

Morning Daily Herald

SPECIAL, 12:30 A. M.

Not to see our stoves and ranges before buying is a mistake. Mistakes are always costly. In heating stoves we have the largest as well as the most carefully selected stock in the city.

Geo. W. Smith.

ON SALE.

The DAILY HERALD will be on sale each morning at the new stand of W. E. Kuhn's, where it can be procured at 5 cents per copy.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

For Albany and vicinity—Following is the forecast for 24 hours, ending at 8 P. M. to-day: Rain; warmer.

NOTINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Paisley & Fish, job printers. An adjourned meeting of the city council will be held Monday evening. Julius Gradwohl, presented his clerk, Mr. Wm. Miller, with a fine gold-headed cane as a Christmas present.

Lost in this city on Christmas day a small circular gold ring. The finder will please leave the same at this office.

The Sportsmen of Knox Butte will hold a match hunt next Monday. The captains of the rival teams are A. B. Custer and J. S. Froman.

The John S. Lindsay Dramatic Co. will play this evening, Saturday afternoon and evening and Monday evening at the opera house in this city. They are said to be a good company.

Out of the cargo of 400 tons of the steamer Farallon recently caught in a heavy sea at Yaquina, only 210 sacks of wheat was damaged, and it was fully insured. The boat will be repaired.

Mr. James V. Talt will begin canvassing this city in a few days for the Pacific Endowment League of San Francisco, Cal. This institution admits membership of both sexes, and pays endowment certificates in the sum of $5000 during lifetime, divided into 10 coupons of $500 each. The league was organized on March 8, 1888, and now has 5000 members.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Frank Morris has returned from Montana. Dr. J. W. Watts, of Lafayette, is in the city.

Mrs. A. W. McNary of Eola is visiting in this city. Mrs. Henrietta Brown has returned from Portland.

Miss Carrie Miller of Lafayette is visiting in this city. T. J. Buford, agent of the Siletz Indian agency, is in the city.

Charles Clark returned last evening from a trip to Portland. Miss Laura Goltra, of Salem, is visiting her parents in this city.

Mr. Arch Monteith, of Portland, spending a few days in this city. Mrs. Savage and daughter of Salem are spending a few days in this city.

Mr. John Simpson, of Eugene, lecturer of the Oregon State Grange, is in the city. Dr. E. W. Rossiter and wife of Salem, who have been visiting their brother, Dr. A. J. Rossiter and family in this city, returned home last evening.

Robt Griffin, of the firm of Orman, Crook & Co., is in the city for the purpose of taking in more supplies. Work on the road is progressing favorably notwithstanding the cold weather.

He Swiped the Christmas Turkey. On Christmas eve Judge Strahan who occupies rooms up stairs in his block on First street, hung a nicely dressed turkey upon a nail on the wall outside near one of the rear windows to let it mellow by freezing for his Christmas dinner. It was about twenty feet from the ground and as there was no stairway or other buildings within reach, he thought the Christmas fowl would be quite safe. When he went to get it, however, he was chagrined to discover that some miscreant had taken a long pole and deliberately lifted the turkey from the nail and unlawfully converted it to his own use. Christmas turkeys were scarce this year, and there was not another purchasable for love or money, which left a big vacant spot on the Judge's dinner table. Should the thief ever become known and happen to come before his honor on the supreme bench, there would not be any question as to his receiving the fullest penalty of the law.

Frozen Water Pipes.

It would be well for people to look after their water pipes and to turn off the water on an evening during the cold weather. Another good idea is to call early and get some of our fine cauliflower, celery, sweet potatoes, oranges, Smyrna figs, bananas, etc., just received at the W. I. A. nettle Packing Co.'s.

Some new designs in serapes, blouses, and dresses to suit your fancy at Guiss & Son's.

ANOTHER PROPOSED FACTORY.

Letter from a San Francisco Man Who Wants to Start Starch Works Here.

The following letter, received by Mr. S. E. Young, president of the Albany Board of Trade, is self-explanatory:

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 23. S. E. Young—Dear Sir:—Having seen in a paper here an account of the rapidly growing manufacturing interests in your city, I conclude I would address you on the subject of opening starch and glucose works in Albany, the starch to be manufactured from potatoes and wheat and then run into table syrups and glucose. If you and parties interested consider my proposition favorably, I will be glad to visit your town and give you an address and practical illustrations on manufacturing the goods, your board to pay me a stated sum for so doing. If business results from this letter I will furnish all references as to my practical knowledge and ability to do as I state. I may add the business pays and employs considerable help in the large demand for output, and no works of the kind are on the Pacific Coast. Waiting your reply, I remain yours respectfully, THOMAS NORTON.

