell a distance of about twenty feet, and was frightfully bruised.
ZANZIBAR, Dec. 6.—The condition of Emin Pasha is slightly improved to-day. He, however, in addition to injuries to his head, received severe internal injuries when he fell. It is now hoped he may recover.
RED TOP COTTAGE.
Mr. Cleveland Flatly Refuses to Sell It Any Price.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 4.—Ex-President Cleveland either has an ardent attachment for Washington real estate, or else he hopes some day to be again located in Washington. At least such is the inference drawn by business men of this city who have learned of a recent offer made for the Red Top Cottage property. Several days ago a proposition was made to Mr. Cleveland for the purchase of his property, the amount offered being upwards of $150,000. This is about five times what the property cost him, but to the surprise of the bidder he was met with a flat but courteous refusal. In his reply, Mr. Cleveland said that Red Top is not for sale, and that it is his intention to preserve it as a country residence for himself. Further, he desired it understood, that some day he proposed to take up his permanent abode at Red Top, and especially as it afforded him an opportunity for quietude and recreation.

Look at Your Hand.
Indianapolis News.
The science of chronometry, or the meaning of the human hand, always excites curiosity; but few people understand it. Can a man's character be read on his hand as well as you can read it in his face, or by the bumps on his head? 'Tis so claimed, and the science by which it is done is a pretty one. It has many branches, all of them well worth studying.
"If the palm of the hand is skiny and narrow," said a "professor" of the science, "it denotes timidity, a feeble mind and want of moral and intellectual force. If the palm is too thick, big and strong, it denotes a low intelligence and a tendency to brutality. A hollow, deep palm signifies misery, ill-luck and failure in life. Fingers which are smooth denote a tendency to act upon impulse, impulse of intuition, rather than by reason, calculation or deduction. Knotty fingers denote a tendency to orer and arrangement. People with short fingers are quicker, more impulsive, act more on the spur of the moment, than people with long fingers. If the fingers are very short it signifies cruelty and want of tact."
"Long fingers denote a love of detail. Such persons are tidy as to their appointments, easily put out and very careful about trifles. Workers in small things always have large hands, and the constructors of colossal works have small hands. Small-handed people write large, while large-handed people always write small."
"Thick fingers denote luxury. Twisted and malformed fingers, with short nails, denote cruelty, tyranny and a worrying, teasing disposition. If a hand is stiff and hard, opening with difficulty to its fullest extent, it betrays stubbornness of character and avarice. If the fingers are supple, having a tendency to turn back, they denote, as a rule, cleverness and insensitiveness, nearly always generosity, ending in extravagance. If the fingers fit close together it is a sign of avarice. If twisted as to show chinks between them it is a sign of curiosity. If they are smooth and transparent they betray indiscretion and loquacity.

EMIN BEY IS DYING.
Walked Out of a Window and Fell, Breaking His Skull.
LONDON, Dec. 5.—A dispatch from Zanzibar announces that Emin Pasha has met with a probably fatal accident. Being near-sighted he walked out of a window by mistake and fell on his head, fracturing the skull. He now lies at Bagamoyo in a critical condition.
All the doctors except Stanley's physician declare Emin's injuries will prove fatal. Stanley's physician is hopeful of saving Emin's life, but says under the most favorable circumstances the patient cannot be moved for at least ten days.
Later dispatches from Zanzibar say that Emin misjudged the height of the balcony parapet, became overbalanced and fell a distance of twenty feet his body is terribly bruised.
ZANZIBAR, Dec. 5.—Stanley, Emin and Casati were met by Wissman Tuesday, and made a triumphal entry into Bagamoyo Wednesday morning. The town was decorated, and Wissman's force and the German vessels fired salutes. In the evening there was a banquet, at which eloquent addresses were made. Stanley will arrive at Zanzibar on Thursday, on board a German vessel. Emin's people will come on a British man-of-war.
Father Schypp, who returned with Stanley, declares halfway measures are impossible in Germany's dealings with the Arabs, and Germany must either consent to slavery or maintain her position in Africa by force till the Arabs submit. He says it will take centuries to suppress the slave trade completely.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.
An Infatuated Woman's Shameful Lisgrace.
New York, Dec. 4.—Although Mrs. Mary A. Plunkett claims to have acted under divine approval when she linked her destiny to "Christian Scientist" A. Bentley Worthington, she merely played the part of an unfaithful wife from the materialistic standpoint of the Supreme Court. Judge Patterson today signed a decree of divorce in favor of the husband, John I. Plunkett, releasing him from his matrimonial bonds and containing a novel clause prohibiting Mrs. Plunkett from contracting a second marriage.
Among the evidence introduced was a letter from Mrs. Worthington to a friend, in which are such gems of "Christianity" as the following: "All is Good, and all that seemed bad otherwise." "Do not be anxious, darling, about Mrs. W. Know you not that? He tempereth the wind to the shorn lamb? Only think, she is in the keeping of divine love itself, mourn not for me, dear, but mourn for those who live in the sensual world. I am hidden by the shadow of His almighty wing. My kingdom is not of this world, the realm of good and evil, but of heaven, where all is good. Think not that this heart of mine will ever find the earth child whom it will hold in blame."
"In the presence of Almighty God and a few chosen friends, I took to my husband forever and forever the one who has in all past eternity been such, because God made him so, and promised by his divine assistance to be his loving and faithful wife. Today I am the happiest woman in all the world. I feel divine approval at every step I take. Oh, world! you little dream what heaven awaits your obedience to spiritual law!"
Upon the evidence the Court found that the woman had been guilty of violating her marriage vows and that Mr. Plunkett was entitled to an absolute divorce. This man Worthington, to whom Heaven had joined her, has turned out to have half a dozen other wives lying around loose in various parts of the country, from Connecticut to Washington.
