GREAT SNOW STORM.

The Usual Blizzard Sweeps Over the Dakotas.
BUSINESS AND TRAVEL STOPPED.
 Hanging by Electricity Declared Constitutional in New York—Accident to Sara Bernhardt.

The Herald's Special Dispatches.
ST. PAUL, Dec. 30.—Advises here seem to indicate that the great snow storm of Saturday extended over a large area. Rumors were rife in newspaper offices that many wires west of here were down and travel delayed. The center of disturbances appears to have been at Huron, where the wind veered to the north, and the storm increased until it became a veritable blizzard, blowing fifty miles an hour. Memorable experiences of two years ago prevented people from unduly exposing themselves on the prairies, and no bad results are anticipated.

The storm has been marked in places by a singular phenomena. At Winona the rain descended in sheets, and the town of Whaler was flooded. When the rain stopped the mercury fell rapidly to 30 degrees in three hours. Business is entirely suspended.
 At one of these points electrical disturbances preceded the fall of snow.
 Duluth was visited with a severe blizzard, ushering in the heaviest fall of snow of the season. Much damage has been done in the city, and the streets are blocked. Trains are delayed by drifts six feet deep in many places.

OLD WORLD AFFAIRS.
A Sensational Plot Against Parnell—The Story Denied.
DUBLIN, Dec. 30.—Parnell has written a letter to Freeman's Journal, in which he says he has received no notice of having been made co-respondent in the suit brought by Captain O'Shea against his wife for divorce. Parnell also says that since 1880 he has resided at Captain O'Shea's house at Eldham. He was frequently there when O'Shea was absent, but the latter was cognizant of his being there. He declares that Hofstun, secretary of the Loyal and Patriotic Union, instigated O'Shea to proceedings for divorce in order to diminish damages which may be awarded Parnell in his libel suit against the Times.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—Houston has written a letter denouncing the statement made by Parnell in his letter to the Journal that he instigated Captain O'Shea to bring suit for divorce against Mrs. O'Shea. Houston says he had no knowledge of the action taken by O'Shea until he saw the announcement of the divorce published in the papers Saturday.

ELECTRICAL EXECUTIONS.
The New Process Declared Constitutional in New York.
ROCHESTER (N. Y.), Dec. 30.—Joseph Kemmler, a murderer, sentenced to death by electricity, appealed to the general term of court, claiming the sentence was unconstitutional, as it provides an unnecessary cruel manner of death. The court has held that the evidence went to show that it was not a cruel method of inflicting the death penalty and that it was therefore constitutional, and remanded the prisoner to undergo the punishment, Kemmler's only chance of escape is through the clemency of the governor, which is not likely to be exercised.

MISSIONARIES MURDERED.
A Party of Natives Attack and Kill a Whole Party.
PARIS, Dec. 30.—Intelligence received from Fajarah bay, on the east coast of Africa, says that two French missionaries traveling from Zeilah to Harrar, under the escort of eight Greeks, were attacked by natives and the whole party was murdered with spears and knives.
SARA BERNHARDT PAINTED.
Her Stage Scenery Caught Fire and She Narrowly Escaped.
PARIS, Dec. 30.—Sara Bernhardt came near meeting with a serious accident during the initial performance of "Joan of Arc" last night. The funeral pyre used in the play became ignited and Bernhardt fainted. Two scene shifters were seriously burned.

A SAVAGE APE.
An Organ Grinder's Desperate Fight for Life.
KANSAS CITY, Dec. 26.—For some time past Giuseppe Garro has been reaping a harvest in this city and the neighboring villages through the combined performance of a large ape and the melodious strains of a hand-organ. The ape was about three feet high, and was remarkably well trained, never failing to draw a crowd by his antics.
 For several days Garro noticed that the animal was inclined to be sulky and did his work badly, and yesterday he concluded to punish the animal and try to force him out of his sulky fit. He had been accustomed to whip the

A REVOLTING SCENE.

The Scene of the Negro Lynching in South Carolina.
THE CORONER'S INQUEST.
 They Were Killed by Persons Unknown to the Jury—There Will Be No Retaliation from the Negroes.