SHOOTING AT BROWNSVILLE.

Teague Assault the Town Officers—One of Them Shot.

BROWNSVILLE, Dec. 26.—Last evening as Marshal Senger and Deputy Marshal Long were taking David Bond, who was arrested for being drunk and disorderly, to the city jail, they were attacked by two parties who attempted to release the prisoner, knocking Deputy Long down twice and Senger once, also striking Prof. Garland, who had been called to assist them, over the right temple with a club, causing a painful wound. The second time Long was knocked down he fired two shots, one taking effect in the neck of Ed Montgomery, one of attacking parties, ranging upward. The bullet has not been extracted and the extent of the injury is not reported. The other attacking party escaped and the authorities refuse to give him a name.

The Lindsay Troupe.

Concerning this excellent company, which will appear in this city this evening, Saturday and Monday evenings, with a Saturday matinee, the Salem Statesman says: This famous company in its rendition of Ignomar has night was deserving of a much larger attendance than it received, but the night was a very unfavorable one for a theatre. Church festivities and Christmas trees were numerous throughout the city and Christmas night finds most people attending to such affairs and not liable to attend public performances. Those present, however, declare the troupe an excellent one, and they will doubtless be greeted by a large audience to-night in the presentation of that always enjoyable play, the "Lady of Lyons." Tickets for sale at Blackman's. Don't fail to see Lindsay; he's immense.

Draw $15,000.

A party of six laborers on the Oregon Pacific railroad made up a pool this month and bought $30 worth of Louisiana lottery tickets. One of the number sold out his interest before the drawing for $5, just what he put in. One of their tickets, which were fortieths, drew the capital prize of $600,000, one-fortieth of which was $15,000, which the men will get. They have announced their intention of staying right at work, and will probably invest their neat fortune in Albany real estate. The ticket drawing the $15,000 was forwarded for collection yesterday by Wells, Fargo & Co.

Leg Broken.

Yesterday morning Fred Trumpey, an employe of Peter Riley, was thrown from a horse on Ellsworth street. He was leading another horse, and in falling was thrown heavily upon the frozen ground. His right leg was broken at the ankle and he was considerably bruised. He was picked up and carried into the residence of Mrs. Mady near by, and his injuries were properly attended to by Dr. G. W. Maston and Dr. W. H. Davis.

For Sedative.

Major Cassell, who has been in poor health so long, has recovered sufficiently to be around, and left yesterday to try the springs at Sodaville, to see what effect a change will have on his health. His many friends will wish him success in hunting for health and strength to renew his active and efficient labors as contractor and builder.

A Small Blaze.

A small ripple of excitement was caused in John Dierenger's meat market yesterday morning by an incipient blaze. Mr. Dierenger fell and dropped a lighted lantern, which created a considerable blaze. The fire was put out without much trouble and without any damage.

Ten Days Only.

Ho ye business men! Listen to the voice of the most conservative and successful men of our town. Buy an acre of land in Albany's addition to Astoria, which to-day cost you less than $25 per lot, and which will double in value in less than one year. Now don't be a gump, but buy now. For further information inquire of the Oregon Land Co., Albany.

New Brick Yard.

Major W. C. Cassell has let the contract for clearing the land and starting his new brick yard. He expects to make 1,500,000 or 2,000,000 brick next season.

ABOUT BRIDGES ON THE WILLAMETTE.

ALBANY, Dec. 26, 1889. To the Editors of the Herald:

The Woodburn Independent in a late issue says: "The county court of Marion county has decided to build an armory in Salem—probable cost, $20,000. The Salem board of trade asks for $3000 to assist in advertising Salem and county, and for not less than $12,000 a year to macadamize roads leading into Salem."

"The Independent claims all such appropriations to be unjust, and but legalized robbery of the over-taxed taxpayers for the aggrandizement of Salem. Your opinion is respectfully requested."

The opinion of your correspondent is not asked, and perhaps is not wanted, but he purposes to express his opinion through the columns of your paper, if you will afford him space.

