The new Westinghouse system of electric lights were put in operation last night. They have a meter attachment, and give a beautiful brilliant light. About 50 of them have been placed in the new woolen mills.

The result of the recent city election in Halsey was as follows: Mayor, H. D. Godley; recorder, W. J. Stewart; treasurer, M. V. Kowitz; marshal, M. J. McNeary; Council—F. Frisby, F. Lame, J. P. Carter, J. R. Bone, A. Laubner and John Standish.

The regular gospel meeting for men will be held to-day at 4 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. hall. Subject: "Life's Greatest Question," Job 9:1-3, Rom. 3:24-28. The association would gladly welcome to this meeting men who are strangers in the city, as well as all others.

Mr. W. F. Hendrickson met with a severe accident yesterday. While at the barn a bale of hay fell from the loft, striking him upon the head and shoulders. He was picked up insensible and was found to be badly bruised. No bones were broken, however, and his injuries will not prove serious.

When you are going by Paisley & Fish's printing office in the Flinn block, call and see those fine lithograph plates for printing, just the thing. All styles and sizes. The work cannot be told from the most expensive lithography, and it is three times as cheap. No trouble to show samples.

A REAL ROMANCE AND $20,000.

Queer Facts Revealed by the Prosic Records in the Linn County Court House.

There has been going the rounds of the coast papers, a romantic story of how a young man, engaged in the marble monument business, had visited the residence of a wealthy widow lady somewhere in the Willamette valley, with the ostensible purpose of obtaining a few weeks' board and recreation, but with the real motive of procuring an order for a monument for the departed husband of the lady.

The query has been, where are the real actors in this romantic episode located, and is there really any truth in the story?

In answer to this query it may be said that the location is in Linn county, on the Willamette river a mile below Harrisburg, and the fact as far as the lady endowing the young man with her wealth is concerned is true. A few years ago, an aged and highly respected citizen, Charles Roth, died, leaving the bulk of his property to his sole and true wife, Martha Roth. Left alone at the old homestead, where for years the generous hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Roth has been well known and remembered, especially by the steamboat men, who used to ply upon the river much more than at present, and frequently made the Roth landing a stopping place, Mrs. Roth found her lot very lonely indeed. What wonder then, that when a young man asked for hospitality at her house, which she had always been accustomed to lavishly bestow, and treated her with such tender regard, that she should wish to retain his careful attention, and having neither kith nor kin of her own on whom she could bestow her property that she should give it to him in consideration of his care during her lifetime.

The proof of this somewhat remarkable state of facts is found upon the prosaic records of Linn county, in July last, wherein Martha Roth decided to Egbert C. Laks her landed property, retaining a life dower in it. If the young man has the stamina of true manhood he will faithfully cherish and care for her as long as she lives, which, up to date, he seems to have been doing. If he has any compunctions of conscience arising from the fact that he fell heir to a fortune through trying to cultivate the generous old lady's acquaintance for the mercenary purpose of selling a tombstone for her departed husband, he should make amends for it by taking good care of the farm and his benefactress.

A COLD WINTER.

County Clerk Montague is inclined to endorse with the opinion of the "oldest inhabitant" that we will have a cold winter this year. The reason for this belief is the large number of white ovals that have been emitted from the north and the number of marriage certificates issued. The following is the list of certificates granted during the past month:

- G. Walton to Mary Thomas.
L. W. Taylor to Sarah E. Nave.
G. Brechlar to Adelle O. Hollida.
A. Osborn to Frances J. Grimes.
Andrew Jennings to Viola Bishop.
J. P. Swank to Fern Snyder.
A. L. Compton to Julia B. Thayer.
W. J. Snodgrass to Lydia May.
W. G. Broadwell to Anna B. Brown.
D. H. Gotshall to Ella Dalrymple.
E. E. Ward to Hilkie Albers.
J. Lee Boyle to M. K. Curtis.
J. E. Foster to Alice Harris.
J. E. Clark to Millie Foran.
Matthew C. Carlin to Mary Bern.
J. S. Stratton to Lucinda C. Farrell.
Benj. Connor to Adda Newman.
William Skelton to Lily Rice.
G. A. Farris to M. M. Fry.
Horace A. Powell to Kate Price.
Basil M. Johnson to Amanda Stover.

Capt. Symons Arrived.

Capt. T. W. Symons, United States engineer, arrived at Portland Monday to take charge of the government works at Yaquina which have been under the supervision of Capt. W. Young, who has been transferred to Memphis, Tenn. Capt. Symons will be remembered by many in the northwest, as he was engineer of the department of the Columbia for nearly four years. He left here in 1882, and was employed down on the Mississippi for eight months, and was then connected with the Mexican boundary survey, and for the past six years has been stationed at Washington, D. C., and connected with municipal engineering work.