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD.
COLUMBIA, S. C., Dec. 30.—A coroner's inquest upon the death of the eight negroes lynched at Barnwell was held Saturday night at the scene of the tragedy. It was a terrible sight which the jurymen looked upon. On the left side of the road were the bodies of Ripley Johnson and Mitchell Adams, charged with the murder of Heffnerman. And on the opposite side were the bodies of the six negroes charged with the murder of young Rolo Martin. They were tied to trees by the roadside, their backs to the sapling. A rope was passed around the trees and bodies of the men, and when shot the weight of their bodies had swung them down on the ropes, and they occupied all sorts of grotesque and revolting positions.
 On ballot the jury returned a verdict that the eight men had come to their death from gunshot wounds inflicted by some party or parties unknown. After the inquest the negroes were notified that they might remove the bodies if they desired. The family of Ripley Johnson and Mitchell Adams removed their bodies to their homes, but the other six remained, and were treated as murderers and outcasts. There were none to mourn them. Neither whites nor negroes waited to remove the bodies. The town declined to bury them because they were killed outside the limits, but offers have been made to furnish coffins if the negroes would bury them. The remaining negroes declare they will pull up and leave the country. They assert that there will be no retaliation.

GRANGE ELECTIONS.

Tomlinson; gatekeeper, Claude Logston; ceres, Lizzie Johnson; pomona, Eva Beon; flora, Kate Vanderpool; lady assistant steward, Ona Logston.

Dismissing an Unseen Fac.
 "This was sometime a paradox," as Hamlet says. Since, however, the people of America and other lands have been enabled to purchase Stomach Bitters against that unseen foe, malaria, it is no longer a paradox, but an easy possibility. Whenever malaria evolves its misty venom to poison the air, and decaying unholocaustic vegetation impregnates the water, there, in the very stronghold of miasma, is the auxiliary potent to disarm the foe and assure self-protection. Fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, no matter how tenaciously they have fastened their clutch on the system, are first forced to relax their grasp and eventually to abandon it altogether. But it is preventive force that should chiefly recommend the Bitters to persons dwelling in malarious localities, for it is a certain buckler of defence against which the enemy is powerless. Cures, likewise, dyspepsia, rheumatism, kidney and bilious ailments.

 Look at my five-cent corner window, it is the wonder of the town.
C. E. Brownell.

Special to the Herald.
GLoucester Times.
 Little children continue to teach their elders lessons of wisdom and piety. A gentleman was going abroad for a six-months trip and had just taken an affectionate leave of his wife and his only child of 2 or 3 years. The pretty child felt that something was wrong, but hardly realized what, and stood beside a chair holding her thumb in her mouth, a favorite pastime with her and a never-failing comfort.
 The mother, meantime, sat gazing out one of the windows, and presently the tears began to drop one by one down her cheeks. The daughter looked at her, and at once stepped to her side.
 "Mamma," she said, in a comforting tone, "mamma, suck 'oo fum."
THE DANGER OF THE SEA.
The Steamship Amsterdam Encounters a Severe Storm.
NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—The Netherlands-American steamship Amsterdam, which arrived at Quarantine late last evening and came up to her dock this morning, had a remarkably stormy voyage, during which a portion of her cargo got adrift and was damaged to the amount of several thousand dollars.
 The voyage occupied seventeen days and Captain Stenger sailed December 14th. A storm, prevailing since the 9th, increased in violence and at midnight a terrible squall swept over the ocean, and striking the ship, covered her with spray. The air was heavily charged with electricity and the compasses became unsteady.
 Balls of fire hung at the ends of the yards and also appeared on the steel points in the compass. It was so dark that the officer could not see from the bridge to the forecast. December 16th Amsterdam was caught in a hurricane from the south-southwest. The seas grew terrific, tossing the ship about violently and sweeping over her decks. She soon became unable to head up the storm, and being holed she swung around until she lay athwart the sea and huge waves swept her decks.
 Oil bags were hung over the bows and oil was poured out of the waste-pipes.
 While the ship was tossing in the trough of the sea a quantity of cargo in hatch 2 broke adrift. Barrels containing oil and with "wet paint" burst and destroyed a quantity of velvet and other valuable goods consigned to New York firms. It was impossible to enter the hold and secure the cargo, and it was allowed to shift from side to side until morning, when the weather began to moderate. During the remainder of the voyage the Amsterdam had favorable weather.

A Miraculous Escape.
ST. LOUIS, Dec. 30.—The academy of music, in course of erection on Thirteenth street and Washington Avenue, fell in a heap this morning. The building had gone up as high as the third story. Fifty workmen in the building miraculously escaped injury, except one, who was slightly hurt.

Among the Oarsmen.
NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—Edward Hanlan is out with a reply to the challenge of James Gaudaur, in which he says he will row Gaudaur for from $2000 to $5000, before next July. He leaves the choice of water to the referee.
