NOTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

F. Co., O. N. Co., was duly inspected last evening by Lieut. Geo. B. Chamberlain.

Keep your eye on the new drug store. For good goods and low prices it heads the procession.

Mrs. W. C. Powell arrived yesterday from the east to join her husband, who has located in this city.

The "Jinglers" Concert Company passed through this city yesterday for Corvallis, where they play two nights.

Tickets for the "Jinglers," on Thursday evening for the benefit of the Women's Relief Corps are now on sale at Blackman's. The price of admission is 25 and 50 cents, and 75 cents for reserved seats.

Corinthian Lodge No. 17, A. F. & A. M., holds a special communication this (Wednesday) evening. Work in the F. C. degree. All Fellow Craft Masons invited to attend. Rufus Thompson, W. M., F. M. Redfield, secretary.

On the 19th inst. The Jinglers will give a concert at the opera house in this city for the benefit of the Women's Relief Corps. They are said to be the finest company of colored singers that ever traveled, and to have the best bass singer.

The Ochocho Review says that the stock inspector has finished his fall inspection in that part of the county north of Ochocho and west of Deschutes. He reports having inspected 210,000 head of sheep, only 78.75 of which he found to be affected with disease.

Mr. J. B. Parker, of Kansas, who brought out a herd of short horn blooded cattle and sold them in the vicinity of Sheela, this county, started for his home yesterday. Before going back he purchased a part of the Curry place, and will return in the spring, with another band of blooded cattle.

The Albany and Astoria Railroad.

J. O. Wrasman and Henry Sussman came from the front on the Oregon Pacific last evening. They brought in five car-loads of the plant purchased by the Albany & Astoria Railroad Company. This, and about as much more, is being brought to this city to be placed in readiness for work on the road from Albany to Astoria. Preparations are being made to put about 1,000 men to work on the road early in the spring. The company has quite a pay roll now among its engineers, surveyors and other men employed. They pay their bills promptly and have plenty of money backing the enterprise. The company has already paid out over $100,000. They do not seek any subscriptions to build the road but go at it in a manner which indicates that they mean business.

Turns Up Periodically.

Not long ago an account was given of the attempt of a lunatic to carry off—bodily—a schoolmarum. Speaking of the same individual Statesman says: Charles Perry, the almost ubiquitous insane soldier, always turns up where he is not expected. Sunday evening while the Vancouver officials were securing the vicinity of Salem for him a telegram came from the barracks that he had delivered himself up there. It seems after inquiring here for the object of his search he departed at once for Vancouver, arriving there at noon Sunday. He was permitted to enter the closet and not being shackled jumped out of the window. This was at Home, a small station near Huntington. Eight days from this he was seen in Sa. em, and the next day at Vancouver, where he now is, ready to again be transported to the asylum of Washington. Saturday evening there arrived in Salem, in search of the fugitive, Lieutenant Eastman and two privates. They returned Monday.

A SENSATIONAL TRIAL.

The Court Room Crowded With Ladies to Hear the Testimony in the Hubbard Case.

At 9 a. m. yesterday, the time set for the hearing of the application of Lena DuBrulle before County Judge Blackburn, praying that the custody of Barbara Hubbard be taken away from the parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hubbard, and given to some charitable institution, the circuit court room was crowded with women and men to hear the testimony in the case, which has attracted considerable attention. It comes under the new law passed by the last legislature, Mrs. Hubbard being accused of whipping the child in a cruel manner.

The child, which is in the custody of the sheriff, and has been placed in the keeping of Dr. M. H. Ellis and wife is two and a half years old.

It and the younger child of Mrs. Hubbard appeared as lively as crickets. They ran about the court room and caused many smiles by playing peeka-bo with some of the learned attorneys and chasing each other at hide-and-seek about the railing of the bar.

District Attorney H. H. Hewitt and O. H. Irvine appeared for the state and W. R. Bilyeu and C. E. Wolverton for the defense. After the opening statements by the opposing counsel the examination of witnesses was commenced, which consumed the entire day.

The witnesses on the part of the state were: Mrs. Matthews, Mr. C. H. Spencer, Mrs. B. W. Cundiff, Mrs. F. H. Kaseo, Mrs. Sarah Hines, Mrs. W. T. Hearst, Mr. Wilson, Miss Dora Harris, Miss Mattie Patterson, Miss Ida Goan, Mr. T. L. Wallace, Mrs. T. L. Wallace, Mrs. M. J. Train, Mrs. St. John, Miss Emma Pfeuffer, D. C. Schell, Dr. M. H. Ellis, Mrs. M. H. Ellis, and Mrs. Nellie Monteith.

The burden of the evidence on the prosecution was to effect that the witnesses had seen more or less cruel whipping of the little girl done by its parents, and had heard the child receive severe whippings when in the house, and that Mrs. Hubbard did not show the love for it that she did for the younger child, and treated it in a very cruel manner, and did not give it enough to eat.