Wrist Broken.

Mr. D. G. Clark slipped and fell yesterday morning upon the pavement, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. E. N. Condit, in such a manner as to break both bones of his left wrist. The injured member was dressed by Dr. G. W. Maston and the broken bones put properly in place.

YAQUINA BAY NEWS.

The Progress of That Enterprising Sport New Railroad Projects.

YAQUINA, Dec. 6. The steamer Mischief arrived from Siuslaw on Tuesday with a full cargo of salmon and a deck full of Chinamen.

During the past week several thousands of dollars worth of real estate has changed hands in this city and there is a bright prospect for business ahead in this line. Six months from now Yaquina bay will be the talk of Oregon.

The railroad committee will at an early day make a survey of the proposed Newport, King's Valley & Salem railroad through the Siletz reservation, file maps and secure the consent of the Indians, as required by the act of congress.

An immense deposit of potter's clay of superior quality has just been discovered here. Experts say it will make the finest kind of ware and for making drain pipes, etc., it is unequalled. The board of trade will make efforts to have works established and this clay utilized.

It is understood that all the buildings on the bulkhead at Yaquina City will be moved in the spring and that the Oregon Pacific Company will proceed to fill in the space between the bulkhead and the bluffs for track purposes, warehouses and shops. If this is done the company will probably lay out the town and sell lots. With proper storage facilities and vessels to carry it, three-fourths of the grain and other products of the Willamette valley will pass through this port.

Last Saturday the Yaquina bay Board of Trade was permanently organized and a charter filed with the secretary of state. The officers are as follows: Dr. J. R. Bayley, president; A. J. Ray, first vice president; Samuel Irvin, second vice president, and W. C. Shepard, secretary. Directors—Freeman E. Dodge, Samuel Case, J. R. Bayley, W. C. Shepard, R. F. Baker, A. J. Ray, W. S. Hufford, Samuel Irvin and A. E. Aekton. Twenty-three standing committees were appointed. The members comprise most of the leading business men and property owners on the Bay.

Pleasant Party.

A pleasant social party was given Miss Candis Conn by a number of her young friends Wednesday evening at the home of her father, Robt. Conn on Sixth street. The following young people were present: Messrs. J. L. Underwood, J. L. Irvin, Ed and O. W. Mitchell, E. S. Hale, J. F. Hall, W. E. Gillett, S. Guiss, W. F. Kuhn, Bobbie Strong, J. Tryon, C. W. Elkins, A. M. Hammer, G. C. and I. N. Barton, W. Parker, Ed and Frank Blodgett, F. L. Kenton, D. Link, W. H. Straney, H. Day, E. Benham, F. Combs, Misses Minnie and Birdie Osburn, Lizzie Starbuck, Ella Mead, Linda Miller, Tony Miller, Gussie Schaefer, Lillie and May Rideout, Minnie and Gussie Rhiner, Carrie Westfall, Eva Simpson, Sarah Ashby, Mary Condit, May Mills, Zella Parker, Mary McCormick, and Ed Martin.

The Rowena Missing.

Information received from Yaquina contains the information that about three weeks ago a little steamer named Rowena left that port in tow of the steamer Mischief. She carried a crew of four men and they claimed to be in search of fishing banks. She has never returned, and many suppose she has been lost during the extreme rough weather that has prevailed since her departure. She may, however, have succeeded in getting into some port on the coast. If news of her safety is not received soon, there will be but little room to hope that she has escaped shipwreck.

To Extend the Street Car Line.

The plat of Goltra's Park Addition to Albany was filed yesterday. It is owned by J. H. Goltra, S. E. Young, Dr. M. H. Ellis and C. G. Burkhardt and embraces 87 blocks on the beautiful knoll this side of J. H. Goltra's residence. In the center of the addition a park containing about seven acres has been laid out, and an avenue eighty feet wide extends the whole length of the plat, through which the street car line will be extended. Lots will be sold from $200 to $500 each.

Arm Broken.

Alexander Halverson, superintendent of the Albany Mining and Milling Company's mines up the Santiam, had the misfortune a few days ago, while working on a new house at the mining camp to fall from the roof, breaking his arm. Although there was no physician in the camp the injury was properly attended to, and he was doing nicely at last accounts.

Scio to Have a Railroad.

Edward Gons, one of Scio's leading business men, who was in the city yesterday, says the citizens of that place are in earnest on the subject of rail connection with the Oregon Pacific, and will build an electric motor line to connect at Mukers. The people of Scio are energetic and will no doubt soon have direct rail connection with Albany.