From what is known we sometimes form opinions of the unknown. Salem has a bridge across the Willamette river for the convenience of the people of Polk county, and the profit of Salem, and I learn that there was considerable opposition thereto from the people of Jefferson. Now Jefferson wants a bridge across the Santiam river at that place, and expects it to be built at the joint expense of Linn and Marion counties, and but for the hope of the bridge, and the great benefit which would naturally accrue to Marion county in general, and to the town of Jefferson in particular, from the building of the bridge, the taxpayers, of that progressive little burg would lift up their voices in vigorous, vehement opposition to having the expense mentioned in the Independent saddled upon them. But they are drowned into acquiescence by the shout from the Salem people, that any opposition from them to these expenditures for the aggrandizement of Salem, would result in defeating the erection of the bridge at Jefferson, and the people of that town, at a meeting recently held there to discuss and consolidate the project of building the bridge, now, when, etc., endorsed the action of the county commissioners in the contemplated expenditures to build an armory, macadamizing roads leading into Salem and advertising the city of Salem and county—although it is well known that the sentiment is really opposed to it.

Yes, Jefferson indorses this expenditure, and this, it is supposed, insures the bridge. But is it so? At a meeting there a few days since a committee of fifty persons in each county—Linn and Marion—was raised for the purpose of urging the matter upon the county court in each county. Your correspondent has been informed that the cost of the bridge has been estimated at $10,000. He has also been informed that such a bridge as will be built will cost $20,000. Linn county will, of course be expected to furnish one-half of the cost of the structure, whatever that may be. Is she ready to assume her share of the liability for the enterprise? Are our people who are interested in the building up of our county and Albany willing to sacrifice a portion of the trade which naturally and rightfully belongs to her to build up Jefferson? To send her trade out instead of bringing it into this county?

Is not Linn county and Albany more interested in bridging the Willamette at Albany, and affording the farmers of Benton and Polk counties facilities for bringing the products of their farms to our markets, and thus draw the trade to our city and our merchants? A bridge at Jefferson will have to be, inclusive of the approaches, fifteen hundred feet, in order to be above high water, and will cost $40,000, and I believe it will be in excess of that rather than below it. I think, be evident to all who are familiar with the ground that to have it accessible at all times and seasons, in high as well as low water, the bridge should be as high as the railway bridge, and extend out as far on the Linn county as does the railroad bridge. And indeed it must needs be so, or it would be utterly impossible to reach it in high water without a boat, and those who have crossed on foot over the railway bridge, from Jefferson toward Albany, are already convinced that it is almost, if not quite, half a mile from the water's edge on the Linn county side to the point where the railway track touches the natural level of the earth. If this estimate of the distance is correct approximately, then argument is unnecessary to convince anyone that $40,000 is not extravagant by any means. And for ten or fifteen thousand dollars added a bridge across the Willamette at Albany may be built, and a benefit indefinitely greater to the people, town and county accrue. This may not be an opportune time for the commencement of a structure of such proportions and importance. But surely if it is the proper season for the agitation and discussion of the Jefferson bridge enterprise the Albany bridge may at least excite friendly comment. Give us a bridge across the Willamette at Albany. ADVANCE.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

The Elegant Display at Julius Gradwohl's Bazaar Store.

One of the most extensive and elegantly stocked establishments in the Willamette valley is to be found in the Golden Rule Bazaar store of Julius Gradwohl in this city. In order to accommodate his many customers he is in the field early this year, and has already commenced receiving his immense line of beautiful goods for the fall and winter and for the holidays, and has one of the most gorgeous and dazzling displays to be seen in any Golden Rule Bazaar in Oregon. The line carried comprises a bewildering assortment of fine china, queensware and glassware of the latest styles and most delicate designs. The beautiful china and glassware, together with the decorated and fancy wares, novelties, elegant stand and hanging lamps, toys, boys' wagons and general bazaar goods, present a scene well worth one's time to visit.

Here may be found a complete line of table cutlery of the celebrated makes, Roger Bros' silver and silver plated goods and Bohemian wares of every variety, while his stock of dolls, toys, toilet and fancy goods, in plush and silver, and novelties for the children will be larger than ever before. Mr. Gradwohl has enlarged his stock in such a replete manner that his Golden Rule Bazaar is not only a credit to the city of Albany but to the entire Willamette valley, being one of the most extensive establishments of the kind in Oregon. The most important feature to purchasers is in prices, and when we assert that his prices are as low as 277 house in the state and that his goods are sold at figures that cannot be equaled in the Northwest, it is but the recital of an absolute fact. It will be to the interests of the country merchants to purchase their holiday goods from this establishment, and orders should be sent in at once.

Mr. Gradwohl has long since proven his adaptability to this business, and it is taking no risk to say that this emporium of elegant fancy and decorative wares is the most complete in the Willamette valley. Those who deal at the Golden Rule Bazaar, will find a large assortment to choose from, and a square, reliable gentleman to deal with.

Lecture at Harrisburg.