On the part of the defense Mrs. Hubbard testified, denying every allegation as to cruel treatment of the child. She said Barbara was headstrong and she had to correct her severely. She said she had given both of her children a sound spanking a number of times, but had never treated them cruelly. She said both the children were adopted. She said Barbara's name before adoption was Edith Tyler. She was an illegitimate child of Mollie Tyler, a servant girl of Des Moines, Iowa, who left her parents to hid her shame, and hired out as a servant girl. The child was obtained from the Children's Home of Des Moines, Mrs. Hubbard did not know who the child's father was.

Mrs. Blumberg, who had the child in custody after its arrest, testified that the child was hard to control, and that it seemed to love its mother.

Other witnesses introduced to show that the child seemed to have ordinary affection for its mother were Miss McChang, and Addison Hallin.

Judge J. C. Powell testified as to the disposition of the child. He thought she was hard to control.

Mr. H. C. Hubbard corroborated what Mr. Hubbard had said concerning the adoption of the child. He said Barbara was wild and had some bad habits, and they were forced to be strict with her and whip her sometimes, but they had never treated her in a cruel or inhuman manner, but only as a means of correcting the child's habits. They had always given it plenty to eat and treated it kindly. He said Mrs. Hubbard never whipped the child unmercifully. If he had seen anything of that kind he would have stopped it.

This concluded the testimony, and the court adjourned until 9 a. m. to-day.

THE REFORMER SLIGHTLY MIXED.

He Got a Bad Spell on the Willamette Valley and also Conceded His Geography.

Eastern people find it difficult to acquire the correct pronunciation of the name of our beautiful valley, the garden spot of Oregon; but few get so wide of the mark as the reporter of the Cleveland (Ohio) Plaindealer, who recently interviewed Mr. Edward A. Abbey of Corvallis.

After stating that Mr. Abbey is visiting Cleveland for the first time since he left there forty-five years ago, and giving a sketch of his wanderings as a steamboat man on the Mississippi and Missouri rivers, a soldier in the Mexican war, a scout and dispatch carrier, it is said that Mr. Abbey started in 1850, with the vast human tide flowing west, for Oregon. On the way he suffered an attack of cholera and his comrade died with it. He arrived in Oregon after a journey which was very eventful in that day, and it has been his home ever since.

So far the reporter gets along very well with the story, but when he undertakes to tell something about the Willamette valley and the method of shipping its products, he gets slightly mixed, as will be seen by the following extract:

"His home is in the Yallinett valley, ninety miles south of Portland and seventy-two miles from Yaquina on the bay of the same name. The products of the great Yallinett valley have been transported north to Portland, then 115 miles down the Columbia river to the coast and then 100 miles down to Yakima bay on the way to San Francisco. The Oregon Pacific road, in which Mr. Abbey is interested is built directly west from Albany to the coast, and is expected to gather in the traffic of the country by the short distance to the coast. They have had no booms in Oregon, Mr. Abbey says, the controlling spirits preventing it. The towns of California which were inflated so much a few years ago have not yet begun to recover from the effects of the collapse which followed. Rent signs are on a majority of the buildings and the life and activity are gone."

MAN SHOT.

Patrol Encounter at Sublimity, in Marion County.

Word came to the Salem Statesman Sunday evening that W. C. Riggs, a married man about forty years old, with wife and three children, who resided on Charles Egbert's farm, one and a half miles eastward from Sublimity, had been shot and killed about noon that day by Thomas Hammond of Stayton, a man nearly the same age, long married. The report proved true, as far as the death of Mr. Riggs is concerned, but the manner of the death is shrouded in mystery, which will require the inquiry of the courts to solve.

The killing occurred on a farm belonging to Hammond's father, and which was occupied by Hammond for a time, but he left it and has been living at Stayton. This farm joins that occupied by Riggs, and the latter had some cattle on the Hammond place grazing. At the time of the killing there were present only Mr. Riggs, Mr. Hammond and a son of the latter ten or twelve years old, so that the full facts may never be known, although the tender age of the lad may insure a straight story of the sad occurrence.

Hammond claims that the shooting was accidental, while the gun was in the hands of the boy, and occurred in this wise: All three were standing around the premises, Hammond having a double-barreled gun, when some quails were seen flying around, one of which Hammond shot, and then the boy begged to be allowed to shoot one. The father handed him the gun, whereupon it was accidentally discharged by the boy, the charge lodging in Mr. Riggs' neck, killing him almost instantly.

A CALIFORNIA SENSATION.

It is reported that the sales of the "California Bandy" Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla have grown within a few months to what are now really sensational. The way the fame of this production has spread is simply marvelous. Six months ago it was unknown. Today it is all over the country. It is authoritatively stated that they have been actually giving it away in San Francisco to people afflicted with dyspepsia, sick headaches, indigestion and liver troubles, not to be paid for unless it cured. Such practical tests are so startlingly convincing as to be almost sensational. It is stated that two of the active principles of the new remedy belong to the vegetable kingdom of California, and are so well known to us all under common names that it would surprise us if told they were not. But we are not surprised at anything Californian, and this recent discovery of the new medicinal virtues of its vegetable kingdom is but another instance of the astonishing possibilities of a soil and climate like ours.