Sunday at the Revere House.

Hereafter lunch will be served at the Revere House on Sundays from 12 to 1 o'clock, and regular dinner from 4 to 6 o'clock P. M.

LINN COUNTY ORANGERS.

They Will Ship Seed Wheat to Destitute Eastern Oregon Farmers.

TANGENT, Dec. 7, 1889. The December meeting of the Linn County Business Council, P. of H., convened to-day at this place.

At the usual hour the meeting was called to order by President F. M. Kizer, with M. H. Wilds acting as secretary.

The roll call found a full representation present, and a large number of visiting patrons were present.

The report of the special committee on J. Clem's resolution offered at the last session relative to operations, was taken from the table and ably discussed by J. Clem, Jonas Davis, A. B. Morris, H. Freerksen, T. Froman, N. P. Payne, S. A. Dawson, Dr. Leeper, M. H. Wilds, Wm. Powers, Mart Miller, F. S. Doughton and others, and the report was adopted creating a committee of three to formulate plans.

A resolution sent in by Harmony grange against the repeal of the mortgage tax law was presented by J. Clem, who moved its adoption. On motion the resolution was referred to a special committee to report at the next meeting of the council.

A resolution from Lane County Pomona grange upon the subject of non-taxable bonds was read and referred to the committee on legislation to report after dinner.

A recess for dinner was fully occupied in discussing the excellent dinner prepared by the ladies of Tangent grange.

After dinner Prof. Washburne, of the State Agricultural college, was introduced and presented the subject of fighting the codling moth. He stated that the work consists in destroying the worm by allowing hogs and poultry to run in the orchard; by tying bands of canvas around the trees for the purpose of catching the worms and destroying them, and in the spraying of trees. The recommendation was to spray at least three times, first when the bloom has fallen and the apples stand upright; with the calyx standing erect, sometime in May, and again in July and August. He stated that action in the matter must be universal to be effective.

G. H. Riddell, from Wasco county council, was present and gave the wants of his section in regard to aid in furnishing seed wheat and oats, which was taken under consideration, and after discussion the matter was referred back to the subordinate grange with promises of giving aid.

The committee on legislation reported upon the resolution from Lane county concurring in the opinion that the issuance of non-taxable bonds is wrong and should be guarded against.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The teachers of Linn county and others interested in education will please take notice that a teachers' institute for the 2d judicial district will be held in Corvallis, Benton county, Oregon, commencing on Thursday, Dec. 20th, and will continue until Saturday evening. Arrangements are being made with railroads to secure reduced rates. The local committees are also making arrangements to entertain visiting teachers free, at any rate there will be greatly reduced rates at hotels. Supt. McElroy is making the usual efforts to make this one of the most successful meetings in the state will be present to participate in the discussions. This meeting will be a good excuse for non-attendance. Let every lover of good institute work be present. Teachers from Linn county are not compelled by law to attend, but a cordial invitation is extended to all and teachers are especially requested to be present.

Respectfully, J. W. CUKL, Co. Supt. Linn Co.

Helen Blythe Coming.

Helen Blythe, the gifted actress, and her entire company, who have delighted large audiences in Portland recently, and who have won such enthusiastic praise there, will appear in this city this week, playing two nights, Wednesday and Thursday. The opening play will be their great success, "A Mother's Love," and the second evening, "Creole." The Oregonian, which is not given to flattering dramatic companies, says of Helen Blythe: "This very finished artist gave her second performance in her latest success, 'A Mother's Love,' at the New Park theatre last night. It is rarely any artist receives the praise and creates so favorable an opinion as did Miss Blythe. It does not seem to be generally known to theatre-goers of Portland that they have in the person of Helen Blythe an extraordinarily gifted actress. Miss Blythe, at 17 years of age, was the leading lady of Daly's theatre, in New York, when Miss Rehan was the sobrette. It was considered a marvelous thing for a girl to step into the position vacated by Clara Morris and Fanny Davenport. This, however, Miss Blythe did do. The leading journalist in New York, paid a high tribute to her powers, endorsing her as the coming emotional actress, and one of the brightest gems on America's stage. Miss Blythe is surrounded by a splendid dramatic company. Her leading support, John Brien, was leading man for the renowned and lamented Adelaide Nielson, he playing 'Gnome,' to her 'Juliet,' for two years." The price of admission will be 50 and 75 cents. Reserved seats will be on sale at Blackman's. This will be a really first-class performance and the HERALD predicts that the opera house will be packed both nights.
